Hon. Vernon M. Davis,

My dear Sir:

I find that I am unexpectedly called out of town this morning. I trust however that you will proceed with the trial in my absence without hesitation, as you have the brief of the Society and the witnesses will be on hand including the child, who is produced from the Hospital. Should the defendant elect to plead, I hope you will insist on the plea being taken to the rape count in the indictment, as in view of the fact that the evidence is very conclusive against him and the unfortunate child is suffering from a malady contracted as a result of the assault, I think he is entitled to little if any leniency.

v.
William T. Tighe.

BRIEF FOR THE PEOPLE.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

The prisoner, a bar tender residing at 155 Hudson Street, Brooklyn, N.Y., 28 years of age, is indicted for rape on a little girl named Daisy Gavigan aged 7 years, at the Putnam House corner of 26th Street and 4th Avenue in the City of New York, October 10, 1888.

EVIDENCE FOR THE PEOPLE.

DAISY GAVIGAN. - Is 7 years old. Lives at 155 Prospect St., Brooklyn, with her parents Peter Gavigan and Lizzie Gavigan, On Wednesday October 10th, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, while playing in front of her house, the prisoner came up to her and said, "If you will come to New York with me I will give you some grapes, peanuts and candy." Witness went with the prisoner to New York. They stopped at two or three liquor stores on the way, and he drank brandy and gave her cider to drink. Then took her into a baker shop and gave her some cake and tea. Then took her to a hotel, which was the Putnam House, corner of 26th Street and 4th Avenue, arriving there about 8 o'clock in the evening. He took her upstairs to a room, and she undressed and got into bed and he also undressed and got into bed with her. He rubbed his penis against her private parts and tried to insert it in them.

MRS. ELIZABETH GAVIGAN. - Resides at 155 Prospect St., Brooklyn. Identifies her child and knows its age to be 7 years.

OFFICER EMMET NEAR. - Is attached to the 18th Precinct. On October 11th, in consequence of information which witness received he went to the Compton House, where he learned that a man with a child had been there and had been sent to the Bull's Head Hotel. On going to the latter place, he was referred to the Lexington Avenue Hotel, corner of 24th Street and Lexington Avenue, but no such person had been there. Witness then went to the Putnam House, corner of 26th Street and 4th Avenue, and learning<sup>ed</sup> from the clerk that a man by the name of William Taylor had registered there as Taylor and niece from Philadelphia. While talking with the clerk the prisoner came down stairs together with the child Daisy Gavigan. Witness arrested the prisoner and brought him and the child to the 18th Precinct station. The prisoner admitted to the officer that he had slept in the Putnam House all night with the child; that he had undressed himself and also the child and went to bed. Gave his name as William T. Tighe, 114 Prospect Street, Brooklyn, by profession a bar keeper. Told witness he intended to return the child to her mother that morning. Denied having assaulted the child.

CAPTAIN CLINCHY. - Is a captain in the Municipal Police, 18th Precinct. The prisoner admitted to witness and also to Capt. Easton of the 2nd Brooklyn Police Precinct, that he (prisoner) stopped at the Putnam House with Daisy Gavigan and slept all night with her. Upon the person of the prisoner witness found a bottle of gin, a bottle of gonorrhoea mixture and some letters. Witness examined the prisoner's person and found the penis done up in a rag, and found stains on his shirt flap of a yellow or greenish color.

OFFICER GRANT. - Is an officer of the N.Y.S.P.C.C. On October 11th, the prisoner admitted to witness that he had slept in the same bed with Daisy Gavigan; said he was so drunk he did not know what he was doing, and when he woke up in the morning he was completely surprised and intended to at once return the little girl to her home.

DR. WALTER H. SNOW. - Is a physician residing in the City of New York and one of the attending physicians of the N.Y.S.P.C.C. Witness first made an examination of the person of the child Daisy Gavigan on October 11th, and found the external genitals intensely red; the hymen had not been penetrated, but the child had evidently been tampered with. On October 16th the child was again brought to witness by an officer of the Society, and upon examination was found suffering from gonorrhoea in its acute stage. On the same day witness examined the person of the prisoner confined in the Tombs, and found that he was suffering from gonorrhoea.

MRS. EMMA EFFINGER. - Resides at 157 East 22 Street and is in charge of a saloon there kept. On October 10th about 6 o'clock the prisoner and the child Daisy came into the saloon, and he called for two glasses of whiskey. Was told that the child could not have any liquor. He then called for wine for the child, which was given her. They sat down at a table and drank it. Prisoner soon ordered another drink, but was refused more for the child. He then asked if he could have a room for himself and niece, and was told that he could not have the child in his room, but that she could sleep with the hired girl. The prisoner replied that the child would not sleep away from him. The child then said "I want to sleep with the man." The prisoner then said they would not stay unless they could have a room together. They left after having been in the saloon about half an hour.

NORACE NEWKIRK. - Is clerk at the Putnam House, corner of 26th Street and 4th Avenue. The prisoner came to the desk about 8.30 P.M. on the evening of October 10th, and registered as William Taylor and niece of Philadelphia. Was not drunk when he came there. Witness assigned him a room, and they occupied the same together.

JAMES GARDENER. - Was in charge of the Compton House office on the evening of October 10th, when the prisoner and the girl Daisy came there, and the prisoner asked him if he could have a room for himself and his little niece. Witness refused to let him have a room. Prisoner then asked where he could get a room, and was referred to a hotel on the opposite corner by witness. Prisoner then left at once. He was then quite drunk.

FRANK GETCHE. - Is bar tender at the Bull's Head Hotel. On the evening of October 10th the prisoner came along very intoxicated and asked for a room for himself, wife and child. Witness did
