In the within case I find that the defendant is a young man named and with a family who while in the employ of the complainant was employed to take the money instead of himself. I am nevertheless of opinion and finding himself unable to make satisfaction to his employment and feeling keenly his disgrace, he turned and begged for a discharge to make his appearance. I am more than convinced that with such a former good character as he presents in the letter filed here as well as information received that a suspended person would not work a complete reform. The complainant Mr. Gutman appears a man in this direction and I make and ask for such disposition of the case, satisfaction in a great measure has been made to the extent
