The People } Court of General Sessions, Part First John Devlin } Before Judge Cowing. July 8. 1881 Indictment for burglary in the third degree.

Josephine M. Fisher, sworn and examined, testified I am a married lady. You live at 153 west 123rd st. I do. That is in the twelfth Ward? I suppose so. Do you remember the 20th of June? Yes, perfectly. Did you see the prisoner on that day? Yes. I saw him enter from the second story window. You occupy the whole house? I do. It has a main front door and a basement door, both of them are enter doors? Yes sir. You were at the second story <sup>front</sup> window and you saw him come into the gate? I saw him coming into the gate. I had left the dining room for about a minute I should think, and during that time I sat at the second story window to watch to see if any one come in. Then I saw the prisoner enter the gate and descend the steps, the gate of the area. I thought, perhaps, he wanted something to eat. At any rate I had been robbed a week before, the very day and about the same hour and it made me cautious. I ran down stairs without making any noise and stood beside the dining room door and looked through the crack to see if I could detect any one; it was perfectly quiet, I thought the man had gone away. Presently I heard the dining room window and I saw this boy, at least I supposed he was a man; he seemed large to me from the second story window. I saw the window raised cautiously and he put his head through the window, moved the curtain, turned his head and looked at the sideboard. That was all I saw. Was there any property in there? Yes sir, silver plate on the sideboard about the value of forty dollars I suppose. Silver ware and the ordinary articles that are found in the dining room? Yes sir, except the things that had been stolen a week before. That was all I saw him do. He raised the window and he put his head and shoulders in. Was there any grating on the window? No sir. There was nothing to prevent his getting in? No sir, nothing he could step in from the area into the dining room? Yes sir. What did you do? I hardly knew what to do. I commenced to scold him and asked him what he meant by raising the window? Then he hung his head and said he was hungry. I was quite nervous at the time because I had lost these other things. He did not come into the house, he came to the window opposite the kitchen door. I scolded him, he told me he was hungry and then I fed him. The policeman came about that time, I let the boy go; I called the policeman to me and stated what he had done, he thought that was sufficient to arrest him. John Devlin, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. I went up in Harlem looking for some work and I felt hungry. I did not have any money in my pocket. So I went down in this ladies house in the basement and rapped at the window and nobody came; the two windows was raised and I looked in. I did not raise the window. Just as I looked in the window the lady came and asked me what I wanted. I told her I wanted something to eat; she gave it to me and told me not to come around any more. After we talked a while I went out and the policeman asked me what I wanted? I told him I wanted something to eat. He went down and asked the lady what I was doing. I suppose she told him I looked into the window; he came after me and arrested me. He asked the lady five or six times and at last she made the charge and I was brought to the station house. Cross Examined. This was between four and five o'clock in the afternoon. I lived in Grand St. a couple of weeks; it was in the Newsboys Lodging house, Pitt and Grand St. I worked in West Broadway for Mr. West in a plumbing shop and I worked in Warren St. in the United States Caramel Co. I have never been arrested. I have been in New York about 0771

0770

Three weeks. I lived in Brooklyn with my brother 479 Hicks St; he said he did not want me; so I came over here and looked for work. I did not see anybody in the street. I went up to Harlem to look for work because I could not find any down town. I am 15 years old. I had not a cent of money on me when I was arrested.
I walked up to Harlem; it took me three hours Gustavus Siebelt, sworn and examined, testified Are you a patrol man? Yes sir. On the post in which this house is situated? Yes sir. What attracted your attention to the prisoner? We had been troubled with sneak roffers. What attracted your attention to this prisoner? I saw him loitering around there. How long before you arrested him? I suppose about 20 minutes. You may describe what you observed? I saw him lying down in the field first off, he then got up and looked at some boys playing in a field; he looked up at the house and walked down eastward. I waited a little while; this house is close to Seventh Avenue. I saw him down there eating something. I asked him what he was doing there? He said he had gone down there to get something to eat and was looking for work. Mrs. Fisher told me he had raised the window. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of burglary in the third degree. He was sent to the State prison for one year.
