That said premises are a five story brick building situate 13th Ward of said City, and used as a dwelling house and were at said time inhabited by a number of living human beings. That deponent is informed by David Grosshans, there present, that about two months ago the deponent, Samuel Sparier, offered him, said Grosshans, the sum of fifty dollars if he, Grosshans, would set fire to said premises; and that when Grosshans refused to do so the said deponent told him that he, said deponent, would give him, Grosshans, the said amount of money to pay out for about it. The People Court of General Sessions, Part I.
vs
Daniel Sullivan. Before Recorder Smyth.

May 7, 1885.

Indictment for grand larceny in the second degree.

William Healy sworn and examined. I lived then at 139 Leroy Street and now live at 76 Morton Street; on the 29th of March last I was living in 139 Leroy Street; I knew Sullivan about two years before that, on the night of the 29th of March I met him down stairs in the saloon, I rent the dwelling part of the house; he asked me down about ten o'clock to a corner house that he wanted to look for a job as bar-tender, I went down with him and he stopped there for quite a time talking to the boss of the place; after that we left there and went up to the corner of Carmine and Bleecker; we went in there and had some glasses of ale.

I said, I am going home and he said I wish you would let me up in your place to-night, I said, all right come on.

It was then two o'clock when I got in the house; my wife opened the door, it is a large room where I sleep, we both went in there, I told my wife to go into the front room and sleep there that I had a friend with me; she slammed the door, she locked the door and put the key in her pocket; I fell asleep and laid my pantaloons down, I had in my pocket two ten dollar bills, a five and two single bills, in a pocket-book, I awakened quarter to five and found the window was open, I went to the door and the door was still locked, I kicked at the door and my wife asked me what was the matter, I told her the man was gone and she said, it served me damned well, I never have seen the money since, he left the pocket-book behind him, I went up that afternoon and told my story at the Station House to Officer

Flannigan, I think the prisoner was arrested about the 26th of December, I did not see him after the night he took the money until he was arrested, when I saw him in the Station House I did not have any conversation with him; there was nobody else in the house where we slept but me and him.

Cross Examined. The name of the landlord of the house was Mortimer Sullivan, I lived in that house about eleven months before this happened and from there I moved to 413 Hudson Street and am now living in Morton Street. I think the 29th of March was on Thursday but I am not sure, I had that money in my pocket two or three weeks, I worked hard for it, I am a boiler maker by trade and worked at my trade in March, 1884. I first got acquainted with the defendant at the corner of Greenwich and Leroy Streets, I never was seen drunk in my life, I am thirty years in the city and never saw the inside of a Station House or Court House before. On the night of the 29th of March I met the defendant in the saloon corner of Leroy and Washington Streets, I rented the dwelling part of the house from the saloon at the time, it was kept and is still kept by Mr Sullivan. I never lost any money before the 29th of March in that house. I had my clothes once robbed but not there; from Mr Sullivan's place we went down to the corner of Houston and West, it is a saloon, he told me he was acquainted with the man, I had a small glass of ale there, we staid there over an hour and fifteen minutes as near as I can give it, he was talking to the boss of this place, Mr Raegan; from there we went to the corner of Bleecker and Carmine Street which is a liquor store and had a small glass of ale there, we did not say there over fifteen minutes, it was about one o'clock and it was pretty near two o'clock when we got upstairs in my own place. After the 29th of March I told a good many that I had been robbed of twenty-seven dollars by the defendant, I told Mortimer Sullivan who knows the prisoner, I asked Mortimer Sullivan where the prisoner lived, he told me he did not know but he thought he lived at 500 Pearl Street, I often went around the city myself to see if I would meet him but never saw him. I got a card from Officer Flannigan that if I could see him any place I could call an officer and have him arrested, I never saw the prisoner between the 29th of March until the 21st of December, I saw him inside of a saloon and called an officer to arrest him but he would not do it, I sent a boy up and I stood on the sidewalk so that he would not get away; at the time he came outside the door Officer Ayers was standing there and he arrested him.

Hannah Healy sworn. I am the wife of the complainant and remember the night my husband brought in the defendant, it was two o'clock in the morning, I was in bed with my youngest boy, I heard talking at the street door between my husband and the defendant which woke me up. My husband said to me, Mr Sullivan is coming upstairs, he is after opening a bar corner of 12th Street and you call him surely at five o'clock and don't let him oversleep himself. I walked into the room, I did not shut the door, it is a patent latch. My husband was counting the money at the table by the looking glass and this man was in his stocking feet and they stood over the table, it was near three o'clock.

About a quarter to five my

husband woke up and asked me if I let that man out and I said I did not. The window was open and he said, that man took my money, I said, that is good enough for you. I have seen my husband under the influence of liquor but he is not a drinking man.

James E. Ayers sworn. I am a policeman of the 9th precinct and arrested the defendant on the 20th or 21st of September, 1884, the complainant told me the circumstances of his being robbed, my partner heard that the defendant was in Harlem and made five or six different trips to find him but failed in the attempt, I arrested the man on the corner of Greenwich and Leroy Streets, I had no conversation with him in regard to the offence.

The Case for the Defence.

Frederick Hammond sworn. I live 48 Nassau Street, Brooklyn and am general manager for the firm of Lincoln & Sons, provision merchants, 502 Hudson Street, I have known the defendant for the last twelve months, he was under my supervision for seven months, his character for honesty while with me, was first rate.

Mortimer Sullivan sworn. I reside 737 Washington Street and knew the complainant about March 1884, he paid rent for the upper part of the house 139 Leroy Street, I have seen him under the influence of liquor, he said to me he had missed money and he thought the wife or children took it, I think it was the 15th of March, I cannot swear positively but I attended a meeting of an Irish society and it lasted I guess until, about three or four o'clock, I know it was about halfpast four, I went into the front room, heard a bell ring, looked out of the window and the complainant called for me. I asked him what was the matter? He was crying and said he had been robbed, that Dan Sullivan slept with him on that night. Sullivan is no relative of mine but he was a bar-tender for me about nine months and I found him honest. This may have been the 29th of March but I think it was on the 15th.

Callahan McCarty sworn. I reside 340 East 37th Street and know the prisoner; in March 1884, he occupied a portion of the premises that I occupy. The prisoner asked me if I would help him to buy a suit of clothes and I said yes; he went to my place of business in Franklin Street and we went up to the Liverpool Clothing house on the 14th of March and we bought the clothes; the clothes were sent that night and he was in my house about two weeks after that. He told me was arrested on this charge, I did not know the exact day we got the clothes but I went to the Liverpool clothing house and got the day and date from the books; he was home every night during the time he staid with me.

Cross Examined. I do not keep a boarding house but he was off and on at my house for two weeks he might have left it in ten days but I do not think he did; from the 11th of March he slept at my house every night for two weeks, I cannot swear to the day he left my house. The prisoner came up and told me that Healy had accused him of this thing after he had been arrested in September sometime but I do not know what month it was. He asked me if I remembered the date he bought the clothes, he slept in the inside room, I do not know what day he left, I cannot swear that he was in my house on the 28th or 29th of March.

Daniel Sullivan sworn. I live in 703 Washington Street and was arrested about the latter part of September 1884, I voluntarily gave myself up when I heard the accusation, at least going up to the Station House with the man Healy, my bondsman was Mortimer Sullivan who surrendered me a few days ago, I was working in the Murray Hotel up to the day I was arrested, I have been employed by Matthew Murphy corner of 23rd Street and 8th Avenue for eighteen months and I have been employed by Lincoln's Sons corner of Hudson and Christopher Streets also at the Grand Central Hotel and the St. George Hotel and also by James Kananagh, corner of 26th Street and Second Avenue. I never was arrested in my life before charged with stealing. I have heard the testimony of Healy and did not rob him on the 29th of March or at any other time, I heard about two months after the 29th of March of the charge of having robbed him, I was informed by some parties in Mr Sullivan's store, then afterwards I asked Mr Sullivan if he heard about it and he said he did not want to hear anything about Healy that he left the place. I went down a second time and inquired of Mr Sullivan's brother where he thought Healy was living and he told me somewhere in Hudson Street but he did not know exactly the number, I was working for Lincoln's Sons during that time; on Saturday night I went down at half past eight to Sullivan's store and had a drink. Sullivan said to me, there is Healy outside the door if you want to see him. I went outside and said to Mr Healy, I understand you have accused me of robbing you last March? He said, nobody else could have taken it, did you not sleep with me that night? We had drank together.

0645

I said no, I could prove where I was, I asked him if he would go up to the Station House and he said yes, I went two or three blocks and met the detective, Ayers, he handed me over to the detective and I went up to the Station House, I was brought in Jefferson Market and put under five hundred dollar bail and transferred down to the Tombs and came down to the General Sessions here and I was put on a thousand dollars bail, then two or three days afterwards I was bailed out by Mr Sullivan. Between the 29th day of March and the time of my arrest in September 21 I was in the city of New York all the time working.

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty of Grand Larceny in the second degree.
