of No. 212 Mulberry Street, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that on the 22nd day of February 1885 at the City of New York, in the County of New York, John Kallmire, now here, did feloniously assault his wife Kate Kallmire by striking her on the left side of the head with a flat-iron, causing injuries to said Kate which resulted in her death about eleven hours after the time of said assault.

That deponent is a daughter in law of the deceased, and occupied the same room with her at 212 Mulberry Street. That deponent was in bed with her husband, it being about the hour of 5th o'clock on the morning of said day.
That the deponent and the deceased and their child, George Kallmire, then present, were lying together on a bed on the floor. That deponent heard the sound of a heavy door and heard the deceased groan and say Oh! That deponent immediately got up and the deponent then left the room, and deponent saw the deceased cut on the left side of the head and bleeding profusely. That deponent then went and notified about a minute or two after the deponent left the room she returned and looked at the deceased and said to deponent's husband - "Will I stay or go?" and my husband answered "you can do as you like," and he then said "Peter I guess your mother is going to die" and he then went out and did not return. That the deceased was taken to St.

TESTIMONY.

Dr. Justin Herold, being sworn, says: - On February 24th / 85, at the St. Vincent's Hospital dead house, I made an autopsy on the body of deceased, Catherine Kollmeyer, she had an old scar on the left side of her face. There was a compound comminuted and depressed external fracture of the occipital, and left parietal and temporal bones; there was extravasation of blood under the scalp; the brain was covered and compressed by a large surface clot, - extending eight inches one way and five inches another, and being one quarter of an inch thick. One of the fragments of the fractured portion of the skull was missing. There was no coma of both lungs, they were both congested posteriorly; firm adhesions of pleura on left side; there was chronic Bright's disease of the kidneys; the pyramids thereof being obliterated. there were fatty deposits in the liver and omentum; the liver was nutmegged in appearance; there was slight congestion of the mucous membrane of the stomach; all other organs normal.

Death in my opinion was due to shock, from compound comminuted fracture of the skull, and compression of the brain by clot

Dear Sir,

In answer to your communication of the 29th inst, I desire to inform you that Officer Frank Werner has been off the Police force the past three years, and I am unable to inform you of his whereabouts. The circumstances of the case are as follows. On February 22nd 1885 James Kelly residing at No. 554 West 42nd Street was arrested by Officer Frank Werner, charged by Complainant John E. Keigler No. 504 West 44th Street, with robbing him on 10th Avenue between 43rd and 44th Streets of a scarf pin valued at $30⁰⁰ and a chain and locket valued at $40⁰⁰. The prisoner was in company with three other young men. On being searched in the station house the scarf pin was found in his overcoat pocket, and the chain and locket was found in the street near the place where he was arrested. On March 11th 1885 James Kelly alias Paddy Gallagher alias Alect the Green was sentenced to six years and six months in State Prison by Recorder

Lewis A. London

of No. 316 East 49 Street, aged 27 years, occupation Butcher and at divers times ^{being duly sworn} ~~has~~ ~~been~~ ~~sworn~~ deposes and says, that on the 25 day of February 1885 at the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen and carried away from the possession of deponent, in the daytime, the following property viz :

Two hundred and eighty five dollars lawful money in bills of various denominations and gold and silver coins all the property of Deponent and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by Jessie Krumm now present from the following facts—to wit that she was a servant in deponent's employment for six months last past, and as such had access to where the money was kept that for the past four months deponent had been missing money from time to time some of which had been taken from a safe and another portion from deponent's clothes after he had retired for the night that on the night of the 24 day of February instant deponent had a roll of bills amounting to $896 in an inside pocket of his coat

Sworn to before me this

1885

Police Justice

0403

Which deponent hung on a nail or rack in his bedroom and on the morning following deponent discovered that $38 had been taken during the night from the aforesaid $896 - That deponent communicated the loss of said money to his sister who searched the room occupied by the defendants and found therein concealed in a rag bag on a shelf two hundred and eighty five dollars which deponent now charges was stolen and taken away from deponent the true owner thereof. That deponent is fortified in such belief from the fact that the defendants confessed and admits in Court that she did so take and steal the money missed by deponent on the morning of the 25th Instant and other moneys amounting to eighty five dollars deponent therefore alleges that the defendants stole the amount of money charged, she having the same in her possession and deponent charges that the same belong to him -
