Dear Sir

In this case an indictment was found agt. Moser as thief and David Wimpelberg, as receiver. The case was on the day calendar a number of times & put off by the Dist. Atty. much to my disgust & the annoyance of my clients the Complainants. who became keen for Moser. We were interested in punishing the receiver Wimpelberg. An important witness for the people then disappeared.

After the lapse of a year or more and great expense to my clients, I found the witness & the case was placed upon the calendar. However it appeared before Judge Bonine and moved the trial to the Special Sessions as to Wimpelberg, which was ordered. Mr Dawson returned to me the brief on the facts with instructions to prosecute in the S. P. Both my clients & myself were disgusted & allowed the matter to go. I don't know what has become of it. I don't believe that we can get our witnesses together again, but if you think well of it I will make another effort. I will send you the brief at any time or call upon you if you desire to see me upon the subject.

Certainly an indictment is not now in order.

Yours truly
James M. Monk

Presently

After consultation with Mr Redford realizing the great difficulty of finding the witnesses in the case at this late day I recommend that the John G. Bainbridge - Wholesale Stationer doing business at 99 & 101 William Street under the firm name of Henry Bainbridge & Co.

On June 22nd '87 was informed that one of my employees had been stealing pencils from me and selling them. Instructed Thomas Gibson to investigate. The next day - 23rd - Mr Gibson reported to me that John E. Mooser, had taken a package of pencils to a restaurant at 74 Maiden Lane and left them there. I called the boy Mooser into my office and sent for my Attorney W. James W. Monk. I heard the boy confess to Mr Monk, that he had on that morning taken two gross of Faber's hexagon lead pencils, to the restaurant No 74 Maiden Lane, kept by one Joseph Rottler, and left them there, for to be called for by the defendant, by previous arrangement with the defendant. That he had been in the habit of taking goods from my stock for a long time passed and delivering them to the defendant in person or leaving them for him at said restaurant. That at first the defendant paid him fifty cents per gross for the pencils but later ~~on full~~ one dollar per gross, and for the pencils in question he had agreed to pay him One dollar per gross. The value of said pencils was $5.⁹⁴ per gross.

Years of age. Reside with my parents at 14 Huntington Street Brooklyn. Have been employed for 18 months last past by Henry Bainbridge & Co., Wholesale Stationers at 99 & 101. William Street in this City, as an errand boy.

The errand boys of many of the retail Stationers of this City have frequently come to the store on business and I thus became known to them. Frequently I have met many of these boys upon the Street who usually saluted me: Hello Bainbridge!

From about December last I frequently passed the stand on the side walk on the South-East Corner of Chancery Lane & Pearl Street and was there saluted: Hello Bainbridge! by one or more of the boys.

Some time last February - I think about the middle of the month I was passing the stand and the defendant stopped me. He asked me "did I work for Bainbridge".
I said Yes. He asked me if I could get him some pencils. I said Yes. He told me to try and get him some and he would buy all I could get, and would give me fifty cents a gross. I said, All right. I saw him afterwards within three days and he asked me when I was going to bring him some pencils. I told him as soon as I could get them I would bring them down. He said "How try hard"

A day or two after this I took two gross of pencils from the store and gave them to the defendant at the stand. He gave me $1.

Two days after I took him another gross. He said "Why don't you bring two gross at the time - There's no use bringing down one gross. It will be better for yourself". He paid me fifty cents for these pencils. I didn't take him any more for about four days and then I took him two gross. I gave them to him at the stand and he paid me a dollar.

I didn't bring him any more until May - the middle of May - I know that it was the middle of May because he said "It's two months since you brought me any pencils - Where have you been all the while". I told him I couldn't get any - Two days later

I brought him down two gross. and gave them to him at the

When I brought him this two gross, he said for me not to bring them to the stand any more but to stand on the opposite corner in front of the legion store and he would be looking out for me and come over and get them. He said that his brother was wanting to know why I was at the stand so much.
I delivered pencils to him at the corner in front of the legion store three times - once every day - Then he told me that the people were watching me when I would stand there with bundles and he came across, and he told me to deliver them at Kottler's restaurant 74 Madden Lane. This was about the latter part of May and he said that if I would bring him some every day he would give me a dollar a gross. He told me to tell the restaurant man that they were for the hard-ware man and he would call and get them. He told me that I could call for my money an hour after I left the goods - If I left them at 9 o'clock I could call and get my Money at 10 0¢. I used to go about 12 0¢ when I went for my dinner. I went to the stand and he gave me new money.

I had my vacation for a week commencing on June 6. and returned to work on Monday June 13. I commenced taking pencils to Rottler's on Tuesday the 14th. I did not see the defendant between the time when he told me to leave the goods at Rottler's until June 14th. On that day I took two gross and left them at Rottler's - Saw Rottler the boss (Joseph Rottler) and gave him the package and told him that the hardware man would call for it. I left goods for there for the defendant about every second day. On ^{Tuesday Thursday} 14th, 16th, ^{Saturday Sunday} 18th, 21st, ^{Monday Thursday} 23rd. I never took him any on Mondays because I did not feel like it after Sunday.

Every day after I had delivered the goods at Rottler's I would go down to the stand and the defendant gave me the money.

On Saturday 18th June when I went to the stand for my money the defendant asked me if I could get him any rubber bands. I told him Yes. He said he would gave me $2⁵⁰ for 12 gross. He told me to leave them at Rottler's. On Tuesday 21st June I took him two gross of pencils and the rubber bands. I took them at different times during the day and left them at the restaurant.

At 12.00 I went for my money & he only paid me for the pencils. He said he had to pay a bill and would pay me for the bands tomorrow when I took him some more pencils. I didn't take anything on Wednesday, but did on Thursday. I then took 2 gross of Faber's pencils and left them with Bernhard Rottler at the restaurant. From there I went off on an errand and on my way back stopped at the defendants' stand, but he wasn't there. W Gibson came in then. On this day I was arrested as was also the defendant.

I recognized the package of rubber bands - I was formerly employed by the American News Company and familiar with those goods. On that day (Wednesday June 22nd) the defendant came in Rottler's and asked if there was a package there for him and went to the shelf and took up the two packages which I have mentioned and walked away with them - He went towards Broadway. John F. Brimmer. I have been in the business of buying in lots of stationery of Udale & Chapman & Co. About the middle of February 1887 I bought some blue pencils of Udale, which were damaged. The same day as I was packing Wimpelberg's orders I showed him the pencils & asked him if he didn't want to buy some - that I could sell them cheap - He said he could sell me pencils. I asked him what he could sell them for - He said $2.00 per gross for Faber lead pencils - hexagon or round - I asked him where he got them from & he said that his brother-in-law, who used to keep the stand previous to him, now dealt in auction goods & he had quite a lot of Faber pencils which he had bought at an auction - I asked him how many he had & he said quite a lot - He had a few broken too - perhaps half a gross which I bought & paid for them. He said that was all he had there then, but that his brother-in-law had the rest - He said that he would have some down the next morning - I said to him bring them down in the morning and I would buy them off him & pay cash - The next morning I went around there & he had two gross which I bought & paid for and asked him why he didn't bring more down. He said that his brother-in-law wouldn't give them to him unless he paid cash and he didn't have the ready money to pay for them. I offered to get the cash and go with him to his brother-in-law & take all he had - He said, never mind, that he wasn't on very good terms with his brother-in-law & thought that he could only get a gross or so every day - He also said that if he went up with so much money his brother-in-law would want to know where he got so much money. He also said that his brother-in-law might want to deal direct with me and knock him out of his profit. He didn't mention his brother-in-law's name. He said that he lived somewhere in 2nd av. but wouldn't give me the number for fear I would go up there - He said that his brother-in-law was the fellow who formerly kept the stand & he had bought out.

After this first purchase I got from Dan two gross every day for about two or three days; then I ~~was~~ probably I would not get any for a week - I stopped there every day and asked him if he had any pencils for me. If he had none he would tell me that he had not been up to his brother-in-law's, but expected to go up there tonight. Some times two or three weeks would escape before I would get any, then I would get them for two or three days. Several times I went for the pencils about 9 o'clock & he would say that he had forgot to stop at his brother-in-law's, but had sent his brother up & for me to stop later & he would have them for me. He sometimes said that his brother-in-law would send them down.

I remember that Dave was arrested - I can't remember the date but it was about two or three months ago - I had not bought any pencils of him for about two weeks prior to his arrest. The first lot I bought of him Mr Monk has the receipt for and that was on February 24, 1887 - I also paid him $2.50 per gross & sold them for $4.50.

I can't say exactly how many I bought of him, but my best belief is that it was about from 15 to 20 gross. I sold most of them to Hall & the others I sold elsewhere.
