was sitting at a table in the Store, and printed a revolving pistol at and towards my person,

"I am Tom Hunt, remember," then he went out of the Store, returned in few minutes more or less, with the revolver still in his hand waving to and 0665

in about fifteen minutes, and again with a pistol in his hand, walked up and down the store and remained there about twenty five minutes, and a friend of my brother's, Charles Russell, took him out of the store.

Cross Examination

This man defendant worked for my Mother two or three days on Excursions. I have a sister named Rachel. I do not know anything that transpired between her and the defendant. My mother told me that Hart was discharged. When I first saw Hart he was at our door No 256 Bleeker street. He was there with another man, whom I do not know. He then went away. I saw nothing more of him until he returned. The second time he came he was not cut and bruised. He came again a third time. I did not then notice whether he was cut or not. All I know is that I ordered him out. He did not

Recorder Smythe Esq.

My Dear Sir:

Last night I received a sorrowful letter from Daniel Houston the boy I employ. he stating that he is at the Tombs and is held for a recommendation which I can cheerfully give him.

Last winter I started a saloon which I had Daniel for my bartender which I had for a year but seeing I could not gain any profit I gave it up. I then went in the Express business I also had Daniel for my driver which I had employed him up till about two weeks ago when he went to Jersey City with a load when returning the horse stumbled and sprained his leg so bad that I was not able to use him since. Lately Daniel got in some company which I think is not fit to associate with and therefor got arrested. I hope he will be forgiven for this time as his situation will be ready for him Monday Morning and I also hope that my recommendation is satisfactory and hoping you will try to make it convenient to release Daniel. I will be ever so much obliged to you.

The People
vs.
John Hines
and
Daniel Houston
Court of General Sessions, Part I
Before Recorder Smythe. June 12, 1883.
Indictment for grand larceny
in the second degree.

James Leopold, sworn. I live at 153 West Forty fourth St; upon the 30th of May I lost a watch worth $150; it was taken from my person. I was watching the parade on Decoration day in Twenty third St. and Fifth ave. I was standing back from the crowd, I felt somebody push me; there was not any more people around. I felt somebody push and jostle me. I looked down, I saw the crystal of my watch drop, and the moment the crystal dropped I saw a hand from under the coat drop with the watch; the watch fell down by my side and I saw somebody skip away. There were two persons around me. I could not positively say they were the prisoners. I got my watch back. The prisoners were arrested about 15 minutes afterward in the crowd. They were recognized by Mr.
Shaler. The watch was in my vest pocket;
it was wrenched completely off the chain and the chain was hanging down. Cross Examined. A gentleman stood back of me and says he would know them and he would walk around and see if he saw them; he was then standing at Twenty Third St. and Fifth Ave. A few minutes after he told me to go and get a policeman. These two men skipped off very quickly. The two detectives who arrested these men said that we, (myself and Shaler) should walk up and down and they would follow us, and if they saw the men in the crowd they would arrest them. About five minutes afterwards these men were standing on the opposite corner and Mr. Shaler pointed them out, and these two prisoners were arrested; they were standing in the crowd and he pointed them out. George A. Shaler, sworn and examined, testified: I live at 352 East Seventieth St. I was at Twenty Third St. and Fifth Ave. on Decoration day. I saw the prisoners there. I was standing looking at the parade and they both came up against me. Then I looked at them I saw what they were. I stepped back, and after they left me they stepped forward and went for this gentleman that was sitting in the chair.

0706

0707

Mr. Leopold, who was a stranger to me. In less than two minutes I saw Mr. Leopold stoop down as if he was going to pick up something; he turned around I saw he was watching those two young men. One went one way, and the other went the other way. There were no persons near Mr. Leopold but the prisoners. I did not see them do anything to Mr. Leopold, but at the time he stooped and picked up his watch. I followed the gentleman over and asked him what was the matter? He said his pocket was picked. I did not go in chase of them, but I simply told him that I could identify them if he wanted them arrested. I did identify them on the opposite side of the street in a crowd of about four or five hundred people and then they were arrested. Cross Examined. I have been and am an express messenger for Adams & Co for seventeen years. These prisoners were standing alongside of Mr. Leopold - one was in the back and the other in front. There were quite a number of people there at the time, but they were not within ten feet of Mr. Leopold and the prisoners. I will swear positively that they are the men who jostled the complainant, Mr. Leopold. Joseph M. Dorsey sworn. I am attached to the Central Office, I arrested the defendants in company with officer Hardy and took them to the station house. They were searched. Houston had a watch chain and a door key. Hardy searched Hines, I don't know what he found on them. They were arrested on the corner of Twenty Third St. and Fifth Ave. in a crowd; they were pointed out by Mr. Shaler, who had already informed us of their attempt to rob Mr.

0708

Leopold.

Edward Hardy sworn. I searched Hines; he had nothing but a night key. They pleaded ignorant of the charge made against them; they said they were not guilty. I know nothing more about it. George Shaler recalled. I saw the faces of the prisoners when they were alongside of me; they stood there probably half a minute. I got a good glimpse of their faces. John Hines, sworn in his own behalf. I live at 47 Willow Place, Brooklyn. I did not take a watch from the person of the complainant at all. I was standing looking at the procession and was standing with this other gentleman waiting for a car to go home when the officer came and arrested us.

0709

Cross Examined. I decline to answer if I was ever arrested or to state whether my picture is in the Rogues ~~Gallery~~.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.
