August Hoffman

Court of General Sessions. Part 3 Before Judge Fitzgerald. Jan. 23, 1933 Indictment for attempt at grand larceny.

James McAfferty, sworn and examined, testified. I have been connected with the Police Department for six years. I have been detailed as detective in Headquarters for pretty near two years and four years as patrolman. I know Maurice Beroil; he is also detailed in the same place. I recollect the 3^d of last December. In the afternoon of that day I was going through Twelfth Street and when near Sixth Avenue directly in front of Macey's show window, between half past two and three o'clock. Officer Beroil called me. I went over and saw the defendant August Hoffman in a crowd standing behind a woman and we watched him; we saw him place himself directly behind a woman and jostle her. The crowd was three or four deep. As soon as the woman would change her position either to another place or to go away, this man would remain for a few moments in the position he was in and then place himself behind another woman, never leaving the front of the show window for pretty nearly three hours, up to six o'clock. During that time I saw him lift up the flaps of several saccues trying to get at the pockets of woman. Finally I saw him place himself behind a young woman and saw him bend his right shoulder over a little. This was between half past five and six o'clock. I was behind him.

 As soon as I saw that, I stopped down and looked underneath the best way I could, right forward with my left hand and caught his ^{right} hand in the woman's right hip pocket and I held on to it until officer Benoit, who was immediately behind me saw it. The defendant's hand was sliding in the pocket. I caught the dress and all. I called the woman's attention to it and asked her in his presence if she lost anything. She said, no. I asked her name and she said she lived in Seventy Fourth street and refused to make any complaint. Benoit and I arrested him, and in going up the stairs of the Fourteenth street station of the Sixth Avenue Road, he said, "What is the use of arresting me? I did not get anything." We both said, "we will arrest you." With that he attempted to escape on the station. He made a crack at Benoit, and after we got him on board the train he shrieked and yelled like a lunatic, he fought all the way and resisted very violently. Did you make an examination of his clothing? Yes. I searched his clothing but did not find anything in his possession whatever. He gave me his residence as the Mascot house on the Bowery between Canal and West streets. He told me that he had been employed as a waiter in Beefsteak John's restaurant. I asked him which one I said he said the Park Row one. The name of the woman whose pocket he put his hand into I learned was Marice Fay. I had no talk with the defendant after that. When he was brought into the Police Court he made a statement to Judge Ryan, claiming that he had several professions - that he was a waiter, a machinist and a jeweler. He told Judge Ryan that he was studying machinery in front of the building because he was interested in the World's fair. In what I believe to be the discharge of my duty, that the defendant should get his rights under the law, I have no questions to ask this witness.

Counsel

Maurice Bernoit, sworn and examined testified. I am a police officer connected with the Central Office. I have been there nearly two years and previous to that I have done duty as a detective in the precinct. I know officer McCafferty. I was on Fourteenth street in the afternoon of the 3^d of Dec. When I first noticed this young man the defendant I was alone. It was about two o'clock when I first saw him in front of Macey's window. How long did he remain there? Up to the time of his arrest, which was between half past five and six o'clock. From the time you arrived until the time he was arrested did you see him? Yes, I saw him. My attention was attracted first by his actions. I saw him make several attempts to go to women's pockets. I saw him go behind women several times and try both sides of the dress. I saw him push his hand close to a woman's pocket. I saw him have his hand in his pocket several times and push up against women's sides. Near the time of his arrest, Officer McCafferty was in front of me, and I saw him (Officer McCafferty) grab his hand, which was then in the woman's pocket. He lifted it up so I could see. The electric light was brightly burning at the time. I saw him have his hand in. I believe he tore the woman's dress where he had his hand in. How near were you to him at the time? About a foot from him, I believe. Did you get any nearer than that? I was close to him, so he grabbed his hand. I was right on top of him you might say. Could you see his hand? Yes. I seen his hand in the woman's pocket. Mr. Cafferty held it there, so I could see it. What was said by the woman, by the officer or by yourself? Mr. Cafferty asked her name. She said, "My name is Marie Ray of 74th street." She refused to make a complaint at the time. So we took him then and we told him to come to the Elevated station. As soon as we got to the platform, he said, "What do you want to take me for?" I have nothing. He attempted to get away; he made a kick at me. He kicked you? Yes, he kicked me. What further, if anything did he do? He tried to get away; he threw himself around; we had to get hold of him. I put a pair of hand cuffs on him; he struggled to get away.

 Did you have any further talk with him?
 Not any more until we got to Headquarters, and he gave his occupation - in fact he told several addresses where he had been working. He did not tell the same story twice. He said his occupation was a waiter, and then the next morning, as Officer McCafferty stated, he told the Judge he was interested in the World's Fair, he was interested in machinery, he was a jeweler and watchmaker. I believe he said, or something of that kind.

James J. Valch, sworn and examined. testified. I am a detective sergeant connected with the Central Office. Do you recollect the 3rd of December 1892? I do. Where were you on the afternoon of that day? In Fourteenth Street and Sixth Avenue in front of Macy's. I was all along through the shopping district. Between five and six o'clock where were you? It was between two and three o'clock when I saw 'this man, the defendant. You saw him there? Yes. What was he doing at the time you saw him? I came to the corner of Sixth Avenue and Fourteenth street. I crossed over from the north side of the street, and I noticed this man standing in front of a woman. As the woman would come along he stood looking over this way (showing) and he would follow her along, and finally I saw him get his hand down in a woman's pocket. The first time he did not get the hand all the way in. He did that to four or five women, and finally there came along a middle aged lady with a shawl about her shoulders, she had two children, one on each side, one baby in her arms, and when he saw her he got in front of her and followed her up. She had the child up in her arms showing it the window which was the World's Fair exposed there. As soon as he got in front of her he got down his hand, and he had to go all the way down. The pocket was deep because he went almost to his shoulder, he had to stoop down to it. I watched him, I saw his hand come up; he did not have the woman's pocket book; he did not have anything in his hand. I noticed the woman afterwards had the pocket book under the child she was holding in her arms. There was another man there at the time. I told him to keep away. What did you see him do? I saw him act in the same way going into the pockets I might say of ten women after that. Then I had to go up the avenue. I had an appointment to meet a gentleman at Simpson, Crawford and Simppons and I left Bernoil and McCafferty there. I did not see the arrest of the defendant August Hoffman, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. At the time of my arrest I lived at the Mascott hotel, a twenty five cent lodging house. I remember the 3^d of December last when I was in Fourteenth Street. I took a walk down Broadway and Fourteenth street, and when I came near Sixth Avenue my attention had been drawn to a big show in the window - the show of the World's Fair of Chicago. I am a watchmaker and understand the business well. I worked eight years at it, but on account of my eyes I had to throw up the business for a long while and was forced to do something else. I had been employed as a waiter and as a janitor, and then I worked in the toy factory of Mr. Schlesinger in Crosby street, and I always made an honest living. When I came down near to Sixth Avenue my attention was drawn to that show the World's Fair. I stood there and watched the show for five or six minutes. Then I passed away and stood on the corner of Sixth Avenue and Fourteenth street. I stood against a water pipe and noticed three men standing under the steps of the Elevated stairs, and two of the men always turned around and looked at me. I did not know why they stood looking at me, I did not do anything wrong. I did not know what was the matter; the two kept their eye always on me. I went into Macey's store to buy some stockings. The store was so crowded with women that I could not get a show and I walked out. I had not been in the store half a minute. If I had been a pick-pocket I would not go into the store for half a minute or half a second. I made up my mind to go down Sixth Avenue and go home again. I went out of the store and passed the show on the corner. I stood there again and two officers jumped up to me just like a lion to his victim and grabbed me by the shoulder and twisted me around. He says, "What are you trying to do? going through this lady's pocket?" No. I says, search me if I got a pocket book in my pocket. "But the officer did not search me. One says, "I got the pocket book in my pocket, and the other officer says, "I seen the fellow he threw it away." They looked all around the sidewalk and they could not see any pocket book. Then the officer talked for a moment and stepped up to a lady and asked her if she lost anything? if she had her pocket book? The lady said, 'yes'. The officer asked her where she lived and she said in Sixth avenue. I forget the name she gave. Did you put your hand on that lady's pocket? No, the officer reached out and grabbed me by the shoulder and said, "you have got the lady's pocket book." I said I did not interfere with the lady at all. Did you put your hand into the pocket of any lady that day? No. The button of my suspenders broke and I reached in my hand to pull up my drawers. At that time the officer said, "young man, what are you trying to do, going through this lady's pocket? "I then asked the officer to show me a badge or papers, I said; I don't know you. "He says, Come along, and he pulled me by the coat. He tore my pocket. I went along nicely with the officer and we crossed Sixth Ave; and before we got up the steps of the station he put hand cuffs upon me. He had it so tight that I asked the officer if he would not please make it a little looser; I said, I cannot stand it, it is too hard for me." He insulted me and called me a bad name; there is no use to mention it. I said, if I am that kind of a man my mother must be a woman of the street. I respect my parents, and I do not want you to insult me in such a way. If you are an officer I don't care what you are; you come here in citizens clothes, and again I ask you, who you are? You could be a robber and thief and knock me down in some alley. I got knocked down eleven years ago in Cincinnati I had money sewed up in my shoes and the other money I had in my pocket was taken out. The chain on my wrist was so tight in the elevated Station, I halloed "murder" on the platform He knocked me on the head with an umbrella, and here is the mark (pointing to a mark on the head)

Cross Examined. I buy and sell and repair watches; that is the way I make my living I saw the ~~officers~~ ^{officers}, standing under the stoop watching me. I cannot tell how long they were standing there before I was arrested. The officers had been there when I came. When I came out of Macey's store I saw the officers there When I made the motion to put my hands in my pants I stood close to the woman, and the officer thought, "now we have got that young man sure this time," and he jumped up to me. He is mistaken when he said I had my hand in that woman's pocket. He pulled my hands out of my pants. I took a walk up the Avenue to enjoy myself. I was not in a hurry to go home. I just took a walk up Broadway. I had $2.25 in my pocket when I was arrested, a handkerchief, a pair of gloves, a bottle of tooth ache drops and a tin spoon.
The jury rendered a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy.

New York, Dec, 21/92.
Hon. Judge Cowing;
Dear Sir,

I wish to lay all the facts of the case before you, the people vs Wm N. Hollister, indicted for grand larceny. Yesterday in court, before court opened, the lawyer, O. J. Hochstadter, called me out and said he represented J. T. White & Co., in Hollister's behalf and that he was J. T. White & Co's lawyer. He asked me not to prosecute Hollister. He said "You want your goods and money and Mr. White wants to take Hollister back into his employ and sent me down here."

"I will guarantee you your $80⁰⁰ in ten days if you will help him out."

I have had no experience in a court before and of course was at a loss to know what to do.

He went up to your desk and as you know did all the talking, and I supposed it was all right until had time to think it over at home.

This morning I went to the office of J. F. White & Co.

Mr. White was greatly enraged to know that he was represented as saying he wished to take Hollister back into his employ, or help him in any manner whatever under any circumstances.

Mr. White also said, he had never seen the lawyer O. J. Hochstadler in regard to the case. I saw all the members of the firm together so there can be no misunderstanding.
Mr. White gave me a letter which I will send by tracer.

I will also send a letter which the lawyer asked me to sign last night, but which I refused to do. Mr. White will probably write to the lawyer and in all probability he will change his plans.

Hollister cannot get one single letter, showing his past good character, for his career has been nothing but wrong doing.
Mr Ruffhead, 93 Nassau
St. Room 1005 and Mr Weiss 176 E. 71st are among the people he has defrauded and stolen from.
The Yacht Publishing Co of 100 Broadway have employed Hollister and were defrauded out of about $500.
Mr Weiss was in court yesterday and is ready and willing to testify to his experience with Hollister

Hollister cheated Mrs Green, of 9 West 25th St. out of $35⁰⁰ board and his trunk has been held there for a long time.

I write this so that you might be fully informed & before the last moment, and trust that you will see that Hollister is fully deserving of the full penalty of the law and is not in any sense a person to whom clemency should be shown.

Yours very respectfully,
Mrs A.M. Willis

Statement of Morris London.

I live at no. 13 Eldridge Street. I am not working now I worked for Morris Juskowitz until last April. I was with him about four years. On Dec. 9th 1892 I went to Mr. Juskowitz's store at 7 o'clock in the morning. I then noticed that 4 Picture frames that I had placed on the shelf the night before were missing. I notified Mr. Weinberg of the loss. he notified Mr. Juskowitz.

About 10 o'clock I saw ~~an~~ an officer bring the defendant to the store. The officer told me to go up to the house of the defendant and see if I could identify the frames and if I could bring them down. ^{I and Mr. Juskowitz} I went up there. I identified the frames positively as the frames I had placed on the shelf in the store the night before. I was able to identify the frames as it was a new pattern, and although we had made a ~~great many~~ ^{one hundred} pictures ^{in same way} we did not make any of that color (Oak Color) before.

Someone asked the Def. where he got those frames. The Dept said that He bought them from Mr. Jackson 3 weeks before. I heard the Compt. tell the Dept. That he only made that color that week. I did not hear the Dept. Ans. About 6 mo.

before that I saw some pictures on Dept. List that the Dept had stolen.
 I did not over hear the conversation between Compt & Dept but I saw them talking together.

I colored those frames the day before the theft and I placed them on the shelf.

On the way to the Station House I heard the Dept. say that he had stolen some in the day time but never at night. That if he bought 3 he would carry out four

He fell on his knees and ~~said please let me~~ ^{said please let me} ~~that~~ ^{that} ~~you~~ ^{you} off this time. I have a wife & 5 children. I will never steal any more of your goods. and I will pay you $640 for those I now have on my cart. He also begged my wife to intercede for him. I let him off on that.

The officer went with me to house of defendant in Madison St. & there with Morris London & the officer & identified the picture frames as they were a frames made the day before & a new pattern I never had before. The officer then arrested him & brought him & frames to Station house where I also identified them.

Then I said where did you get these frames. He answered I bought them two or 3 weeks ago when I told him I never had that pattern till a day or two before. He said I bought them ~~from you~~ ^{from you} a couple of days before. He told the officer in my presence that he did not steal any goods from my store in about 6 mos.

Statement of Morris Jaskowitz.

I live at 31 Pike Street and do business at 19 Forsythe St. I deal ~~in~~ ^{manufacture} picture frames, and deal in pictures. I left my store at 8 P.M. on Dec. 8th and on leaving I locked the doors and went home. I returned to the store at 7.30 o'clock on the morning of the 9th. My son went to the store at 7 and he opened the door. He noticed that some things were taken from my store. My son came up and told me of the theft. Then I went down at 7.30. I made sure that the goods were gone. Then I went to the Station house and reported that goods were stolen from my store the night before for the 3rd time that week. viz Sunday night, Tuesday night & Thursday night. I said that I thought Jacob Horowitz stole them. (He used to be good friend mine for 4 yrs past) I said that I had found him about 6 mo. before that. I found the defendant in front of my store with my pictures and frames on his hand cart. I noticed some of my missing goods on his cart and ~~asked~~ ^{asked} him when did you get those. He said I got them in your store. I said I will have you arrested. Judge Randolph B. Martin

Dr Sir

As for your verbal request today, I write to advise you regarding W.H. Hutchins who comes before you, for sentence, tomorrow, on a charge of Grand Larceny. I have known Mr. Hutchins for ten or twelve years, and never before has he been guilty of any criminal act to my knowledge. He is an extremely bright & intelligent man who heretofore has only had the fault of drinking. The crime he now stands charged with was committed while under the influence of drink & the articles he took & pawned were taken while I honestly believe he was not in his right mind. As I understand it the articles thus taken have all been recovered except those belonging to Mr. Robt. Saussey, who will also write you in Hutchins' behalf. Thanking you for your courtesy to me today & trusting that you can see your way clear to help this unfortunate man I remain very dear Sir Yours very truly
