was engaged in a continued series of forgeries of promissory notes. He forged ^{the names of} makers as well as of endorser. He used the same names on different occasions & in order that there might be no variation in his manufacture of the signatures, he kept samples of them in a small black book. He was fairly tried & justly convicted & in my opinion lightly sentenced.

The People v. Fanny Ford } Court of General Sessions Part I Jointly indicted with Katie Christian for grand larceny in the first degree.

Mary E. Foote sworn. I live in 113 West Thirtieth St., I rented the house last May and moved here from Washington in the month of June. On the 14th of July the defendant came to us from Lynchburg and her wages began on the next day; she sent to us for money from Washington. I received a letter from my cousin who is in the employ of the Government stating the fact that Fanny Ford—; after this correspondence I employed the defendant and she came to New York. I sent her $6.50 in a postal order to come here. The employment ceased on the 24th of December; the first two months that she was at the house she received but $5.50 in payment as she was indebted to my mother for $18.50; she was paid $5.50 on the 15th of Sept. and we paid her $12 on the 15th of Oct.; we paid her $12 in Nov. and we paid her on the 24th of Dec. up to the time of her dismissal; she and Katie were paid in bulk—six dollars and a fraction over it was the salary that was coming to the two servants. I have authority to attend to everything for my mother. During the months of July and Dec. 1889 I had her money in my custody. There was in one package a thousand dollars in twenty dollar bills new currency; there was another package of $940, containing four $50 bills and the balance in $20's $10's and $5's. mostly new currency, and then there was $600 in $20's $10's and $5's. The packages had strips of paper on them with the amount marked and the $940 package was marked in my handwriting "for taxes". During July and August this money was kept in a trunk that stood in my mother's room under lock and key; part of the time the key was kept in a traveling bag belonging to my mother and part of the time in the top bureau drawer in my mother's room; the drawer was not always locked; the bag was not locked, just snapped. Any person who came into the room and opened the satchel or the bureau drawer could do so without using a key, and if they searched very well they could take from the drawer anything.

0537

My husband lived in the house. The defendant was in the house during the period that the key was in the top bureau drawer and in the bag in my mother's room; she had access to my mother's room at all times. Friday of each week she had the room to herself, for she had to clean it. My mother's room was usually made up after breakfast for the last four weeks that the defendant was in the house. When we were out of the house she had access to the rooms. She was a general house servant, and her duties would call her through the entire house. My attention was called to the display of new garments and jewelry displayed in my presence by the defendant and I had a conversation with her about it as nearly as I recollect in the early part of November. She had on a watch and chain, and she told me they had been bought by John W. Brown, head bell boy of the Gerlach apartment house to give to a colored girl living in Washington that he was supposed to be engaged to, her name was Annie Scott. She said she coaxed the watch and chain from him.

0538

and she told him she would give it to her (Scott) I had the watch in my hand. I presume it was worth $15. I saw it on her upon many occasions; she had two very fine rings marked 18 carat and a plain gold ring and a fine Tuscan gold bracelet that she told me her mother had given to her. She did not have these things when she came to us. I did not miss any of the money until the 20th of Dec. The money was kept in "a pocket" which a person can carry on their person and that was kept in the trunk. I took out the pocket to count the money. I found that the thousand dollar package had $620 left and the $940 package had $410 in it and there was half of the $600 left. That money was counted in July and this was in Dec. I did not tell the defendant of the loss of the money and had no conversation with her about it. The defendant on Christmas Eve came and asked my mother in my presence to lend her ten dollars. My mother told her she could not let her have it; then she asked for five and my mother told her she could not let her have it. Then she turned to me and asked me to let her have two dollars. I could not do it. She turned to my mother and asked her to let her have a dollar. She said, "not one cent, for I have'nt it." She was arrested on the 27th of Dec. My mother asked her what she wanted with the money? She said she had forgotten it was Christmas Eve until Katie reminded her, and she wanted to buy the girl a present - Katie Christian, her niece - the girl who is indicted with me. Ma told her she thought she was very foolish to waste her money. There was no conversation about any presents that had been purchased for the Christian girl; she left on Friday evening the 27th. I was called down to the Kitchen by the detective and he told me to question her; she had been under arrest but the case had been dismissed; she was taken to the Jefferson Market Court; I had made a complaint against the defendant and Katie Christian for the disposition of this money. She was discharged from the Police Court for want of evidence, but was afterwards arrested on my complaint.

0539

0540

Cross Examined: After Fanny Ford was discharged she came back from the Police Court to my house to get her clothing. We have callers at our house but we have only few acquaintances. My mother is Mr. Calhoun and she has been an invalid for three years. she occasionally receives her friends. I did not see anybody take this money. I did not count the money from July to Dec., but I had "the pocket" in my hands many times. I had in my employ in July and August a male colored servant named Fred De Witt; he dismissed himself on the 13th of Sept.; he had no access to that room. I saw different articles in Fanny Ford's possession that she brought to my attention; she invariably told me that she purchased them from Brown; one article which she told me he gave her was a white crape shawl that never cost less than twenty five dollars. The Ford girl left our house on the 18th of Sept., two days after Katie was employed ostensibly to go to Washington. I asked her how she could afford to go as she recieved but $5.50 and she purchased an article that cost six dollars; she told me she was going to Washington. I asked her how she was going home? She told me she was going to borrow the money off Brown. I went with her to Mearns where she bought it. I recollect a conversation I had with her concerning a dentist. She told me she wished to get her upper set of teeth repaired and a new set made; she said she would like a dentist. I told her I knew a gentleman who was an old acquaintance of years standing Dr. Henry Huntington, West 45th St. she went to him and he did the work. I asked her what he was going to charge her when she came home? She told me fifteen dollars. Then when I spoke to her about paying for it, she said she borrowed money off Brown of the hotel; she called him John Brown Fred De Witt sworn. I was employed by Mrs. Foote at 113 West 13th St. in June. I saw Fanny Ford when she came in July; she got me to write letters for her, for which she paid me.

0542

I addressed a letter to Wm. W. Brown, Roanoke city and to Amelia Christian. I saw her put money in the letter - ten dollars; she told me what to state; that was in July. In the letter she had me write to Amelia Christian she put ten dollars in it; she told me to write that there was five dollars for herself and five dollars for Katie Christian. The Christian letter was written in July. I wrote another letter for her to Miss Davis. I saw her put money in that letter; it was oldish looking money. I did not mail the letters, but left them with her. They were written in Mr. Foster's Kitchen. I lived there from the 3^d of June until the 13 or 14th of Sept. I am living there now. I wrote two more letters for her the 30th or 31st of Dec.; one went to Patey Lowery, Goods crossing, Va. and I cannot remember who the other letter was to; she enclosed ten dollars in one letter. I was not discharged from Mr. Foster, I left of my own accord. I slept on the top floor front room. My brother-in-law Adolphus Day called on me there in June.

John H. Brown testified. I live at 208 East 98th St. I am head hall boy at the Gerlach in 27th St. I know Fanny Ford since I was a child. I saw her in Lynchburg and did not see her then until I saw her here last Summer. I called on her at Mr. Fotes in July a August and did some writing for her; she asked me to write to her mother, Mrs. Patsy Lowery, to Mrs. Amelia Christian, her sister, W. H. Brown, Jennie Willis and Mrs. Davis in Washington. She told me to write in the Brown letter that the money she was sending was for him to take to Goodcrossing to Reuben Devolt to pay on the house and lot; she sent $150 in that letter and they were $20. mostly new money. I sent a $20 bill two different times to her mother. I suppose I sent between $300 and $400 away in letters for her. I saw her have a good deal of money and asked her where she got it? She said that it came from property she had in the South and a son worked in a gold mine. No evidence was offered by the defence and the jury rendered a verdict of guilty of grand larceny in the second degree.

The People
 John Fuller
 Jointly indicted with Karl Koehler for an attempt at burglary in the first degree.

Court of General Sessions. Part I
 Before Judge Martine. Feb. 11. 1890.

William G. Kelly, sworn. I belong to the 14th Precinct, and on the night of the 4th of January my post was on Twenty Sixth St. from Seventh to Ninth avs.
 on both sides of the street. I saw the defendant that night about 25 minutes past three o'clock with Koehler in 26 st.; they were walking up and down the street. I stood behind a tree and watched them. Fuller walked through the iron gate to the window of No.
 151 and Koehler stood on the sidewalk. There was a man came down on the opposite side of the street at the time Fuller was in there and Koehler whispered something which I did not hear - I could see the expression of his face from the lamp light - and Fuller came out again on the sidewalk behind the wagon in the street, which was in front of No. 151.
 The man was going down Seventh Avenue and Fuller went back through the gate again. I saw him put his foot on the store step and he reached up to the window with this ice pick (producing it) and shoved it through the sash of the parlor window where the two sashes join and shoved it one side. Then there was another man. came down the street and Fulker walked out again. I stayed behind the tree at least 15 minutes and then Fulker went back again and hoisted the window about two or two and a half feet, and after he had hoisted the window there was a colored man on the opposite side of the street came down Seventh Avenue. Kochler walked up Twenty Sixth St. towards Sixth Ave. and Fulker followed him. I asked Kochler what he was doing there in Fulker's presence? and he said they were looking for a man who sold papers in there. I said there is nobody lives in there that goes out to sell papers this time of the morning to my knowledge. He says, there is. I says, "What did you raise that window for? He said he did not know anything at all about it. Fulker was standing alongside of me. I did not hold either of them. I said, "you people ought to know better than to be fooling around the house this time in the morning. Fuller said they were looking for a man to get work. I said, it is a bad place for you people to be hanging around here this time of the morning, we had better walk down towards Seventh Ave." He walked down and I met my side partner and told him to take one of the men. He said, you had better let Officer Concklin come and take one because he was sick and could not go to Court the next day. Officer Concklin took Koehler and I took Fuller to the station house. I searched Fuller there and found an ice pick, a candle and a box of matches. After I locked him down I visited the premises No 157 West 26th St and examined the window and found marks such as could have been made by the ice pick. I fitted the instrument I found upon Fuller with the marks and they corresponded. The window was open when I got there and I closed it. I tried to wake up

0657

0658

the proprietress of the house but could not I first had a conversation with her at 6 1/2 o'clock in the morning; she was sick in bed. Cross Examined: I should judge the tree I was standing behind was 75 or 100 feet from the men who were in front of 157 West 26th St. When I first saw them they were about three hundred feet from me. I was on the north side of 26th St; it was a light, pleasant night; there was a gaslight at 1499;
the window where I saw Fuller at was about 10 or 15 feet from the light. I felt the side of Fuller's coat pocket when I first arrested him, and found he had something which I afterwards found to be a candle. When I testified in this case at the Police Court I spoke of going back to the window and making this experiment with the pick. I saw Fuller use some instrument at the window but could not swear it was the ice pick which I afterwards found in his possession.
I am positive the window was raised from a foot and a half to two feet. (The District Attorney offered the ice pick and candle in evidence

0659

Susan Glusker sworn. I live 157 West 26th St. and lived there on the 4th of January last. I slept in that house on that night; my husband was on that floor. I locked up the house on that night; the window was closed, the catch between the sashes and the door was locked; the window was next to the stoop. I examined the window on the 5th of Jan, and found that the bolt was slipped off; there was a little round mark between the two sashes, such a mark as might have been made by the instrument now shown me. There was furniture in the room that that window opened from, such as a piano, plush furniture, a mirror, pictures and books and bric-a-brac worth about five hundred dollars. Cross Examined. The bolt held the sash of the window down. I looked and saw the marks on the window the next morning after the officer gave me some information. I don't know who the wagon belongs to that was in front of the house; it is an express wagon and stands there usually every night. I don't know what Ward this house is in.

0660

John Fuller, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified: On the night of the 4th of January Koehler and I went to Harry Miner's Theatre. I said to him before I went to the theatre that I had no light at home, no kerosene and I went to the corner of Rivington and Christie sts. and bought a candle for two cents; we stayed in the theatre until about eleven o'clock and we went to a saloon between Fifth and Sixth sts. We met a friend of Koehler there who told him there was a job between Sixth and Seventh aves. in 49th st. We stayed in the saloon until after twelve o'clock and we walked up as far as 26th st. and Sixth ave. I saw a wagon and a man behind it; we stood on the corner and saw two men across the street talking together; they went from across the sidewalk to where the wagon stood. I did not think they were fighting or doing anything like this. Koehler said to me, there is no use standing here; let us go up and see if I can get this job. So I walked by where this policeman after he arrested us showed us the window and I stood about 8 or 10 feet away from the place. The officer asked me what I was standing there for I said, nothing but that I was going up to a place to get a job. I saw one man standing behind the wagon while I was talking to the officer and the other two must have gone off. Koehler asked me to go up and get this job of cooking. I said, wait a few minutes and see what those fellows are doing; but he walked away and as soon as he walked up about 25 or 30 steps I saw "the cop" coming down. He came down and asked me what he was standing there for. He searched me on the street and did not find anything. He afterwards met two other officers and when I was brought to the station house I was searched again and the piece of candle and ice pick were found on me. Koehler and I roomed together for four weeks. I found the ice pick on Seventh Avenue between 18th and 19th sts. I did not go to the ~~officer~~ that the officer testified about and I did not use the pick at the window.

0661

Cross Examined. The Theatre was on Third Avenue between 5th and 6th sts. Koehler's business is a cook; it was a restaurant he was going to get work I never pleaded guilty to burglary in this Court. About five years ago I was convicted in the Special Sessions for petty larceny and sent to the penitentiary for five months.

Karl Kohler sworn. I am codefendant with the man now on trial. I went down at seven o'clock in the evening to a Creamery in the Bowery, and there is a sign out "waiters wanted." Fuller asked me to go to the theatre with him. He said he had no light at home and he bought a candle and afterwards we went to the Theatre. About eleven o'clock we came out of the Theatre and we went to a place on Third Avenue between 5th and 6th sts. where cooks frequent. I met a friend of mine there and he asked me if I was all right at present because I was sick before. He said I think I know a shop for you." I asked him where? and he said between 48 and 49th St., I don't remember the Avenue. I said to Fuller, "let us go up slowly to the place, for if I go to sleep I may not get up early enough. I had to be up there to see him between four and five o'clock in the morning. We went up to 26th St. and saw a man standing behind a wagon and two others. I said to my friend, "let us go away, they are loafers." The policeman asked me what I was standing there for, and also the defendant. The officer said to Fuller that he was trying to get into the window and he said he was not. He found the candle with him; there were other policemen there; he said he would arrest us on suspicion and took us to the station house. I saw Fuller pick up the ice pick in the gutter. I told him to throw it away, but he put it in his pocket. Fuller and I lived together four weeks, but I never associated much with him.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of an attempt at burglary in the first degree. He was remanded for sentence.
