People vs
James Kelly }

City and County of New York ss: James Kelly being duly sworn deposes and says: That he is 29 years of age and resides at No: 165 Delancey St. in the city of New York, that deponent came here from California on or about the 19th of January 1881, with his family, and on or about the 2<sup>d</sup> day of February deponent purchased the liquor store and appurtenances at said 165 Delancey Street from one James M<sup>c</sup>Donald, that said M<sup>c</sup>Donald holds a license to sell liquors &c in said premises, which does not expire until September 1881; that deponent came to New York entirely unacquainted and unfamiliar with the laws of this State, and said M<sup>c</sup>Donald told deponent at the time he so purchased said store, that the license thereon is good and he (deponent) could sell under the same, that deponent opened said store on or about the 4th day of February 1881, and sold under said license, in good faith & without any intent or design to act contrary to law, until about the 16th of February 1881, when deponent was arrested & held to bail; that deponent applied for a license on or about the 20th of February 1881, that deponent has not as yet received his license from the Excise Board; although he has received a notice to procure the same, that deponent has not sold any liquors, wines or beers or drinks of any kind or description since <sup>which time the store has been closed,</sup> about 3 weeks ago; he not having money enough to pay for his license, being without means of his own, and that deponent bought said store on borrowed money, that there is hardly any stock in the place, and deponent does not believe he will be able to continue this business.
