New York, June 30th 92

Hon Judge Menton

Dear Sir, I am one of the victims of robbery by James Wallace, who comes up before you for sentence this morning. I wish to say a few words in Wallace's favor, and that is, that this thief, who is undoubtedly telling the truth. (He is believed by every one and including the people at headquarters) does not half so much deserve a term in State Prison as the pawbroker Perenstein. According to Wallace's statement, and he has furnished evidence that it is true, and other facts are coming to the surface at this late date to substantiate the statements. Perenstein has received the goods knowing them to be stolen, bought the largest part outright and even going through the formalities of ticketing them - has therefore not only encouraged Wallace to steal but will make things of it - Such transactions of a licensed Pawn brokers are simply disgraceful along side of which well known would be a disgrace.

I as a victim, although I approve of severe punishment, and know that Wallace has been once before convicted of the same offence. would prefer to see a 10 years sentence imposed instead of the sentence according to the indictment -

Wallace although a thief has been very active and anxious to aid all in recovering property - he has been very sincere in his statements as can be testified to by numerous persons, without which none of this

No one whom I have met and talked with who was a victim of this man but what believed that he was, not a thief or crook at heart - the police have satisfied themselves that he worked at his trade, stonecutting, honestly, done East for a long while, before he again turned thief. He certainly made a strong effort to be honest.

about 13³⁰ P.M. securely locking + fastening the same. That on deponent's return she found the front door of said flat broken open + the above mentioned articles stolen + carried away. Deponent further says that she is informed by Det. Pgt Stephen

O'Brien that on June 10th 1893 he arrested this defendant and found in his possession the ring above mentioned and also that he acknowledged and confessed that he had broken into said premises & stolen & carried away the above mentioned property & also told said O'Brien where the above mentioned watch & chain had been found & deponent identifies said property as being a portion of the property stolen from deponent.
