Edward Pucey, 98 Harrison Street, Laborer, working now at the Convent of the Sacred Heart. In the night from the 4th to the 5th of November, 1888, I lied down on the lounge in the room occupied by me in the above premises. I had my pants on, and in them I had my pocket book, containing nine English Sovereigns and one $5 bill. After getting up the next morning, Mrs. Martin, the wife of the defendant, told me that her husband had my money. I then examined my pocket book, which was still in the pocket of my pants, and found that the ^{whole} Sovereigns and the said bill were gone. I asked the defendant then whether he knew where my money had gone, and whether he had taken it. He answered No. Thereupon I caused his arrest. In the Station House two English Sovereigns and $1 bill was found upon him. ~~In the~~ He said that he found it on the carpet of my room.
