The People
vs.
John Kelly.

Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Before Judge Cowing.

November 20, 1835.

Indictment for grand larceny in the second degree.

Walter E. Livingston sworn. I live at present at Larchmont Manor, New York and on the 2nd of November I lived at 16 West 36th Street in this city, I arrived in New York on the 2nd of November about half past eleven noon, from Terrisdale, Pa. I had a valise and a bag, before I arrived at Jersey City I gave the check to the Agent of Dodd's Express and then took the Elevated Railroad home, I got a receipt for the bag, it was delivered to me by John Kelly the prisoner,; the valise was not locked but it was one of those locks that press down but if you do not put the key in it it is locked sufficiently to be kept together by the catch, it had two straps beside. I had in the bag six scarf pins, two pair of ^{gloves} ~~socks~~ and seven or eight handkerchieves, a black cutaway coat, a pair of trousers and wearing apparel for one or two nights, I suppose the whole contents were worth a hundred dollars. There were missing three scarf pins, two pair of gloves and six handkerchiefs, I should judge they were of the value of thirty-two dollars, it is my property. On the evening of November 2 I saw one of the handkerchiefs and one pair of driving gloves, Officer Carmick showed them to me, I am positive that was part of the property that was in the valise when I gave the check to the baggage master.

Cross Examined. I am in no business. The bag was strapped tight, I didn't lock it because the key was lost. Would it be possible for that catch to open if anything go against it? Certainly, but the bag would not have opened because the two straps would have held it.

I saw the bag when it was delivered to me at my house at half past two, I left Torrisdale by the 9.03 train, I did not see my bag between that and half past two. Do you know whether the bag was loosened in the meantime? Yes, because the bag was not delivered to me in the condition it was given to the agent at Torrisdale, I don't know whether it was loosened on the car or not.

Stephen Carmic sworn. I am an officer of the 20th precinct and arrested the prisoner on the 2nd of November about seven o'clock in the evening in the office of the New York Transfer Company, 944 Broadway. He came with his wagon and Mr Morris, the Superintendent of the Company brought him in from his wagon to the desk in the room; the Superintendent told him that there had been a complaint that a bag that had been on his load had some property taken from it; he asked him if he knew anything about it; he denied all knowledge of having it. To the best of my recollection Mr Morris told him about the loss of the property and asked him about it; he said he knew nothing about it. Mr Morris asked him if he was willing to be searched; he hesitated and finally he consented to be searched; he was searched by me. What if any thing, did you find on him? I found a pair of gloves which the complainant recognized and Officer McNeal took the handkerchief out of his hand. We took the prisoner up to Mr Livingston's house and on the way up he told me that he found the other articles, the three scarf pins in his wagon; the complainant identified the property.

I asked him distinctly before I searched him, have you anybody else's property in your possession that don't belong to you, and he said no. Judge Smith asked him why he did not return them and he said he put them in the box at the end of the wagon under the seat and that he took them home; he did not say that he wanted to return them.

John Kelly sworn and examined in his own behalf, testified I worked as a helper in handling baggage for the New York Transfer Company. I got this stuff in the wagon after the valise was delivered and I did not know who it belonged to, so I took it and put it in the box over the wagon and when I was going home for dinner I took it home with me intending to return it to my own driver the next morning. I got arrested about seven o'clock the same evening. I did not see Mr Morris until I saw him at 614 Broadway, the driver was an extra driver, my driver was off that day. I did not intend to steal these articles. I told the officer that I found all these articles in the wagon, I worked for the New York Transfer Company over a year. When I was working for Mr Polgin I got arrested for using another man's label and put under five hundred dollars bail, I was working for this fellow washing labels off bottles and got arrested on his account. The valise was strapped when I took it over Debrosses Street, I did not unstrap it and did not see the driver unstrap it, I found these things at 36th St. and 7th Ave. after pulling down the baggage.

The Jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

BURGLARY was committed and the aforesaid property taken, stolen, and carried away byBernard Korman (now here)

for the reasons following, to wit:

Deponent is informed by Bridget Flynn, that on the above date, the said Bridget & Flynn was told that things had been taken from the deponent's place; that she
the said Bridget & Flynn on being so informed went to deponent's

premises ready to be taken away;
 that the said Bridger E. Flynn then removed the said property to the place she was employed in, and then told deponent of the manner and means whereby the property came into her possession;
 that the said defendant demanded
 the said property from the said Bridger E. Flynn saying to her
 "where are the things I got in the
