44 The People v. Mary O'Brien } Court of General Sessions, Part I Before Recorder Smyth.
 February 28th 1854.

Indictment for grand larceny in second degree.

Bernard Jordan, sworn. I am a hotel man and a baker and make my home in New York. I have been in the House of Detention for the last two weeks. I recollect the 6th of February going to the Windsor Palace down in a cellar, 155 Park Row. I saw Mary O'Brien in the afternoon there. I treated all hands - one man who attended bar and three or four girls. I spent half a dollar. I took out a roll of bills out of my fob pocket and gave him a two dollar bill and he gave me back the change. I put twenty six dollars back in my pocket. I spoke with a woman who is not here about having come from Boston; she said she came from Boston too. I sat down on the bench beside her; we got talking about what nice times we had in Boston eating pork and beans; she made a proposition to go into the room and that for a dollar I could have all the privileges and fun I had with her. I went in and this woman O'Brien came in and said she did not think I would go back in her and if I would I would have to treat. I told her I would she went out after beer. I said I would pay for it afterwards, she knew I had money. The other woman commenced to fool around my pants and wanted to see what I had for the girls. I said it would be time enough after the beer came to get my privates out. She got out a roll of bills. I went for her to get it away from her and she got her hands around. It was kind of dark there, and finally the prisoner came in with the beer; then I saw the other woman make motions to her and give her what she had in her hand - my roll of bills, and then after she got rid of it, she grappled with me; we had a wrestle; the unknown woman grappled with me and got me on the bed. I heard the bills, which were new ones, rustling in her hands; while I was on the bed and the other woman was holding on to me I was trying to get away; finally after she got all fixed she said, (the defendant) "stop your fooling and let us get up, drink your beer and then you can have your fun afterwards. I got up and started to go out and they both seized me and this defendant said I could not go that way. I protested and made considerable racket. I was bound to get out, I finally broke away; then they seized my hat and would not give it to me. I went into the other part of the cellar and I told the Missis they had stolen my money; she went in and got my hat, but made no effort to get my money. The defendant came out looking very innocent and said I was looking down hearted. I said, I lost my money; she said she knew nothing about it. The defendant said to the Missis, "this man is a friend of mine, he has lost his money and I want you to go in and get it." They went in together and they were gone quite a while and the Missis came out alone afterwards and gave me seven dollars saying, "this is all I could find." I took it and went off and got another drink. I had been robbed in New York several times before in the same way and I did not think it was any good to go to the police. I got sobered, stopped drinking and went back on the following Friday and said to them if they would give me back $15 I would not do anything about it. They said I got all there was. I went down to the station house and told the Captain I had been robbed the Sunday before. A detective went down and arrested the whole of them. I went to the House of Detention. I made my home at Taylor's hotel and had been there eight days before this.

Edward Shalvey sworn. I am an officer of the 4th precinct; the complainant came to the station house and said he had been robbed. I got a warrant and I arrested all the people in the house; the complainant picked out the prisoner in the station house as one of the parties who robbed him. It was on Friday the 11th of Feb. I made the arrest, five days after the alleged robbery. Bernard Jordan recalled. I had a watch and chain on me the night I was robbed but it was not taken from me.

Mary O'Brien, sworn and examined in her own behalf testified. I did not help to rob the complainant. I never handled a penny of his money. Cross Examined. I remember the Sunday morning he was in the place, he was in there before. I was present when he ~~entered~~ ^{entered} the ~~place~~ ^{place}, he did not treat the girls; the name of the "Boston" woman is Junia Donnelly; she went into my room with the complainant and occupied it one hour. I did not go in the room while they were in there. I came to the door when she ordered four bottles of beer; he is a pedlar and sells rings; he said the other woman took $15 from him and I told the Madam and she went in and got his money. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny!

Good and Lawful Money of the United States of the Amount and of the value of Twenty Six dollars the property of

Deponent

and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by Mary O'Brien (nowhere) and another woman not now arrested from the fact that at about the hour of five o'clock P.M. on said date deponent went into a Concert Saloon or house of Prostitution in premises no 155 Park Row and deponent called for a round of drinks and paid fifty cents for said drinks with a two dollar bill deponent took from a roll of bills deponent had in his deponent's pantaloons pocket deponent then placed the said twenty six dollars he had remaining in his deponent's pocket of deponent's pantaloons
