Tried September 29th, 1890.

Indictment filed September 16th, 1890.

Indicted for burglary in the second degree.

APPEARANCES.

Assistant District Attorney Goff, for The People.

R. J. Haire, Esq., for the Defense.

J O H N S C H R E Y E R, the complainant, testified that he lived at 53 West 83rd Street, and owned the premises at 336 West 22nd Street. He owned the house at that number on August 25th, 1890. The house was vacant at the time. After he was notified of the burglary, he went to his house and found that the chain holding the grating in the front area had been broken. On an examination of the house he found that a quantity of lead pipe had been cut out. He was accustomed to visit the house about once a week. He owned the adjoining house also. When he visited the house, about a week before the burglary, the house was secure. He kept the key of the house in No. 334, which was also his property, and which was occupied. He could not replace the lead pipe which had been cut away from the fixtures in the house for less than $250.

I R V I N G W A L D R O N testified that he was a banker's and broker's clerk, and lived opposite 336 West 22nd Street. He had been staying for about a month before August 25th with his uncle, Douglas Taylor, who lived at 333 West 22nd St. On the 26th of August, as he was sitting at the front window of his uncle's house, he heard some one cry out, "Stop thief. I saw you stealing lead pipe", and saw the defendants at the bar coming up through the opening in the area which was covered by an iron grating, at 336 West 22nd Street. They went down towards Ninth Avenue, and he followed them. They walked down the avenue to 21st Street. He heard the larger defendant say to the smaller boy to keep his eye in the back, and to look out for the cop. He heard Beck say this to Hughes. They went on down the avenue to 16th Street, and Hughes went into a junk shop there. He, the witness, in order to get a good look at

Beck asked him what street it was, and Beck told him. Then he, the witness, went to the 16th Precinct station house and made a complaint. He and an officer returned to 9th Avenue and 16th Street, and made inquiries in the junk shop. They found the defendant in 15th Street, near 9th Avenue, sitting behind some stones, so that they could not be seen from 9th Avenue. The officer asked the defendants where the lead pipe was, and they said they did not know anything about it. In the station house he, the witness, asked Hughes about the lead pipe and Hughes said, "I don't know anything about it. Speak to the big fellow."

OFFICER PATRICK LAVIN, of the 16th Precinct, testified that he was the officer who accompanied Mr. Waldron in search of the defendants and arrested them. The defendants denied that they had broken into, or entered the complainant's house, or that they had stolen anything from the house. When he, the witness, searched Beck he found in his pocket a piece of candle and an old razor. The wick of the candle appeared to have been freshly burned. On the way to the station house Beck tried to pass the piece of candle to another boy, but he, the officer, caught him in the act.

John Inkstone admitted to St Vincent Hospital July 13/90. suffering from a compound depressed fracture of the skull.
The situation of the injury was over the brain area that controls speech
On his admission his speech was lost.

The nature of the injury would suggest the following deductions
1. That he was struck with an instrument that had an acute angle at the point of contact with

2^d That it was an instrument immediate improvement & ultimate complete recovery of speech. (not voice)

I consider this case one great rarity because of its termination.

The People

vs.
Edward BroughtonCourt of General Sessions. Part I
Before Judge Cowing. Oct. 7. 1890.

Indictment for grand larceny in the first degree

Charles Brezoga, sworn and examined.

I live at 137 Twenty fourth st. now and was a fireman. I saw the prisoner on the night of the 12th of Sept. in this city in thirty sixth st. at eleven o'clock. I had letters to mail that night and I went down to the post office corner of Twenty eighth st. and Seventh Avenue. I was going up to Forty second st. to stop with a friend of mine. I was living at 128th st. at that time. I was very tired, I worked day and night. I sat down on a stoop in Thirty Sixth St.
 I could not tell the number of the house, I commenced dreaming, at the same time. I felt somebody come up and pull my watch out. I had my eyes shut. I caught hold of him. I say "Give me my watch." At the same time I took hold of him. He tried to pull the watch off the chain and he could not. I halloed "police." He wanted to get loose and he beat me on the head. der; when he beat me I had to let him loose. He did not get away as far as that gate until the policeman collared him. He did not get my watch from the person. It was ~~in~~ my pocket when I went to sleep. I am quite certain that the defendant is the person who had his hand in my pocket. He ran in the direction of the saloon and the policeman caught him by the shoulder. I cannot tell exactly how far away from me he was when the policeman grabbed him, but not more than fifteen feet. The watch was worth five dollars.

Cross Examined. Left the house to mail the letters about ten o'clock and this occurred at eleven. I was visiting that night at No 2 West Sixteenth St. At that time I lived in 128th St. I came down to visit that night. I am working at Seventy Second St. on the west side. I had been working that day and quit work at six o'clock. I had not been home after. I went to a boarding house and had my supper. I did not drink anything that day. I have never been drunk in my life. I had not been sitting on the stoop long till this man grabbed my watch, about 20 or 25 minutes as much as I know. I was not sound asleep. I was awakened by a tug at my watch. I could not say whether people were passing through the street at that time or not. The first thing I did when I felt the tug at my watch was to grab him with my hand. I was sure he had my watch in his pocket and then I got hold of him with both hands. I did not have time to feel if he had the watch or not. I said to him "Give me my watch," and then I felt he was trying to twist it off the chain; it was a chain chain fastened in gold. He was trying with both hands to get the watch off the chain. Then I halloed "Police," and he beat me all over. He was trying to get away, and he could not; he gave me a terrible bite in the shoulder. I was sitting on the side of the stoop. I had some money in my pocket too. I was sitting on the door way. I had only to take two steps from the sidewalk to get to the building where I was sitting. I was sitting up against the door with my feet upon the walk; the man who was pulling at my watch was on the sidewalk. How do you know one colored man from another, it was night time and dark? The same time I was feeling the man pulling my watch out I caught hold of him, and then I halloed for police, and the man beat me all over. I had to let him loose; when he got loose he wanted to go in the saloon. I stopped and looked at him. I could see it was the same person. I did not lose sight of him until he was arrested. At the same time I had hold of him I could see his face plainly. I never saw the man before, but I could know him; he does not look like all colored men. There was about a hundred people stood there when I had him. I did not lose sight of him. I was not drunk. I was pretty sober. I drink some times in company but I never drank down in my life. I am not a drunkard but a hard working man. I tried to catch him; the policeman was right after me and he caught him. He could not get a chance to get away. He did not get away from me before I stood up.

James L. Rice sworn. I am an officer of the 20th precinct and was on duty in the neighborhood of Seventh Avenue and Thirty Sixth St. on the night of Sept. 12th. I heard the cry of "Police" and ran back. I was about 150 feet away at the time and when I got within fifteen or twenty feet of them I saw the complainant and the defendant in a scuffle. I saw the defendant break away and run for the saloon door. I caught him and brought him back to the complainant, and he said he had his watch stolen; the complainant had his watch. I judge there were eight or ten people around when I got there. I did not see anyone else running beside the defendant; the prosecuting witness was sober.

Edward Brewsters, sworn and examined in this case behalf testified I am 28 years old and live at 201 West 29th St. That is where I was living when I was arrested. I have not been employed recently. Have been laid up with hemorrhage of the stomach and have not been able to work. I have heard the charge made against me of taking the watch. On the 12th of Sept. my wife and I went out to look for some rooms; we met Mr. Brown afterwards and walked up as far as 35th St. on Seventh Avenue. We went there and enquired for rooms, and we were directed across the street to a billiard saloon; we went to find the janitor and he was not in. I told my wife I would wait there until the janitor came; Mr. Brown and myself waited there. My wife just left me when this gentleman (the complainant) ran to me and hallooed out that I stole his watch; but I did not break away from the man. I made him let go of me, and the policeman came up and arrested me, and the man said I stole his watch. I was standing by the curb when the man seized hold of me.

 I had not seen the man prior to his seizing me. I was waiting there until the janitor of the flat returned so that we could go in early in the morning and look at the rooms. It is untrue that I attempted to take the watch. I sent down Brown after my wife when I was arrested.
Cross Examined. My wife and Brown are not in Court, but they were here yesterday. I did not hear the Police Justice when I was brought up on this charge threaten to look up my wife and somebody else for perjury.
 I was in this Court about eighteen months ago and tried upon a charge of stealing from my employer and I was acquitted. I was never in Court before that. The Court allowed Counsel for the defendant time to procure the attendance of Brown and the wife of the defendant.

Wednesday October 8. 1890.

Rosa Broughton, sworn and examined.
I remember the night of the 12th of September I went out with my husband and Edward Brown to look at some rooms in 477 Seventh Avenue between 35th and 36th Sts. When we went the janitor was not there; so we stopped and waited around a while for him but he did not come. I went on toward home and left Edward Brown and my husband standing together on the sidewalk talking; they were going to wait until the janitor came. This was between nine and ten o'clock. I walked up toward home, and as I did I saw the man walk up and grab my husband and calling him. I did not know what he was holding him for. I did not pay much attention. I thought he was fooling with him. I was about half a block from him. I continued on home.

Cross Examined. I remember being examined in the Police Court. I was married on the 15th of last February. I found that ever since I have been in the Police Court. I remember where I was married and by whom. I did not answer those questions in the Police Court because I was nervous at the time. I was all worked up.

Edward Brown, sworn and examined. I am 28 years old. I have known the defendant eight months. I was with him and his wife on the night of the 12th of Sept. last; we started up to No. 477 Seventh Avenue to see some rooms. We went up and the janitor was not home. I stopped there a while with them talking, his wife left us and said she had to go home. He stayed there and waited. I suppose about five minutes on the side walk. I wanted to get a cigarette; an acquaintance of mine came by. I stepped up two or three feet from the curb and asked him for a light. The man I got a light from turned his back and the complainant came down and grabbed Brighton and said, "you have got my watch; give me my watch." I had my back turned from the defendant, walked two or three feet from him, got the light and turned and faced him afterwards. I saw him from that time until he was seized by the shoulder; he had not changed his position. The complainant and the defendant wrestled in front of the door and the policeman came and made the arrest. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of an attempt at grand larceny in the second degree.
