By Mr. Lee
v
John Lee

My Honorable Friend
Clementina Hues
dear and my dear wife I reside in Brick Church Orange New Jersey: In the Sunday Herald of the last Sunday in December 1883
I saw an advertisement in the Herald calling for a lady to fill a permanent position as office attendant and bookkeeper address Foster
Herald Up town Office
I wrote to Foster and finally got his address
and saw him at 40
University Place He had left at 216 W. 40th Street
for me an address in a fly
of paper E. J. Lee. 22/11
22nd St. his boarding house & I was from there directed to 40 University Place. I explained that I came in answer to his advertisement he then told me he would engage me at a salary of nine dollars a week and would be compelled to take some security and would take fifty dollars because I could speak French and German and that said fifty dollars would purchase me a one fifth interest in the business. I thereupon gave him fifty dollars and he drew up a contract and asked me to copy the same which I did he thereupon signed it and gave it to me. The following day (Saturday) I called with my mother to ask the return of my money, he was not in, there was a man there in charge of the office, I believed there was some fraud about the matter and notified the police, under their advice I called at the office on Monday morning for the purpose of fulfilling my part of the contract, he was not there and they did not know anything about him. I then notified Detective Haley with whom I went to a Police Magistrate for a warrant and went with the officer to 40 University Place to arrest the man and we were informed there by Mr Hall that those were his rooms and that said Lee had no right in ~~those~~ ^{there} rooms and had no right to employ any person ~~there~~ in those offices, and that said Lee had swindled the said Hall out of seventy five dollars giving the name of Bates at the time.

0556

Deponent further says that the application for the extradition of said L. J. Lee is made in good faith, for the sole purpose of punishing the accused, and that she does not desire or expect to use the prosecution for the purpose of collecting a debt or for any private purpose, and will ^{not} directly or indirectly use the same for any of said purposes.

4-21
 The People } Court of General Sessions, Part II
 Patrick Pendergast } Before Judge Cowing.
 Indictment for larceny April 7, 1884.

John Allport sworn. I am an engraver and reside at 403 West Twenty Second St. and resided there on the 29th of February last. I had in my possession that day 43 yards of carpet worth $1.25 per yard. I got it about four years ago, but it has only been in use about a year; it was in a roll; it was in the front basement. I had not been there more than an hour I went there as a janitor. I missed it between four and five in the afternoon; the carpet was taken without my leave. I went out in the hallway and saw the defendant carrying the carpet into the yard. I said, "What are you doing with the carpet?" He said, "I am doing nothing with it. I am just moving it out of the road." What brings you in here anyway? He says, "I am moving it." I got hold of him and said, "You leave these premises ^{and} don't come back here any more." He went away. Some gentlemen there asked what he was doing and said he ought to be arrested. I did not want him.

arrested them; he came back again and lay in the hallway about an hour and a half afterwards. My wife and daughter and I were in the premises; he was asleep in the hallway. My wife told me to go for an officer and I found one. He was coming across Ninth Avenue.

Cross Examined. The hall was dark. The defendant was in the habit of going to this place to see the janitor who was there before this one for the purpose of getting odd jobs. The carpet was heavy. I did not know it then, but I learned it afterwards. I had just moved into this place.

Patrick Bendergast, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified I am 45 years old and live in Forty Seventh St. I know the buildings that have been spoken of here well; they are occupied as flats by different tenants. I never saw the janitor of the place before that afternoon. I know the janitor who was there before. I used to put coal in for him and help to take out the ashes. I went there on the afternoon in question when I heard that the janitor had left and a new man had come in. I went to get the same job of him.

I went up the hallway and I stumbled over this carpet. I took it in my hand, brought it down and left it by the door. I was speaking to a girl there when the complainant came to me. He came running around and accused me of stealing the carpet. I told him there used to be a lamp all the time there when the other janitor had charge and he had no lamp, but it was dark then. I told him I did not want to steal his carpet. I was speaking to one of the girls at the door. The carpet was not in my hand as he swears. The carpet was laid down at the time away from me. He told me to get away. I walked away. A while after I had some lunch. I sat down to eat it on the wood shed and I dropped off asleep there. The complainant got a policeman and had me arrested; they waked me up. I have been working in the eighth and tenth avenue car stables and was a fireman on the steamer Grand Republic. I never was arrested before for any crime; only for drunkenness.

06 12

Cross Examined It was about 4 o'clock when I went into the hallway. I had gone half way in it before I came across this carpet. There was no light whatever there. I thought some of the girls would fall over it. I came in from the rear and was going toward the front. I was not carrying the carpet into the yard. I guess the carpet was 25 or 30 feet from me when the complainant came up to me. I worked for Mr. Wilson at the car stables at the time they were burned. I did not have much to do with Mr. Wilson. Ben Everetts is the stable man. John Alford recalled. I do not know the width of the hall. I am positive that when I saw the defendant he had the carpet in his hand. I am also positive I saw the carpet in the room about ten minutes before that the defendant was on the step going into the yard with the carpet. It is not true that when I saw him the carpet was away from him and that he was talking to a girl. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny with a recommendation to mercy.
