The People vs John Morgan } Court of General Sessions. Part-F.
Indictment for injury to property. Before Judge Cowing. Dec. 21. 1883.

Carston Heilshorn, sworn and examined.
I reside 774 Eleventh Avenue and that is my place of business. I now reside in Jersey. I used the building as a liquor store and have a plate glass window there; the three panes cost me $325. I was not in the place on the 15th of this month. I saw the plate glass broken when they notified me - the front window on Eleventh Avenue; two panes were broken and I estimated the value of them to be two hundred dollars; it would cost me that to replace them if they were new.

Henry Withers sworn. I am attending bar for the complainant at 774 Eleventh Ave. I saw the prisoner at those premises on the 15th of this month. He came in to get a drink and he paid for it and he got noisy and he used all sorts of language. So I had to put him out and he went to the next grocery store and he got two bundles of wood and fired them through the windows. He broke two of the windows that the last witness described. Then they caught him and held him down in the store until they got an officer and we arrested him.

Cross Examined. This was on a Saturday between one and two o'clock in the afternoon. There were five or six people in the store at the time drinking and standing around. The prisoner drank whiskey and he called me a Dutch son of a b—h and there was not a man in the Twenty second ward could put him out I then put him out—shoved him the door. I led him by the arm to the door; he went out. I saw him go to the grocery and get the two bundles of wood and he threw them through the window right after I put him out. He was not drunk when he came in and he was not exactly drunk when I put him out. I did not know where he came from. I don't know the man and he has never been in there to my knowledge. If I had noticed him drunk I would not have sold him the whiskey. John M. Laughlin swears. I am an officer of the 22nd and arrested the prisoner in this case at the request of the bar tender on a charge of breaking those windows. I know nothing at all about the matter. Cross Examined I found him in the store. There was two or three persons holding him ^{down} for the officer. I saw that his face was a little scratched; he apparently bled from the nose. I did not remark any wound on the head. He went quietly along for about eight blocks and when they got near the station house he called me a big son of a b- and said if he was wanted for burglary that I could not take him in. The prisoner had been drinking. Henry Withers recalled. I held the prisoner down until we got an officer. By the movements we scratched him a little I suppose; he would not keep quiet. This was after he broke the windows. I did not strike him.

John Morgan, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified: I reside at 134 West Twenty Fourth St. I worked in the ice business thirteen years for the Krickerforster Co. and the Summers Ice Co. during the summer and in the winter all year long at anything I can catch. On the 15th of Dec. I was working upon a schooner at the 155th street dock and North River discharging a cargo. I remember going into this saloon on the day in question between two and three o'clock. I got one drink and standing by the stove for ten or fifteen minutes my head got kind of dizzy, I had a hot whiskey and the other was plain. I never called the barkeeper the name he said I did. I did not get two bundles of wood at the grocery store and did not break the windows. The bartender pushed me out of the store. I was standing outside the railing fixing my clothes and all of a sudden I heard the "dashing" of glass; it frightened me and a tall man came out and dragged me inside and another bartender dragged me in and got me on the floor. There was an old gentleman who is not here; he got hold of me and got me down and two put their fingers in my throat and kind of choked me in my mouth and gave me four or five kicks. I did not break the panes of glass. I don't know whether I did or not. I have not an enemy in the world only the liquor I drink. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy.
