The People
 Bernard Finnegan
 Jointly indicted with Charles White for assault in the first degree. Jacob W. Feess sworn. On the 29th of August I was a police officer and on that day I saw Finnegan and White on the corner of Tenth Avenue and Fortieth St. about 1/4 past 12 at night; and the next I saw of them was near one o'clock between 7th and 8th avenue in Fortieth St. I went out on post at 12 o'clock at night. I was talking with my side partner for about 5 minutes and he went off. I heard Finnegan, White, Brown, and Sheehan and saw them coming up Fortieth St. from Eleventh Ave. They made some noise; they stood on the corner. I went over and told them to move on. I don't want you fellows around these corners because I know they are bad characters. Finnegan said to me, "you son of a b---h. you are too fresh." I went and pushed him. He caught hold of me on the left side. I gave him a single rap and the officer on Tenth Ave. and the one on thirty ninth St. came to my assistance. The four of them went up towards Forty Second St. I did not think anything more about it. The roundsman came up and wanted to know what was the trouble and I told him. He says "So long as they are gone dont bother yourself. I went down patrolling my post, and when I got up between Seventh and Eighth aves. I walked up on the south side, and the fellows, Finnegan included, stood on the other side. I never spoke a word. I had suspected what they were doing. I heard a shot fired. Two officers came running up to my assistance up Tenth Ave. Finnegan and White, went up Tenth ave. I saw the pistol in Finnegan's hand and he threw the pistol backward. I ran over and said, "Finnegan, you fired a shot at me," because I knew him before. I said, "Have you got a pistol?" He said, "No." I said, "You threw it away. I searched the whole of them because I thought they had another pistol because the whole lot of them are very dangerous. I could not find any pistol, and a gentleman came up to me and said, "Officer, the pistol is right here. I had not any match; he gave me a box of matches, I struck one match and the pistol was there in front of me. Finnegan went down Fortieth st. (The pistol and cartridges were produced and offered in evidence. Finnegan was on the opposite side of the street when the pistol was discharged; the street is about forty feet wide. I saw him fire it; he shot in my direction, I could see the flash, he had it against me. I did not see the ball, but I heard it. Korney came up looking for the pistol. I says, "You are one of that gang," and I struck him. After that White came up looking for the pistol. I arrested him and took him down near Eighth Avenue on the corner. Finnegan came up and he struck me five or six times in the back of the neck; it is sore yet. White struck at me too. That was about five or six minutes after the pistol had been fired. One of the chambers of the pistol was empty; the others were all loaded with powder and ball except the one that was discharged. Cross Examined I am on the police since May 1882. When I first saw these young men they were disorderly. I stood about four or five feet from the lamp post when the shot was fired. I could see the pistol shining in Finnegan's hand. I searched him afterwards.

0066

Oscar W. Hermann sworn. On the night of the 29th of August about one o'clock I was sitting at the window and four young men passed by 219 West Fortieth St.; the defendant Finnegan was one of them. One of the party made the remark, I don't know which one it was, "I will get even with the Son of a b- h, or let us do the son of a b- h." I then halloed out of the window to them, you had better not. I had never seen them before. They walked up to the best of my knowledge as far as 231 Fortieth St. near Eighth Ave. I think the church is about opposite that. I leaned out of the window to see what they were doing and I saw the flash of the pistol shot, and the person who fired the shot immediately threw the pistol into the gateway. Then I saw the policeman come up and search him. I then left the window and went down into the street and the four men had gone. I did not see who fired the pistol. Cross Examined. I did not see the way in which the pistol was pointed; it was pointed across the street. I could not say whether it was towards the church or not. I could not say whether it was fired towards a brick building or not. When I came down I said to the officer, "they threw the pistol in here." The officer did not tell me at any time that he saw Finnegan fire the pistol. I found the pistol and handed it to the officer. It is about a dozen houses from where I reside the pistol was fired.

Thomas Shannon sworn and examined for the defence. I joined Finnegan, White and Rooney the evening of this trouble on the 24th of August. I was on a visit that day to an aunt of mine in New York. I have never been arrested for any offence. I do not belong to any gang; we were standing on the corner of Sixth Ave. and Forty St. talking in a not very loud tone of voice; the officer ordered us away from the corner; we went away from Forty Second St. to Seventh Ave. and went into a place where we were acquainted and had a drink.

When we were coming down Rooney was talking about a pistol he had and he wondered if it was rusty and wondered if it would go off; he walked over; there was a brick pile there; they were building a stable at the time; he took a revolver from his pocket and stood and fired the pistol, pointing it directly at the pile of brick. Then I walked back to the sidewalk and we walked down and this officer crossed over fully two hundred feet away from where the shot was fired and asked me if I had a revolver?

I told him "no". He then searched me and asked me where I was going? I told him home, and I went home. Finnegan had no revolver and he fired no shot. I did not see the officer when Rooney fired the shot. Cross Examined. I did not hear the expression, "I will get even with the son of a b---", or "I'll do the son of a b---". I am very certain these words were not spoken. I have worked five years for J. B. & J. M. Cornell. I had not been working for a few days before that Charles White sworn I am jointly indicted with Finnegan for this felonious assault and have been admitted to bail. I have never been arrested charged with any offence before. I live with my parents at 428 West 121st St. I was born in this city and my father and mother are old residents here. I am working at present at 12 Union Square with the N. Y. Mirror Co. I have been there only this last week, but I worked there three years previous to Aug. 1882. I have always had steady employment in this city. On the night of the 29th Aug. 1883 I was with Finnegan and Rooney standing on the corner of 121st St. and 5th Ave talking; the officer told us to move on and we did. He got hold of Finnegan and shoved him with a club, and then he scapped and some officer came up and we walked away. Finnegan had not done anything. We walked through 42nd St. and went down Seventh Ave. to 40th St. We stopped into a saloon and had something to drink; we then went through 40th St. between Seventh and Eighth Aves. where Rorney said, "I have got a pistol. I wonder if it will go off." He went to a brick pile and he fired it off. The officer then came and searched us and let us go. At the time the revolver was fired I did not see the officer; it was not fired at the officer. Finnegan had no revolver. Rorney went out into the street to fire it. I saw him fire the shot. The officer searched us and let us go. Rorney went up towards Seventh Ave. and Finnegan and I went towards Eighth Ave. I left him there. I went up towards Seventh Ave. The officer arrested me and said, "You son of a b-h, you are one of this gang," and he caught hold of me by the collar and commenced to club me over the back and legs. I did not say or do anything. I did not see the witness Herman until the officer had me arrested. We saw the clubbing and told the officer to stop it. The officer took me down to 6th ave. and as I was going across the street we met Finnegan; the officer hit me and hit Finnegan over the head. I was knocked down. Cross Examined. I think we were standing on the side walk when the shot was fired. On the way to where the shot was fired I heard no threat uttered. I did not hear these words spoken by anybody: I will get even with the son of a b-h." or, "I will do the son of a b-h." I am certain no such words were spoken. Rooney after firing the pistol threw it into the area. I did not tell the policeman that he did it. The officer did not ask who fired the pistol. My father and mother are in Court. Bernard Finnegan sworn. I had no revolver on the night in question. I fired no revolver, but Rooney did at a pile of bricks. I did not see the officer at the time; when he came up he searched us and let us go. When he first met us that evening he shoved me away with his club; we were only talking among ourselves. He did not accuse me of firing the shot. He did not arrest us. Charles White and I walked down towards

0071

0072

0073

Eighth ave, and he left me to go and look for Sheehan, and when he got up there the officer arrested him. He came down and met me on the corner and the officer made a rap at me with the club and hit me across the head. I did not strike the officer at all. I was convicted in this Court on the 27th of Oct. 1880 of an assault with a pistol and sent to the State prison for two years and a half. Since I came out I have been working steadily.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of assault in the second degree.
