INDICTMENT—Assault with intent to steal as in the pocket.

OFFICE OF THE CLERK OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The People v. Court of General Sessions. Part I Michael ^{vs.} Egan Before Recorder Smythe. Aug. 2. 1880

Indictment for grand larceny.
George R. Blanchard, sworn. I live 16 Fifth Ave., on the 7th of July I owned two dogs; on that day one of my dogs was stolen by the prisoner who gave his name as Michael Egan. On the afternoon in question a gentleman was at my house negotiating some business matters, and as he left the room I thought of an additional question that I wished to put to him referring to a telegram about to be sent, and I stepped to the front window of my house which was open and which is covered by an iron rail and leaned over this iron rail to look at him as I expected him every moment to appear at my door and pass down the steps. It appears that he had met my wife in the hall and did not immediately appear, which gave me a moment to look about me. I saw the prisoner with two or three others standing halfway between the entrance of my house and the entrance of the Berkeley hotel, which is the next building I was looking out of the window and my servant appeared with these two dogs, the one in question costing sixty dollars, and the other one having cost seventy five dollars in London. The moment my servant appeared at the top of the steps one of the party shouted, "Hi, hi, Billy here they is." With that the dog started down the steps and one of the party fell against one of the dogs and reached up on the third step to get him; the dog being frightened started back into the house. The other little dog was five feet from the line ^{where my prem}ises ~~joined~~ ^{joined} the street and was frightened, so that literally the prisoner is correct in saying that the dog was seized on the sidewalk. These two men clapped their hands for the purpose of frightening the dog; the dog ran down the street and while still immediately in front of my premises struck the iron pipe which carries the water out of my yard on to the pavement. This hurt him and he fell down and doubled himself up when the prisoner fell upon the dog and stole or took him. Those are the facts. The prisoner started down the street with his associates. My friend, who had been to visit me, came out on the top step, and at my request followed him and then I followed him. I overtook the man in Eighth St. between Thompson St. and Fifth ave. The prisoner passed the dog over to one of his associates, I passed him over to the officer and made a complaint to the Captain and he was put under arrest. I gave sixty dollars in cash to Collins, who at that ~~time~~ had a dog establishment. The man who received the dog from the prisoner followed him to the Station house. Egan acknowledged that he took the dog. Cross Examined I cannot say that my wife offered the prisoner money if he would give the dog up but I would not be at all surprized if she said it. The dog was licensed; he had a number on his collar at the time; he did not have a muzzle on and he was not attached by a string; the prisoner had frightened the dog on the street line. The dog was on my stoop at the time the men clapped their hands. The prisoner told me he was a dog catcher, but he did not show me a badge. I do not know whether he showed the gentleman that was at my house a badge or not.

Michael Egan, sworn and examined on his own behalf testified. I live 428 East Thirteenth St. I was a licensed vendor. I am now a dog catcher, I got my license on the 5th of June from the Mayor's clerk. I went down on the 6th to Mr. McMahon, the pound master and showed my appointment to him; he wrote something on his book and asked me for a dollar and I gave him a dollar. I went out on the morning I was arrested I was out all night before with a horse and and I turned in an amount of dogs in the morning about 20 or 22. I slept until the afternoon between five and six and I went out catching them. I had two assistants with me, we had four dogs at the same time; they were holding them; we were coming up South St to Fifth Ave. I seen these two dogs on the sidewalk with this colored man standing. I made a chase to catch them. One ran up the stoop and the other one ran down below the stoop about ten or fifteen feet away from his premises when I took the dog off the sidewalk. The colored man asked me to give him the dog. I told him I was a dog catcher and that my assistant had the papers. This gentleman's wife offered me any amount of money if I would return the dog from the wagon. I told her I could not do it. The gentleman wanted to take the dog by force; the policeman came down. I told him how I took the dog. This gentleman made a charge that I took it from his stoop and the dog was on the sidewalk. He took me to the station house and the judge took the dog from my assistant. I did not intend to steal the dog. I intended to take the dog to the pound as I had been in the habit of doing all summer.

Cross Examined. I had a badge for 1880 on me at the time, but the badge for 1881 was in charge of another man.

John M. Mahon, the Supt. of the dog pound, testified that he gave the prisoner a badge in June when he brought a letter from the Mayor. The prisoner is a dog catcher and has delivered dogs to me from day to day.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny with a recommendation to mercy.

He was sent to the penitentiary for one month and fined ten dollars.

The People
 Michael Ruffan } Court of General Sessions, Part First. vs } Before Judge Cowing, July 15, 1881 Indictment for assault with intent to steal as a pickpocket

You are the complainant and a police officer of the 29th precinct? Yes sir. Did you arrest the prisoner? Yes sir. When and where? On the 11th Monday morning about ten minutes past three o'clock. On the 11th of July you arrested the prisoner did you? Yes sir. What attracted your attention to him? I observed him in company with two other young men walking through the square and he appeared to be watching looking for people sitting on the bench. I saw these parties up the square hanging around and looking at the man sitting on the bench, and they came back in front of this man and two of them stood facing the man. As they came back there was two of them stood facing the man and this young man, the prisoner, was searching the man's pockets there as he sat on the bench. As I approached quite close to him he got through his vest and was just turning his coat to feel on the inside of it apparently, and when they came in collision with me he knocked the hat off and ran. I shouted, "Stop" and he would not. He was stopped near Fourteenth St by one of the Fourteenth Precinct officers. I brought him back and the man said he had not lost anything. He would not make a complaint, so I took him (the prisoner) to the station house. You said you were walking through the Square, you noticed these three young men, they passed a man on the bench, they looked at him as they passed and the way they looked at him attracted your attention, they went back and stopped before him and this searching went on.

Yes sir. Cross Examined: Where did this take place, officer? In Union Square Park. What part of Union Square Park? The entrance in Fifteenth St. On which side of the Park? The West side. How far into the Park was the man sitting at the time you first saw him? About fifteen feet probably. How far were you from the prisoner at the time? I might have been about eight rods from him. Were you on the street or in the Park? I walked through the Park over to him. I walked through when I saw them coming back to this man I walked up toward him. What brought you into the Park? Seeing these men apparently together as if they were going to rob this man by their actions. When did you first observe those men? Walking around the Square a short while before this. Where were you the first time you saw this young fellow? I was between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets on the east side. And were they on the east side too? They came around and went out on the west side. Were you walking on the sidewalk in the Park or walking on the sidewalk on the street at the time you first saw them in the Park. Were you on duty in the Park? I go through there occasionally. That is not your line of duty is it in the Park? occasionally. Have they not got policemen dressed in gray for that purpose? Not at that hour in the morning. You were not on your beat? I was a little bit off it, yes. You got a little bit off your beat before you saw the prisoner at the bar? No sir. Did you get out of your beat? Following those three persons in the way they were acting and the complaint I had heard before of five or six of them in company I was watching these three. Were there two with him? Yes sir, two with him. How far did you follow them after you first saw them before they came to this man? I did not follow them at all; when they came back to this man I stepped across. This man was dressed in black and had a white shirt; by the actions of course I went over toward him to see that they did not rob him. How far were you from them at the time you saw them approach this man? I was pretty well on the east side of the Square and the man was on the west side. There were a number of trees and things between you and this man? Yes but there was a very bright light where this man sat; it was in the night time about ten minutes past three o'clock; it was star light in the morning of the 11th of July. Now was this man sitting? He was sitting asleep on the bench. Did he wake up? No sir, he did not. Did you speak to him? Yes sir. When did you speak to him? After I arrested the prisoner and brought him back. The man had been drunk; he was very chowzy and tired. He went through his person a little bit and said he had not lost anything and he would not make a complaint. The prisoner I saw fumbling around his clothes. I got very close to him. I saw him put his hand under the man's coat. I positively swear to that. I don't know whether the man had any valuables on his person or not. Micheal Egan, sworn and examined in his own behalf testified. I have heard the statement of the policeman. I did not attempt to steal anything from a man sitting on a bench in Union Square Park on the morning of the 11th of July. I did not go near the man for the purpose of stealing and did not assist anybody to steal anything from him. I was sitting on the bench before this man came there. I did not feel his vest pocket. I was sleeping on the bench and the officer woke me up. I was never in prison. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty. He was sent to the penitentiary for six months.
