Mary Smith, being duly sworn deposes and says:-

That she resides at number 9 Battery Place in the City of New York. On the 3d. day of October, 1885, the above named defendant stole from her the following articles:-

On trunk; of the value of twenty dollars; fifty yards of silk of the value of two dollars a yard; two bracelets of the value of one hundred dollars each; one chain of the value of sixty dollars; two locketts of the value of fifty dollars each and ninety-five dollars in money, all the property of the deponent. Deponent states that the articles were taken from her under the following circumstances:-

On the aforesaid day the defendant came to deponent's house and told her that he was informed that her husband had left her and in consequence of his being in debt had ran away. He further stated that he was a detective and that he was desirous of protecting deponent and inasmuch as the United States Marshal's were going to attach her own individual property to pay her husband's debt, he therefore advised deponent the best thing she could do to let him take the above mentioned property and store it for her. Deponent fearing that her individual property might be taken as indicated by the defendant at that time, and having no reas-

sons to distrust defendant's statements, he having been a guest at the house off and on for three months prior to said date, allowed him to take the aforesaid property to the Western Union hotel at the corner of Courtland and West streets this city. Subsequent to the above mentioned date and after the goods had been taken from the possession of the deponent, the defendant gave deponent a written order which he stated would allow deponent to go to said Western Union hotel and obtain any of the articles which had been removed there. Deponent further states that she went to said Western Union hotel with the written order, and the landlord there refused to allow her to see any of the articles. Finding that I could not get at my property and suspecting that something was wrong I reported the case to the police. After I reported the case to the police in company with detective sergeant James McGuire of the Central Office, I went to the said Western Union hotel, and was given permission to look into the room which the defendant had occupied and to which the defendant had taken the said trunks. In said room I saw four of my trunks which had been taken away by the defendant, all of which had been broken open and the contents thereof thrown around the floor, except such, as I am informed and believe had been previously sold to the landlord of said hotel by the said defendant. A trunk and satchel containing the most valuable of my property were missing. I am informed by detective sergeant William E. Frink, that he was specially detailed upon the case of the above named defendant, and for the purpose of investigating the same, went to Philadelphia on or about the 30th. day of October, 1885. That on said date the said defendant was arrested by the authorities in Philadelphia and is now held there awaiting requisition from the Governor of the State of New York, upon the charge set out in the accompanying indictment; That he saw and spoke with the said defendant, who at that time confessed to him that he had stolen the ~~said~~ property and that a portion of it was in a trunk at his then place of residence, 305 Callow Hill street, Philadelphia, and that if he, Frink, would go there, he would find defendant's wife who would deliver up to him the said goods. Then he Frink, went to said place and received from the wife of defendant the trunk and its contents, all of which he brought to the police headquarters in the city of New York, where deponent has seen them and identified them as her own property, which she had given to the said defendant under the circumstances set forth above.

Deponent further states that she does not know of her own knowledge whether or not the defendant at the time of the commission of the offense charged in the indictment was or was not a resident of this State, but she knows that she has often seen him in the City of New York, he having been a guest at her house. Deponent further states that this application is made in good faith for the sole purpose of punishing the accused and that there is no desire or expectation of using the prosecution for the purpose of collecting any debt or for any private purpose nor will it be directly or indirectly used for any of said purposes.

WILLIAM E. FRINK, being duly sworn, deposes and says as follows:- I am a Detective Sergeant attached to the central office of the police department of the City of New York. On or about the 30th. day of October I was specially detailed upon the case against the above named defendant. Having heard that he had left the city of New York and had gone to Philadelphia, I went to the last named place, and upon my request to the Chief of Police in said city, the said defendant was arrested, and is now held there to await requisition from the Governor of the State of New York upon the charge set forth in the accompanying indictment. I further state that in conversation with the said defendant he admitted to me that he had stolen the articles set forth in the indictment herein, and that they could be found at his present place of residence number 305 Callow Hill street Philadelphia, at which place his wife would deliver them to me. I went to the said place and there I received from the wife of the defendant a trunk and its contents, which I subsequently brought on to New York, and deposited in the police headquarters, where Mary K. Smith the complainant in this action identified the said trunk and its contents as her property and the same which she had given to the above named defendant on said third day of October, 1885.
