Augusta, Ga. March 9/890

Hon John R. Fellows, District Attorney &
My dear Sir:

The Superintendent of The New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children writes me that it seems to be impossible to have the case of James E. Barry indicted for selling liquor to a child disposed of. That five times the witnesses for the People have been in Court and adjournment had. The case is properly one for the Special Sessions and I think you will agree with me it ought either to be sent there or else tried in General Sessions. I have declined to advise an abandonment ~~of~~ prosecution. If the defendant has any matters to offer in mitigation of sentence after conviction, let him submit them to you. I mention this because I am told my absence is used by counsel as a reason for delay. I think the case ought to be disposed of.

I remain with great respect,
Wm. J. Terry,

COLLINS vs. BLIEMAN.

Proof
at half past 5 o'clock on the evening of January 10th
S. COLLINS, Plaintiff, will testify that he was going diagonally across the street to his office when this man Bliegan rushed against him and struck him over the head with a heavy cane, which blow stunned him for the moment; that when he recovered he ran after him, but he was unable to catch him, as he saw him on the corner of Maiden Lane and Nassau Street; that he then returned to his office and got into a cab to go to his home; that a man whom he has since learned was this man's partner, came up and said: "You son of a bitch, do you want to know who struck you? It was Bliegan, and I put him up to it." This same man had, during the course of said day come in to Collins' office, representing himself as being a gentleman who wished to purchase pictures, and asked Collins if the Collins pictures were genuine, as he had had the misfortune to purchase seven pictures of a travelling man, and he had been told that four of them were frauds. He said he did pretend not to recollect the name of the party who had sold him these pictures, until Collins' clerk suggested that perhaps the name was Bliegan. He then said that was the man's name. Collins thereupon told him that if he had purchased pictures of that man, he had no doubt that they were not genuine, as he himself had been called in some months previous to give his opinion on a picture the same man had sold to a gentleman in Detroit, and it was a wretched fraud.

Said man then left Collins' office, and came back in two or three hours and asked to see two pictures that he had seen previously; said he might purchase them, but that he would bring a friend in to see them. He then said he had a heavy chill, and asked Collins if he would not go out and take a drink with him. Collins refused, but sent his clerk for a drink for this man. The man took it and then went away, and Collins did not see him again until after the assault.

A. A. LE BLANC will testify to witnessing assault, and that it was committed with a heavy black stick or cane, and that Blieman said he would have plaintiff's life yet.

Dr W. A. BEACH will testify that he examined plaintiff on January 11th; found him suffering from a contused wound and nervous prostration, consequent on the shock, and that ^{he} he not worn a high silk hat, the blow would have produced concussion of the brain and endangered his life.

Dr ABBOTT HODGMAN will testify that he examined plaintiff a week or ten days after the assault, and found him suffering from nervous prostration; that he is still attending plaintiff, and that plaintiff is still suffering from the effects of the blow. He will also testify to Collins's character.

very recent
E. M. EARLE will testify to the bad character of Blieman, and that he tried to steal a lot of pictures from him.

0289

THOMAS VAN HORNE will testify that Collins bought a revolver from him on the 13th January.

note in original
R. L. REES will testify that he was present and heard the entire conversation between Collins and Blieman's partner-- whose name I cannot give now. He also heard the same man threaten that if Plaintiff arrested him or Blieman, he would have plaintiff's life yet.

WILLIAM APREES will testify to having known Collins thirteen years, and that he is a peaceable man.

The name of Schaus's expert, who was found Feb 10/20 deposed 41 E. 19th was James D. Trimmer.

The name of the gentleman in Detroit who called Collins in to see fraudulent picture purchased from Blieman was Newcomb.

The name of one witness Blieman intends to produce is Ullman, who, I believe, will swear that I told him that if I met Blieman again, I had a revolver ready for him. I had not seen this man Ullman for over a year till the 13th day of January, three days after the assault was committed on me.

The name of another witness of Blieman's will be SILOW, an auctioneer, called to testify, I believe, to his character. This man informed me that he had bought a lot of pictures of Blieman, and that he had told him they were worth more than double ^{what} they were, and that he had great difficulty in getting his money back at auction for them.

Miss JENNIE TURNER,
Stenographer,
32-34 Nassau St., N. Y.
Telephone, Law 770.

George U. Dowden will testify that about three (3) months previous Blieiman told him that he intended to assault Collins and that he had laid in wait for him 2 days but had failed to catch him.

G. W. Keeler will testify to Collins's good character.

Blieiman swindled Charles Park of Park & Tifford on several fraudulent pictures. Mr. Park is away to Florida or I could get him to testify.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

P a r t I I I .

The People of the State of New York. :
a g a i n s t : Before Hon.
John Brennan, impleaded with Michael : Frederick Smyth
Boland. : and a jury.

Indict ment filed February 21st, 1890.
Indicted for Burglary in the Third degree.

New York, March 7th, 1890.

APPEARANCES: For the people, Assistant District Attorney W. T. Jerome.

For the defendant: G. R. Westerfield.

WILLIAM A. WEISS? a witness for the people, sworn testified:

I am a dealer in boots and shoes at 365 Hudson Street. On the night of the 11th of February I closed my store I locked it up securely at about half past 10 at night. I am certain that everything was secure.
I was awakened in the morning at about two o'clock by an officer Schneider. I went down to look at my store, and I found the plate glass had been broken, and about twenty pairs of boots and shoes had been taken. I afterwards saw some shoes at the Station House and I identified them as part of the shoes which had been taken from my show window.

Cross-examination.

Q How do you know that these were your shoes, was there any private marks upon them? A. Yes there was a mark C. J. M. on the shoes.

03 19

Theodore Schneider, a witness for the people, sworn testified:

I am an officer of the Municipal Police of this City. On the night of the 11th of February I was on post in the vicinity of 365 Hudson Street, and I arrested the defendant Brennan that night. There was no other man with Boland at the time I arrested him. I was standing in the corner of Hudson and Houston Streets about a block away from this store when I heard the crash of glass. I walked in the direction where I heard the noise, and I saw two men at this shoe store. When I got over by the store the two of them crossed Hudson Street and came up on the other side of the street towards Houston. When I got near the store and saw the glass broken, I crossed over to the two men and they both started to run. The defendant was first and Boland was second. I caught Boland in Houston Street. I was looking for this defendant for three or four weeks, before that, but I didn't find him.

Q You positively say that this is man you saw on that night with Boland? A. Yes sir. .

Q After you arrested Boland did you go back to the store? A. Yes sir, I found a pair of shoes on Boland, and there were several other pairs of shoes found in the hallway of his house. The defendant was arrested on the 12th of February. by Officer Barry of the 9th Precinct.

Cross examination.

I am sure this is one of the two men who was at that window. I found the other shoes at about ten minutes after I arrested Boland.

Q How far away from the window were these men, when you saw them? A. Right close up against the window.

Q How long did they stand there? A. Until I came up within about 25 feet from the store.

Q What did they do then? A. They saw me and ran across the street.

Q Which way did they go? A. Up-town.

Q Was there any light near this window? A. Yes sir, about three feet away from it there was a lamp.

Q When you arrested Boland was there anyone with you?

A No sir, there was no one with me at the time. When I caught Boland I stopped and rapped for assistance and another officer came to me.

Richard Barry, a witness for the people, sworn , testified:

I am an Officer of the Municipal Police of this City. In the early morning on the 12th of February my post was on Washington Street. I arrested this defendant at a quarter of 12 next day. I told him I wanted him to take a walk with me and he didn't say anything. I had no conversation with him whatever.

Q Have you ever seen this man in that vicinity?

A Yes sir.

GEORGE BRODERICK, a witness for the people, sworn, testified: I am an officer of the Municipal Police. On the early morning of the 12th of Febry. I was on post. I answered Officer' Schneider's rap for assistance. I had a conversation with him and I then went to No. 266 Houston Street. I made a thorough search of the house , and got another Officer to assist me, and I discovered 25 or 30 pairs of shoes in a hallway. I know the defendant at the bar a good many years. I saw him at about half past 1 o'clock on this night standing about 15 or twenty feet from No. 266 Houston Street . He was with this man Boland. They walked into the house No. 266.

Cross examination.

Q Did you see this man clearly on that night?

A Yes sir, he was quite near me, and I recognised him.

Q Was there any gas light there? A. Yes there was gas light. This was about 25 or 30 feet from the corner. I found these shoes in the hallway of the house in which this man lives.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, AGAINST

The Grand Jury of the City and County of New York, by this indictment, accuse

Henry F. Boyd

of the CRIME OF Grand LARCENY in the second degree, there feloniously, fraudulently and falsely pretend and represent to the said

which is the said paper writing there was then and there a certain endorsement and ~~thereby~~ ^{to wit}: "W.F. Boyd", - which said paper ^{which} the said Henry then and there produced and delivered, and caused to be delivered to the said Jacob and Eugene, was then and there a good and valid order for the payment of money and of the value of thirty five dollars.

And the said Jacob and Eugene, then and there believing the said false and fraudulent pretenses and representations so made as aforesaid by the said Henry,

and being deceived thereby, ^{were} ~~was~~ induced, by reason of the false and fraudulent pretenses and representations so made as aforesaid, to deliver; and did then and there deliver to the said Henry, a quantity of poultry and meat of the value of two dollars and thirty five cents, and the sum of thirty two dollars and sixty five cents in money, lawful money of the United States of America and of the value of thirty two dollars and sixty five cents, of the proper moneys, goods, chattels and personal property of the said Jacob and Eugene,

Tried April 7th, 1890.

APPEARANCES:

Assistant District Attorney Davis for the People;
Philip Gratz, Esq. for the defense.

Mary Irwin, the complainant, testified that she lived at 13 Ninth Avenue. On the evening of February 13th, 1890, at about half past six o'clock, she was visiting them rooms of Mrs. Alice Grogan, having called to see Mrs. Grogan's sick child. The defendant's wife, and Mr. John Grogan, Mrs.
Grogan's husband, and a woman whose name the complainant did not know were also present. The defendant came in after the

the party had been together for some time. Mrs. Grogan asked the defendant to send out for some whiskey, and he sent for it, and it was divided between all of those who were present. She, the witness, intended to go to see her mother, who lived in West 48th Street, and she went in to her own rooms, to dress, leaving her baby in the care of Mrs. Bryson, the defendant's wife. She, the complainant, had been told by her husband that he would not be home until about ten o'clock that evening, and so she determined to take with her in her visit to her mother, in addition to a bundle containing clothing for her infant, a plush box in which she kept her jewelry and her husband's gold watch and chain. The jewelry was altogether worth fully $75. She, the complainant, said that she was going uptown, and the defendant said, "Is there no person to see you to the cars?" She, the complainant, replied, "No, sir, because I don't need any person to see me to the car." The defendant said, "Well, I will see you to the cars, if there is nobody to see you," and the defendant put on his hat and coat, and when he got to the door he said, "If you have no objection, I will carry the little parcel for you," and she, the complainant, thanked him, and said that, as the parcel was small, she would carry it herself. The defendant meant that he would carry for her the plush box. She, the complainant, was then carrying her baby, the bundle and the plush box. She, the complainant, knew that the defendant knew what was in the plush box, because he asked her, in Mrs. Grogan's rooms what was in the box, and she told him. The defendant said, at that time, "That's a damned nice watch, and you ought to be careful of it." She, the complainant, had opened the box and shown the jewelry to him, the defendant. They walked down Little 12th Street to 10th Avenue, and then the defendant saw a car coming, he said, "Good night," and snatched the box out of her, the complaint's hand, and ran up 10th Avenue as fast as he could go. He had previously taken from her the bundle containing her child's clothing, and, as he snatched the plush box from her hand, he returned the bundle to her. Just after the defendant ran away, a police officer -- Officer Hunt -- came up to her, and she told him what had occurred. She went to her husband's place of business, a cooperage at 10th Avenue and Little 12th Street, and she met her husband in the street, and told him what occurred, and they went to the police station together and made a complaint. Then she, the complainant, went to her mother's house at 10th Avenue and 48th Street, and stayed there all night. Then she returned to her own home, and met Officer Hunt, and Mrs. Grogan told them where Bryson lived. They went there and the Officer found Bryson in bed, and arrested him. She had not seen her property since.

0382

Under cross examination the complainant testified that she had never met the defendant before that evening. She, the complainant, had been drinking with the other women, that afternoon and evening, but she was perfectly sober. Nothing was drank until Bryson came in.

Officer John Van Horn, testified that, on the evening of February 13th, 1890, at the corner of Jane and Washington Streets, the complainant and her husband met him, he being on post, and the complainant's husband said, "My wife has been robbed." Then the complainant's husband made a formal complaint to him, the witness. The complainant, who was carrying her baby in her arms, was crying. He, the witness, took the complainant and her husband to the police station, and the complainant made her complaint there.

Officer Patrick F. Hunt testified that he was attached to the 9th Precinct. The complainant made a mistake as to his, the witness's name. She confused Officer Van Horn with himself, the witness. He, the witness, first saw the complainant and her husband in the 9th Precinct Station House, in Charles Street. He, the witness, was the ward detective of that Precinct, and, after Officer Van Horn had brought the complainant and her husband to the station, and the complainant had made her complaint, he, the witness, was detailed to arrest the defendant. He learned from Mrs. Grogan that the defendant lived at 292 Houston Street. It was about 11 o'clock on the morning of February 14th, 1890, when he knocked at the defendant's door. After considerable delay the door was opened by the defendant's wife. He, the witness, told the defendant that the Captain wanted to see him at the station house and the defendant replied, "I've got to suffer for what somebody else has done. Then the defendant wanted to know what the charge was against him, and he, the witness, told him.

Under cross examination, the witness testified that he searched the defendant's premises thoroughly, before he took him to the station house, but found none of the missing property.

For the defense, JOHN BRYSON, the defendant, testified that, before his arrest, he lived at 229 West Houston Street. In 1881, he was indicted for burglary, but was convicted of grand larceny, and was sentenced to State prison for two years and a half. A short time afterwards, in 1883, he, the defendant, was again arrested and sent to the Penitentiary for three months. In each case, he suffered for offenses committed by his brother, George Bryson, and of which he was entirely innocent. In December, 1884, he was married, and had lived a correct life in all respects.

He, the defendant, was employed at the time of his arrest by Charles S. Nellman, of 204 West Street, dealer in sea produce. He drew his week's pay at about half past 12 o'clock on the afternoon of February 13th, and went up to Mr. Grogan's house. Mr. Grogan had been down to his, the defendant's home, several days before and had got the defendant's wife to go to his, Grogan's home to sit up with a sick child. The child had since died. His, the defendant's wife was still at Mr. Grogan's house on the afternoon of February 13th. When he entered, Mrs. Grogan asked him to treat the party, and he went out and bought ten cents worth of whiskey and brought it in. He then brought in ten cents worth more. Soon afterwards the complainant asked Mrs. Grogan to hold her baby, and went to her own room, dressed and returned with the plush box. She showed the contents to the whole party, and then took the box back into her own room. He, the defendant, told his wife to go home, and get things to rights, as she had been away from home for several nights, while he went down to see his employer. Then the complainant got up and said that she was going to visit her mother, and asked him to carry a parcel of clothes to the door for her. He told her to hurry, as he had to get down to the store before the store closed. He took the bundle to the car, and, being in a hurry, he, the defendant, pointed to a car about half a block away and said to the complainant, "You will have to take that car," and then he bade her good evening, and ran to catch a car that was going down town. He did not steal the plush box or any other property from the complainant.

Under cross examination the defendant testified that it was about five minutes past six when he went to the car with the complainant. He was convicted of petty larceny, before 1881, and served three months in the Penitentiary. His brother, George Bryson, was not the guilty party then.

Robert Gordon, oyster packer, at 204 West Street testified that he had known the defendant nearly ten years. The defendant had been in his employ off and on for a number of years. At the time of the defendant's arrest, the defendant was working for Mr. Nellman, whose place of business was above that of the witness. He, the witness, had trusted the defendant with money frequently, while the defendant was in his employ and the defendant had proved to be honest.

Under cross examination the witness testified that when he employed the defendant, he did not know that the defendant had been imprisoned in State prison and in the Penitentiary.

Alice Grogan testified that on the 11th of February, 1890, she sent her husband to Bryson's house, to ask Mrs. Bryson, who was her sister-in-law, to come up and help her nurse her sick child. , Mrs. Bryson came up and helped her to nurse the child. On the afternoon of the 13th of February, the complainant came into her, the witness's rooms, and asked her to go out and get some liquor for her. She, the witness, refused to do so, but Mrs. Bryson went out and got a so da water bottle full of whiskey for the complainant. The complainant, drank a larger part of the whiskey, and appeared to have been drinking before. She appeared to be very much under the influence of liquor. When Bryson came in he treated twice, and then the complainant said that she was going to the car to go and visit her mother. Before she said this, the complainant went into her own rooms and brought back the plush box, and opened it and showed the jewelry and then put the box down upon the witness's bureau. She, the witness, said, "You are a very foolish woman. Go in and get your husband's supper ready, and he will not scold you to-night." The complainant went back to her own room, and returned a few moments afterwards, without the box, she was dressed for the street, and asked Bryson to accompany her to the cars. She did not know whether the complainant gave any parcel to the defendant or not.

Delia Bryson, the defendant's wife, testified to the same effect. She added that her husband paid for the first ten cents worth of whiskey that he bought, and the complainant gave him ten cents to buy the second quantity of whiskey that he brought in.

(9)

John Grogan testified that he came home, at about noon, on February 13th, and found the complainant in his wife's room. His dinner was not ready, and the women were drinking whiskey, , and he told the complainant to go to her own rooms and to mind her own business.
