The People
vs.
Julius Ebert.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Cowing.

September 15, 1937.

Indictment for burglary in the second degree.

Barbara Zwaink sworn and examined. Where do you live? 1010 Second Avenue, in this city. What sized house is that, is it a tenement house? A big house, plenty of people living in the house. What floor do you live on? On the second. How many rooms do you and your family occupy on the second floor? I have three rooms facing the rear. How many entrances are there from those rooms to the common hallway of the house, how many doors? Only one door leading into the hallway. How many windows have you to your rooms? Two windows in all leading to the yard. Do you remember the 29th of August last? I do not know exactly what date it was but I remember the day; it was on a Monday that the rooms were entered. What time of day did you go out that morning? A little before eight o'clock I went to work, I am a cigar maker; the room where I work is about fifteen feet from where I sleep. When you went out that morning did you lock your door? Yes sir, I locked the door and I tried it after I locked it, I was the last one to leave the room, there was nobody in the room when I left. What property was there in the room when you left? We had our clothing, furniture there. What was the value of your property about? It is worth more than one hundred dollars all we have, I have a husband and father-in-law and a child living with me, the child is home. When did you come back again to the house after going out? It was near nine o'clock when I was informed by the other woman I heard something from her. Did you back to your rooms in consequence of that? Yes sir, I went back at nine o'clock in the morning. Did you notice the condition of the door leading into your rooms which you had previously locked? The door was ajar when I came there. Did you notice any marks on the door? There was only a little sign, there was nothing broke but a little impression on the door, it was near the lock, it was a kind of a scratch. How soon after that did you see this defendant, Julius Ebert? I saw him running away down the stairs, at the foot of the stairs. Did you follow him? I ran to the room first, I did not run after him but others run after him. How soon after you saw him running down stairs did you see him again, how many minutes elapsed? I came back to the shop and finished two cigars and then he was brought. Who brought him, the policeman? I did not see who, but the people and the policeman brought him. Then did you identify him as the man that you saw running away when you came to your door? Yes sir, I recognized him as the same man who ran down. And he is the man you saw that day? Yes sir. Did you see him in your rooms? No, the other woman saw him. He had no right did he to go into your room, he is no relative of yours? No sir, he is not.

Cross Examined. Is your shop on the same floor that you live upon? Yes sir. Somebody told me that a man was in the room and I ran to the room. You did not find anybody in your room? No, he was not in the room when I came to it; when I went to the room he passed me, running down the stairs, my room faces the stairs, right close to them, he was not down at the foot of the stairs when I came to the stairs but he was on the top, two or three feet from the door; I was not the first one to come there; my husband was first there, my husband saw him coming out I saw the defendant's face, I was about to grab him and tried to catch him; when my husband went there the defendant ran one flight upstairs and when I reached there he was going down and passed me and I tried to grab him. I was before the Police Magistrate, I said there that Josephine Knokel told me she saw him. I locked that door with a key; there was nobody left in the room, my father-in-law, husband and child lived in that room with me; there is only one key to the room and I took it.

Josephine Knokel sworn. I live at 1016 Second Avenue and lived there on the 29th of August last, upon the second floor, the last witness lives close to me, I occupy three rooms there, I remember seeing the Defendant on that day about nine o'clock in the morning, I first saw him in the room, standing in front of the bureau, in the room of the other woman, on the same floor where I live. When I saw him I went back to the shop and told the husband of the last witness; when I saw the Defendant he was putting up a bundle, her husband worked at the same table with me, he and other people working in the shop ran out; the Defendant is the man I saw in the Complainant's room.

The Prisoner pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree.

three yards from where said property was lying. And in about ten minutes thereafter the said defendants and said unknown man left said saloon together and immediately thereafter defendant missed said property. And defendant is informed by Officers George Almell and Thomas F. Murray of the Central Office Police. that the defendant Elliott told each of said Officers in the presence of each other, that the said unknown man not yet arrested took said property and that they pawned said property in Simpson's pawn shop for thirty five dollars and that they divided the money and that he Elliott received seventeen dollars and fifty cents and the defendant Thompson received two dollars and fifty cents and the said unknown man took the balance of said thirty five dollars which they had received for said property which they had pawned.

Wherefore defendant charges the said defendants and the said unknown man not yet arrested with being together and acting in concert with each other and feloniously taking, stealing and carrying away said property.

PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT, VERSUS*Charles D. Thompson*

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself.

Thompson was arrested together with Elliot as being jointly guilty of this crime. But further than being in company with Elliot at the time I am convinced he was in no way implicated in the affair.

He is a young man very respectably connected and bears the best character.

Affidavit—Larceny.

City and County } of New York, } ss.of No. 92 Grove Street, aged 33 years, occupation Keep house being duly sworndeposes and says, that on the 30th day of August 1887 at the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen and carried away from the possession and possession of deponent, in the day time, the following property viz:

One leather pocketbook of the value of one dollar. Containing good and lawful money of the United States to the amount and of the value of Eighteen dollars and ten cents
All together of the value of Nineteen & 10/100 dollars ($19.10)

the property of Deponent and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by George W. Evans (now here) from the fact that at about the hour of 2:30. O'clock PM said date deponent was on the South East corner of 14th Street and 6th Avenue and at that time deponent had said pocketbook in her right hand. When the said defendant came up to deponent and snatched said pocketbook from deponent's hand and placed another one in deponent's hand saying at the same time beg pardon this is your pocketbook and as soon as he got deponent's pocketbook in his hand he ran away with it deponent gave the alarm when officer

John Collins of the 19th Prec Police pursued and arrested him and deponent is informed by said Officer that when he searched the defendant he found in his possession a pocketbook.

Deponent has since seen said pocketbook so found with the defendant and fully identifies it as her property.

Wherefore deponent charges the said defendant with felonious taking, ~~stealing~~ and carrying away said property from the person of deponent.
