The People vs. }
 vs. }
 John Daken }

City and County of New York ss:

James Daken
 being duly sworn deposes and saith that he resides in the City of New York and is the father of John Daken, the defendant herein. That said defendant had always resided with deponent until said defendant's marriage about July 1888 last past. That up to the time of his arrest herein the defendant had borne a good reputation, and was a hard-working and industrious young man, and was continually employed at his work.

That as deponent is informed and verily believes the cause of the trouble which led to the defendant's arrest herein, was that defendant was visiting some woman who resided in the corner house in the street where the complainant (Coogan) lived and a few doors away from said Coogan's house;
 that while in said corner house the defendant was disturbed or surprised by some persons or friends of the woman, and to avoid observation and any unpleasant consequences that might result from his being discovered there, the defendant made his escape through the roof, and proceeded along over the roofs of the adjoining houses until he found some scuttle or passage to afford him an exit to the street. That at the time the defendant had no intention to steal or violate the law in any way, but was anxious to escape observation and any difficulty that might follow as aforesaid, as this deponent verily believes. That the said defendant was never before arrested or charged with any crime

The People against James Degnan.
-----X

The defendant is indicted with another for the crime of burglary in the first degree (breaking into a dwelling house at night assisted by a confederate actually present) and attempt at grand larceny in the first degree, under section 506.

STATEMENT.

The defendant and another broke a pane of glass in the vestibule door of No. 234 West 33d Street on November 21st, 1888, at about half past two o'clock in the morning. No. 234 is an apartment house in which a large number of people were living that night. Degnan and his confederate after breaking the glass opened the door and had about reached the second floor of said house when James Keating who his sister had called having heard the smashing of the glass below and who resided with his sister Mrs. Clark on the second floor of said house opened the door to see what was going on in the hall ~~xxxx~~ way. As Keating went out he saw Degnan slip into the bathroom; Keating opened the bathroom door and asked Degnan what he desired. Degnan rushed out, took hold of Keating and said "Don't say anything, you son of a bitch, or I will kill you; it is a case of life or death with me."

Mrs . Clark who had heard the cracking of the glass below, called Keating as already stated. Also saw Keating come out of the bathroom; called her husband and another brother, who also came out of their rooms. A fight then ensued between Degnan and his confederate on the one side and Mr. Clark and his two brothers in law on the other. Degnan and his confederate who had various excuses to make, such as that he was trying to run away from an officer and took refuge in this house and others of a similar kind, were finally ejected into the street, and on the way out Degnan confessed to Wehrley and McNally that he (Degnan) had broken the glass. Degnan had about three weeks prior to this affair ~~some~~ done some plumbing work in the house and in the premises occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

On the last occasion that he was there he noticed Mrs. Clark's jewelry on the table and remarked to her that she had better look out for her jewelry or somebody would steal it.

WITNESSES.

Mr: Clark testifies that he was awakened by his wife; that he heard the cracking of the glass and a low whistle in the hall; that he came out and found Degnan and his confederate disputing with Keating; that he struck Degnan and bit him on the nose. Will give excuses Degnan made and will describe how Degnan and his confederate were ejected into the street.

James Keating testifies that about half past two his sister awoke him; that he went to the door of his room leading into the hall and saw Degnan slipping into the bathroom and his confederate into the water closet. Will testify to the statement already above mentioned made by Degnan to him; called his brother in law who fought Degnan and his brother who caught the confederate by the throat. He will testify as to the statement made by Degnan and his confederate while they were in the house. He will also testify that one of Degnan's gloves was found in the hall below, cut and scratched, which glove matched the one found on Degnan's person; will also testify to the admission made by Degnan after the breaking of the glass.

Joseph Wehrley, housekeeper of No. 234 West 53d St. testifies: About half past two in the morning of the 21st of November, 1888 he was aroused by a noise upstairs; went upstairs and saw Mr. Clark and Keating and Degnan and his confederate. Heard the explanation made by Degnan and his confederate as to his presence there. Saw the broken glass and heard Degnan confess that he broke it. Ejected Degnan and his confederate. Will also testify that he locked the door that night. The fact is the door is always locked, the lock being a spring latch.

Peter McNally, brother in law to Wehrley will testify that he heard the noise; went upstairs and went downstairs and saw the glass broken; heard Degnan say that he broke the glass.

The officer in the case will testify to the arrest and also that the glove found matched the glove found on Degnan's person.

Mrs. Clark will testify that about half past two she heard the smashing of the glass pane; called to her brother James Keating who went to the door leading into the hall and as already stated opened the same; she saw Degnan in the bathroom; then called her husband and another brother who came upon the scene. She will testify that she was struck by Degnan on the breast.

REMARKS.

Deghan and his confederate had served sentence for four years in State prison; record of case hereto annexed.

Officer Carey is the officer who made the arrest and will identify Degnan. I have also ascertained that there was another conviction for a minor offense of which I found no record.

The defense will be intimacy of Degnan with Mrs. Clark; this she has stated to me is not true, although he drank beer on her premises while doing some plumbing work for her.

The defendant has been stopping in the house with us for the last 14 years except when his work would keep him downtown. He being my wife's brother, he was stopping in the house for several weeks prior to and up to the morning in question. and On coolly reflecting upon the circumstances over I believe fully that he did not enter the house to steal and did not commit a burglary as to the subsequent taking of the clothing not one half of the same taken belonged to me. There was no actual concealment of the fact of his taking the clothes by him as from the facts he must have known that my wife, his father, and myself could not fail to at once conclude that nobody but he could have taken the clothing and he left as I am informed and verily believe a much more valuable suit of clothing of his own on said premises. He was undoubtedly under the influence of liquor at the time and before he was arrested he apprised me of having got my clothing. On full reflection and without in any manner wishing to strain my conscience I have come to the conclusion and verily believe that in entering the house on the night in question the defendant had no burglarious intention and in taking the clothing did not intend to deprive me of my clothing.

PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT,
VERSUS

John Dillon

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself.

The defendant herein is my brother-in-law.

On the night of Nov. 20th, 1888, the defendant John Dillon, and myself, had some words, at my residence, 122d St. between 10th Ave. & the Boulevard, and I ordered him to leave my house at once. He, said Dillon, had been boarding with me. He then left the house some hours later after I had retired; he, said defendant, returned to get his clothes. The house was locked up, and he got in through a window and by mistake, as I believe, he took my clothes instead of his own. I do not believe he intended to steal the clothes.

PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT,
VERSUS

John Doyle

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself. And further, thinking the matter over and from all the circumstances, I believe that the defendant did not break the window, and if he did take the umbrella, I believe that it was on an impulse and in a moment of weakness. I have heard excellent recommendations of the young man and I am satisfied that he is not dishonest. And I respectfully ask the Court and District Attorney to exercise all the clemency possible.

My examination of the within case has demonstrated that an utter lack of proof to sustain the indictment. Neither the complainant nor his only witness Charles Mohr can swear that it was the defendant who committed the assault alleged in this indictment. The case has been tried before, and the trial ended with a disagreement of the jury, eight jurors being for acquittal and four for conviction. My opinion is that it will be impossible to obtain a verdict of guilty hereafter, and therefore, recommend a dismissal of the within indictment.

Indictment.

Assault in the 2^d degree

in having on October, the 21, 1888, assaulted Morris Cohen, a police officer, by throwing stones at him and threatening to kill him.

Morris Cohen, patrolman, 11th precinct. On the 21st of October, 1888, I was assigned to and did duty in the 2^dth precinct. In the evening of said day I placed James Farley under arrest for having used abusive and foul language against me and having refused to move on. He was in company of George Koehler, Edward Puggie and ^{his three or four other men whom I do not know} the defendant. While leading said Farley to the station house, I was assaulted by the said four men. They surrounded me, and after Happening me in the face, Farley was taken away from me by the other three. When I attempted to retake Farley, ~~the~~ stones were thrown at me from the direction where the said four men stood. I am positive that the defendant Dunleavy threw stones at me, several of which struck me in the side. I was not excited at the time, and distinctly saw the defendant throw the said stones at me. That was before I shot at Farley, about ten or twelve minutes.

Charles Mohr, 1747 First Avenue
 Manufacturer of Cigars. I was present when in the evening of the 21st of October, 1888, the above related assault upon officer Cohen occurred, but I did not see Dunleavy throw any stones at Cohen. I did not see ~~the~~ defendant at all at the said time.

The complainant has referred me to the testimony given by Peter J. Hillert and Mary Farley before the Coroner's jury, but the Coroner's minutes of the Coroner's inquest show that the said witnesses denied having seen any stones thrown by any body on the said occasion.
