New York, Dec. 1st 1880

Hon and dear Sir:

Samuel G. Young, indicted for felony, has been engaged as a singer in the Choir of the Church of the Holy Spirit for the past year. From conversations had with him I find that he deeply deplures his crime and if sentence is suspended promises to leave the country and amid new scenes begin to lead a strictly honest life. He has a wife and two children, and I feel is worthy that on the

at the City of New York, in the County of New York, being duly sworn, deposes and says,

day of

November

1880

Samuel G. Young, did then and there designedly and unlawfully make and utter a certain false instrument in writing (certified promissory note) and made a false complaint with intent to cheat and defraud deponent and whereby deponent was cheated and defrauded out of the sum of fifty dollars good and lawful money the property of deponent. That said Young came to deponent's place of business and requested deponent to cash the said check whereupon deponent's Cashier at the request of deponent gave to said Young the said fifty dollars. That deponent has since been informed by Edmund Guilbert whose name is written on said check that the signature to said check is a forgery and was not authorized by said Guilbert.
