v.
George A. Dennison.

Hon. John R. Fellows,

District Attorney &c.,

Dear Sir:

When the arrest was made of the defendant in the above case, the attention of this Society was called to it. An investigation by one of our officers satisfied us that it was not a proper case for prosecution. From the facts ascertained it would appear that the defendant had married the girl in question after inquiry from her mother as to her age and upon the assurance that she was over 17 years, and that the mother was cognizant of the marriage. The motive in prosecuting the defendant subsequent to the marriage by the mother was not disclosed, and under these circumstances the Society declined to have anything to do with the case or with its prosecution. In these cases of marriage the Society is very cautious in enforcing the statute, unless satisfied that the defendant acted ~~willfully~~ and for the purpose of evading prosecution on some other charge, or for the purpose of improperly securing possession of the girl adverse to that by the parents. The circumstances in the case satisfied our officers that it was not one within these two exceptions.

I have the honor to remain,
With great respect,

Wm. J. Gerry
