Street in the City of New York, where John Murphy the defendant herein was employed. That said John Murphy has been employed by said Company since the year 1887, in several capacities. That he was at the time of his arrest employed as a clerk in the mailing department. That he has always borne a good character at the office and that his salary has been advanced four times since his employment began and that there was another advance to be granted him on the very week of his arrest. That in said mailing department there are opportunities for him to steal large quantities of stamps, since often times as much as Two hundred <sup>worth</sup> ~~Dollars~~ are used in a single day, and many other employees are employed in the same department. But to deponent's best knowledge and belief said John Murphy has never taken a single stamp.

said John Murphy has always given good satisfaction and
