he said: "Give me at least the Sweet Caporal, as he has none left of sweet caporal". I told him again that I would carry everything in the order together. He said: "Mr. Freeman's boy is sick, and he asked me to bring these articles to him at once". I did not give him the articles and he went away. I gave him nothing at all. He left this order with me. I went with the goods and I saw Mr. Freeman at his store in Eleecker Street. I had a conversation with Mr. Freeman. I showed him the order which the defendant had given me, and he denied having sent the defendant to me. Then Freeman said he would have the defendant arrested, as the order was not written by him. When the defendant came to Freeman's store he was at once arrested.

Cross-examination:

I did not give the young man the cigarettes, because I preferred to bring them to Mr. Freeman myself. I did not state to anybody at any time that I was not home when this order was presented at my store. My wife was ~~not~~ in the store at the time the defendant came in, but when I came she handed the order over to me, and I had the conversation with the defendant. This happened at about 11 o'clock in the morning. I saw Mr. Freeman at his store in less than an hour after that time.

LOUIS FREEMAN, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I keep a restaurant and lunch room at 129 Eleecker Street in this city. The defendant was formerly employed in my place. I have known him for about two months. The order which is now shown me is not in my handwriting. I did not send the defendant to Mr. Boss for any cigarettes on the day in question at all. I never wrote that order and never saw it until Mr. Boss came to my store with a bundle of cigarettes and showed it to me. Boss described this young man, and the next time I saw him I had him arrested charged with forgery.

Cross-examination:

The detective told me to go to the defendant's house and leave word that I wanted him to come to work for me the following morning. When he came to my store in response to this request a detective officer was there and placed him under arrest. I can sign my name in English and I usually do so when I send out any orders. I had no conversation with the defendant whatever on the subject of going for any cigarettes for me. I did not need any cigarettes on that day at all.

The signature of the defendant to the statement in the Police Court was offered and admitted in evidence.

JAMES A. SLOANE, a witness for the People, sworn, testified:

I am a police officer attached to the 15th. Precinct. I arrested this defendant and brought him to the Station House. Mr. Freeman made a complaint against him for forging his name to an order for cigarettes. The defendant denied the charge and he was held for trial. I had no further conversation with the defendant.

DEFENSE.

SAMUEL JUSTKOWITCH, the defendant, sworn, testified:

I know Mr. Freeman and I have done work for him at different times. I never saw the order which is now shown me before. I never presented that order for cigarettes to Mr. Boss. I had some trouble with Mr. Freeman, and that is the reason this charge has been made against me. I was employed with him and one morning I informed him that I was going to leave him because I had secured a position to go out on the Road playing with a dramatic Company. I did not give him sufficient notice and he was angry at me on that account. He would not pay me the wages which were then due me. I left however and took the position with the dramatic company. I never wrote the name of Freeman which is attached to this order. I have never been arrested or convicted of any crime. I made no effort whatever to run away when I heard that I was to be arrested for forgery.

Cross-examination:

The name of the dramatic company I was with was the Oriental Dramatic Company. We played tragedies. I never took the part of Jim the Penman. On the day that I was arrested the 16th. I was about to go off on the Road again with this dramatic company. I can write my own name both in English and in Hebrew. The writing attached to this order for cigarettes is not mine. Mr. Boss is mistaken when he said that I came to his store and had a conversation with him in relation to any cigarettes. I speak English quite well.

YETTA FINKLESTEIN, a witness for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I am a married lady. I have known the defendant for about five years. He has lived at my house. He was living there on the day that he is charged with committing this offense. He stayed in the house from 11 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night. He was minding my baby part of this time, as I had to go out on some business.

Cross-examination:

My house is at No. 25 Allen Street. The defendant came in shortly after 11 o'clock in the morning. It might have been half past 11. 99 Allen Street is not very far away from my house. I know the store of the complainant.

MAX FINKLESTEIN, for the defendant, sworn, testified:

I am employed in a Hebrew theatre as gasman. I left my house at 10 o'clock in the morning of the day that the defendant is charged with committing this crime. The defendant was not in my house at the time I left.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty of forgery in the second degree.
