Memoranda
in case of Lorenzo Laurelio Jan'y 26th 1881.

Lorenzo Laurelio, working for Mr. Cooper a merchant tailor, at 100 Nassau Street came to Society's office with Louisa Lear 9 years and stated that he was until the 25th inst. rooming with girl mother and stepfather at 29 Frankfort Street - rear building and that the girl had told him on several occasions that the stepfather Oherman Lear had assaulted her and had sexual intercourse with her - Yesterday the mother Augusta went to the Hospital on Ward's Island and the little girl slept in the same bed with the stepfather, when he again had intercourse with her. Oherman Lear is a tinmith and the little girl has a sister Emily 14 years living with a family 9th av & 30th St who Laurelio claimed that the stepfather had also ruined.

Laurelio acted in a very strange and nervous manner which created suspicion with the officer in charge and to whom he made the complaint. The little girl Louisa, when examined in private, denied that the stepfather had ever assaulted her or wronged her in any way but was good and kind to her and her mother. When questioned how she came to make such statements to Mr. Laurelio, she said "he made her". That he had on several occasions said to her: "I know your father is doing bad things to you" and when I told him "no", he said I know " better and you must say so. Mr Laurello " has given me lots of candy and twenty five " cents and a carriage and this morning he " met me at the School in Vandewater Street " and took me to Central Park and bought " Coffee and pie and then brought me here" (Society's Office) When asked by the officer if anybody else ever done anything bad to her she said that Mr Laurello had done so and in her simple way went on to say that he frequently had her in his room and about two weeks ago (on or about Jan'y 13th) put her on his sofa and raised her clothing and placed himself on the top of her and inserted his penis in her private parts - When asked if it hurted her she said "yes" - When asked how long he laid on her she said "until something white came out" When asked if she ever told her mother she said no as Laurello told her he would not do it again - Laurello was told to call the next day to learn what Steps Society would take and the girl was placed in Society's Reception Room -

An Officer went to Emigrant Hospital on Ward's Island ^{and saw the mother} but she had never seen any assault but always noticed that Laurello was apparently very fond of the girl and always had her on his lap -

On or about the 13th of January, she entered his room suddenly and found him and the girl alone and at her entrance he jumped suddenly to his feet - could not say what position he was in before. The girl was sitting on the carpet. The mother questioned her if Laurello done anything to her which she denied. (Girl admitted later that she denied it for fear of punishment.)

Later in the evening the Steppfather came to Police Head Quarters and reported the girl as missing and gave name and description of Laurello who had given hints to the neighbors that the girl was all right and whom the Steppfather suspected of abduction. Laurello ^{apprehended and} was brought to Central Office and, in presence of Inspector Byrnes, repeated his charges against the Steppfather who was detained and Insp. Byrnes, and Off. Hickey of his command, came to Society's Office with Laurello in order to present the case to the Society. Girl in presence of Insp. Byrnes repeated her story identified Laurello and he was locked up and the Steppfather released.
