The People of the State of New York on the Complaint of The Kirschkecht Manufacturing Company against

David Laughlan
and James J. Gaffney.

City and County of New York ss. Thomas Miller being duly sworn says, that he is the bookkeeper of the Kirschkecht Manufacturing Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York, in December 1876, and doing business at 190, 192, and 194 South Fifth Avenue, New York City; that at the times hereinafter mentioned the above named ^{defendant} David Laughlan was employed by said corporation as an assistant to the Carpenter, Solomon Borton, and among other things it was his duty to purchase for said corporation, under the instructions of said Borton, whatever supplies or articles were necessary to be used ~~by said~~ by said Borton as Carpenter of said corporation, which articles were purchased from C H Heathfield and Company, a firm doing business at 378 Canal Street, New York City, and composed of Charles H. Heartfield and ~~John~~ J. Grabin, in whose employ was the above named defendant James J. Gaffney. Deponent says that the manner in which said supplies and articles were purchased was as follows; the amount, or thereabouts as near as could be estimated, necessary to paid for any purchase, was given by the Cashier of said Corporation Joseph C. Holmes to said defendant David Leoughlan, who purchased and paid for the articles required and brought back a bill thereof to said Carpenter Solomon Boston, who thereupon examined said bill, and if he found the same correct and the articles were received by said corporation, signed or endorsed his name on said bill and returned it to said Leoughlan who thereupon brought it to said Cashier or to deponent with the difference ~~between~~ ^{between} the amount expended by him and the amount given to him by said Cashier.

0023

Deponent further says that upon the dates mentioned ⁱⁿ ~~upon~~ the annexed pretended bills of C H Heat-and Company field, and between April, ^{3rd} 1883 and June 21st 1883, at the City of New York, the said defendant David Leaghlan fraudulently and feloniously obtained from the said Kinscheidt Manufacturing Company the amounts of money mentioned therein, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $42.99, by falsely and fraudulently representing to said Holmes, Cashier, that ^{certain} the supplies or articles mentioned were needed and ordered by said Carpenter, ^{Borton} and by thereafter fraudulently and feloniously forging the name of S Borton, the said Carpenter, on each of said ^{pretended} bills and returning the same to said Cashier or this deponent. Deponent says that none of the goods or articles mentioned in said bills (except the first four articles mentioned in the bill of June 15th 1883) were ever ordered by said Borton, Carpenter, or purchased by said defendant Leaghlan or received by said Company, and that said bills are false, and ^{fraudulent} fictitious, and the ^{pretended} signatures of S Borton thereon ^{and to each} are forgeries.

0025

Deponent further says that the said Leoughlan was aided and abetted in said offence by the defendant James J. Gaffney who was then in the employ of the said C. H. Hartfield and Company, and who furnished said fictitious bills and made the said false and fraudulent entries thereon, and falsely and fraudulently receipted them in the name of said Hartfield and Company.

Deponent says that the said fraud and forgery above mentioned were discovered about the 21st day of June 1883, and that thereupon the said defendant Leoughlan admitted and confessed to deponent, that the said pretended bills, hereto annexed, were (with the exception of the said first four entries of the bill of June 15th 1883) false and fictitious, that the pretended signature of said S. Borton to each of said bills was forged, and had been forged by him with the intent to conceal from said Company that he had obtained

Said money fraudulently and had converted the same to own use, and the further fact that the articles mentioned in said bills had never been purchased and had never been delivered to said Company.

Deponent further says that the said defendant James J. Caffrey admitted and confessed to deponent also ~~admitted to deposit~~ that the last bill of June 21st and perhaps, he said ~~the~~ ^{other} three bills, ~~covering a period of two months~~ ^{covering a period of two months} and the terms therein, ~~and issues of June 21~~ (with the exceptions in bill of June 15th above stated) were false and fictitious, and that the amounts therein mentioned (with the exceptions of the first four items of said bill of June 15th) had never been paid to said Heartfield and Company.

Deponent further says that the said bills and the items thereof and the amounts thereof (with said exceptions of June 15th) do not appear upon the books of said Heartfield and Company.

Seponent further says that the above named defendants have run away ^{or absconded} and are keeping themselves concealed, and are not to be found in the City of New York, as deponent really believes, sworn to before me this 3d day of July 1883.

0027

City and County of New York ss.

2
Brooke Pottley being duly sworn says that she has known the above named defendant, and her mother, for over ten years, last past, that for many years defendant's mother has been land-lady for defendant, and defendant has carried clothing back and forth, and defendant always acted honestly with defendant, that during the time aforesaid, defendant has always borne a good character, her thoughts, seemingly, being mostly occupied with her Sunday School, and church, and it was a great surprise, to defendant, when he learned that defendant was charged with crime.

3

4 Dependent further says that the mother of defendant, a widow, is one of the most upright, honest, hardworking, religious, colored women, defendant has ever seen, or known, that her personal honor, reputation, and rectitude, is her first thought, and any disgrace of her daughter will be a punishment to her, who has always lived a most exemplary life.

5 Dependent, most respectfully, submits that, defendant being only 15 years of age, the Court, in its discretion, could send defendant to the "house of refuge". Yet, this being her first offense, he prays that defendant may be saved from contact with the prisoners in that institution, and that sentence be suspended, with the understanding that defendant shall, at once, leave the State, never to return to it. A Quaker family, near Philadelphia, will receive defendant, and while defendant will there remember and morn over her eyes, in her daily occupation, and surroundings, away from all evil influence, she will arrive at better things than could be accomplished by any imprisonment.
