There is considerable doubt as to the guilt of this defendant.

In addition to this doubt is the fact that the Complainant has not wish to give the charges & has filed a withdrawn herein. The amt taken was but three ($3) dollars that was at once returned.

The defendant has been in prison nearly six weeks.

Under these circumstances

I recommend the discharge of the defendant on his own recognizance.

and, in consequence thereof, another application was made out by him. The bond was fixed at $2500. He produced Samuel Godwin as one of his sureties.

This Goodwin was also indicted for perjury, but upon the trial found non compos mentis and sent to a lunatic asylum. The other bondsmen produced by said Byrne was the defendant. My suspicion having been aroused, I started an investigation and ascertained that both bondsmen had committed perjury. The property on the N.E. corner of Goerck & Houston Street I found to be owned by Messrs. James W. Smith and Wilbur F. Smith. I think I can still identify the defendant.

James W. Smith, 57 St. Mark Place, Timber business. In January, 1833, I and my brother Wilbur F. Smith owned in our own right the whole block of land bounded by Third and Houston Streets and Goerck Street and the East River. This block included the two lots on the Northeast corner of Goerck and Houston Streets referred to in defendant's affidavit on Henry Byrne's bond. The two lots were improved at that time. We bought the said property in 1860 from our father Wm. Smith, since deceased. We sold it in 1886 or 1887 to John Rheinfrank and others.

My dear Sir:-

Kindly inform me if John Otthouse has been brought back to New York yet. Praying or begging on another occasion He was sent to Sing Sing on an old charge, in order that he might not use evidence against Freer.

I would like to know the time he will be brought back, as I think if this man is pushed on my case, he will inform on Corcoran, who is permitted to run at large. I believe that Ott-

Monroe Adams, of 181 Broadway, New-York City, makes the following statement: I became acquainted with Wesley Lyon of West 155th street, about three years ago; he acted as attorney for me in some cases; I did not see him again until last fall, when I heard, during the summer, that he was very sick and could not get well; late in the fall I met him in front of the Post Office and he was very sick and destitute and wished me to loan him a dollar or two, which I did, and afterwards met him two or three times and loaned him a dollar or two on each occasion, and along about the first of January, 1883, he came to my office and said that I had been very kind to him, that he was in need of assistance and unable to get any work or anything to do and asked me if I could not give him clerical work, such as copying, &c., and that he would do anything I had to be done and I might pay him any price I thought was right, to keep him from starvation, that he expected to have some money in a short time and would then be in a position to take care of himself. Under those circumstances, and out of charity for him, I allowed him to come into my office and employed him to do general clerical work for me. At the same time I had a young man by the name of John Martindale employed by me, whom I had employed for about two years to do general service work. One day Martindale came to me, in my private office, and said Lyon wanted him to go on a bond in the Surrogate's office and that he would furnish him with the deed to the property so that he could swear to the ownership of it, and I said if he did that it was all right. Feeling that there was something wrong about it I immediately went into the outer office, where Lyon was, in the presence of Martindale, and asked Lyon if it was all right about this bond he wanted Martindale to go on; I asked him if it was all straight and if he could fix it as he said he would, and I told him that I didn't want Martindale to do anything to get into any trouble. Lyon replied that there was no chance for any trouble, that it was all straight, and if it was not there would not be any trouble, as Trainor (Administration Clerk in the Surrogate's Office) was fixed. Afterwards I learned that Lyon had presented Martindale at the Surrogate's office to go on this bond, which was refused. One day in January I had sent Martindale out on some business; he was gone some considerable time, and on his return I took him to task for it and he said he could not help it as he had been waiting around all day for Lyon to go on this bond business. I know that this man Lyon urged Martindale to do this, assuring him that he was doing nothing wrong and that he could fix him as to the property so that there could be no question about that, and that Martindale did it relying upon Lyon's position as an attorney and his connection in my office, and that he would not have him do anything that was not right. This man Lyon was acting for the plaintiff in a suit for me at about this time, for which he approved and accepted bonds in behalf of the defendant without the knowledge or consent of the plaintiff or myself, and said bonds, I have since learned, are worthless and belong to the same class of bonds that Lyon makes a business of furnishing. I know that Martindale never went on a bond of this kind before nor since, and that he is not connected with this crowd of bondsmen in any way or manner, and he has been faithful and honest while in my employ.

The People of the State of New-York :
- against - :
John Martindale. :

The Grand Jury of the City and County of New-York, by this indictment, accuse John Martindale of the Crime of Perjury, committed as follows:

On the sixteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty two, at the City and County of New-York, one Henry Byrne in due form of law presented his petition to the Surrogate's Court of the County of New-York, before the Honorable Daniel G. Rollins, Surrogate of the said County of New-York, that a decree of the said Surrogate's Court of the County of New-York issue, appointing said Henry Byrne administrator of the goods, chattels and credits of Martin W. Byrne, then lately before deceased, and that letters of administration upon the said goods, chattels and credits be granted to him the said Henry Byrne; and thereupon proceedings were had in the said Surrogate's Court before the said the Honorable Daniel G. Rollins, Surrogate of the County of New-York as aforesaid, in due form of law upon the said petition and application, and thereafter and while the said proceedings upon the said petition and application were yet pending in the said Surrogate's Court it became and was required by the said Surrogate's Court and made necessary that the said Henry Byrne should enter into a recognizance and obligation, with sufficient sureties, in the sum of thirty five hundred dollars to the People of the State of New-York conditional upon the faithful execution by the said Henry Byrne of the trust reposed in him as administrator of the goods, chattels and credits aforesaid, and upon his obeying all lawful decrees and orders of the said Surrogate's Court of the County of New-York, touching the administration of the estate committed to him; and thereupon and while the said proceedings upon the said petition and application were yet pending the said Henry Byrne entered into a recognizance as required by the said Court as aforesaid; and thereupon, to wit: on the sixteenth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty three, the said John Martindale, late of the City and County of New-York aforesaid, in his own proper person came and personally appeared before George E.
Best, Esq., then and there being a notary public in and for the City and County of New-York, and then and there, to wit: at the City and County aforesaid offered himself as a surety for the said Henry Byrne on the said recognizance, he the said George E. Best, Esq., notary public as aforesaid, having then and there full power and authority to take affidavits of justification of recognizances and to administer oaths to sureties making such affidavits; and then and there by and before the said George E. Best, Esq., notary public as aforesaid, the said John Martindale was duly sworn and did make and subscribe an affidavit in writing touching his qualifications to become a surety for the said Henry Byrne on the said recognizance, and did take his corporal oath touching and concerning the matters contained in his said affidavit, he the said George E. Best, Esq., notary public as aforesaid, then and there having sufficient and competent authority to administer the said oath to the said John Martindale on that behalf; and the said John Martindale being so sworn as aforesaid, then and there, to wit: on the said sixteenth day of January, in the year last aforesaid, at the City and County aforesaid, to prevent the said George E. Best, Esq., notary public as aforesaid, and the said the Surrogate's Court of the County of New-York from knowing the true circumstances and property of him the said John Martindale, did then and there upon his oath aforesaid concerning the matters contained in the said affidavit in writing feloniously, wilfully, corruptly and knowingly falsely swear, depose and say in and by his said affidavit, among other things, in substance and to the effect following, that is to say: that he the said John Martindale then owned in his own right real estate in the City of New-York, consisting of two unimproved lots located on the North-east corner of East Houston Street and Goerck Street, in said City, and that the value of the said lots was not less than ten thousand dollars, and that they were subject to no encumbrance or mortgage, and that he was then worth in good property not less than thirty five hundred dollars over and above all debts, liabilities and lawful claims against him and all liens, encumbrances and lawful claims upon his property.

Whereas in truth and in fact he the said John Martindale did not then own in his own right any real estate in the City of New-York consisting of two unimproved lots located on the North-east corner of East Houston Street and Goerck Street, in said City, of the value of ten thousand dollars, which was subject to no encumbrance or mortgage; and whereas in truth and in fact the said John Martindale was not then worth in good property not less than thirty five hundred dollars over and above all debts, liabilities and lawful claims against him and all liens, encumbrances and lawful claims upon his property.

And so the Grand Jury aforesaid do say, that the said John Martindale, in manner and form aforesaid, on the day and in the year last aforesaid, at the City and County aforesaid, feloniously, unlawfully, knowingly and wilfully did commit wilful and corrupt perjury, against the form of the Statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace of the People of the State of New-York and their dignity.

Sir.

The following report is the result of an investigation made by me this day, into the character of William McCarthy of No. 117 Roosevelt St. and Peter Coyne of No. 304 Water St. now in the City Prison, awaiting sentence for felony.

I learned from inquiry that Coyne prior to his arrest was employed as a runner for the Sailor Boarding houses at 301 and 304 Water St. kept by Thomas Kelly and John Murray, respectively, both of whom state, that during their acquaintance with him, they considered him entirely trustworthy, he having at different times collected money for Kelly and always made prompt and correct returns - and never heard his character impeached in any way until the present time - Was born in the City about 18 months prior to that time was engaged as firing on European steamers.

McCarthy's reputation is bad, could not learn any good of him - frequents liquor stores in vicinity of Roosevelt + Water Sts. and has not worked at anything for some time - Was identified at the Tomb by Off. Patrick O'Sullivan of this Prec. as a man whom he had arrested for robbery about the year of 1877 and who had served a term in State Prison - personally they are not known to me.
