 The People vs. Charles Miller { Court of General Sessions. Part I Before Recorder Smyth. Feb. 5th 1894.
 Indictment for burglary and larceny in the second degree and receiving stolen goods.

Jane Boyce, sworn. I live at 52 Henry St.
 About the 2nd day of January an overcoat of my husband's worth $28 was stolen. I went up stairs at four o'clock in the afternoon and I was only about ten minutes up stairs when I heard a slow footstep go down stairs and I ran down after him. I saw a man. I knew there was no man in the house at the time.
 He went down stairs from the top floor and went right out of the front door and I followed him and looked down the street. He went into a liquor saloon. I asked Loretta Burke who lives in the house with me and she said she saw a man. The overcoat was in my wardrobe. I live on the first floor. I missed the overcoat about ten minutes after it was gone. I did not see the man's face - only saw his back. There was a dress coat taken out of the wardrobe; it was rolled up and threw that under the bed up stairs.
 That was found later in the evening. I next saw the overcoat on the following day; the detective found it in a pawn office; he took me there and I released it. I don't 0408

Know the name of the pawn broker; the shop is near the corner of Catherine and Henry streets. Cross Examined. The front door was locked; the Key was in the wardrobe, but I am not certain if it was locked. When I turned the first flight of stairs the man was just going out of the front door; this was between four and five o'clock. It was light enough for me to see it was a man who was going out, but I could not see what kind of a looking man he was at the time Loretta Burke sworn. I live at 52 Henry St; the same house Mrs. Boyce lives in. I saw the prisoner about a month ago at the house; he is the man who came down off the stoop and whom I followed into the liquor store. I asked him if it was a mistake he made in coming into the house, and he says "yes." I went and told Mrs. Boyce; she was looking in the room to see if there was anything gone; she missed the coat. I told her I saw this man going down the stoop. When I saw the prisoner in the police court I said, that is the man I saw coming down off the stoop; he was not caught the same day but a short time after that. I don't know the man who keeps the liquor store that the prisoner went into. I saw that he wore a blue cloth over coat. I am sure now that the prisoner is the man. Cross Examined I am sure the prisoner was inside the door, for I saw him open the door as coming out. I saw a pocket book in his hand in the liquor store paying for a drink; he was near the door Carne lies Leary sworn. I am the officer who arrested the defendant. I went with Mrs.

Boyce to the pawn shop and recovered this coat. As I searched him I found several keys, three pictures and two wires used for picking locks. (Articles produced). I found a pawn ticket representing this coat which I recovered. I arrested him on the 23^d of January in the pawn office in Catherine near the corner of Henry St. He was then trying to sell the ticket to another man; the man would not buy the ticket until he saw the coat. On the pretence of looking for the coat the pawn broker sent word to me. When I came I saw the prisoner, and the ticket represented the coat which was stolen from the complainant. Cross Examined. I had information of this coat having been stolen and I searched the pawn brokers for it and I found it in this place. I told another officer to take the prisoner to the station house for me as I had to go on other business. The coat was identified by Mrs. Boyce in my presence.

Charles Miller, sworn and examined in his own behalf. I am living in Philadelphia and have been here since New Years day and am a ship carpenter by trade. I heard the testimony of the woman and the little girl; I was arrested in a pawn shop; the day before I was arrested I was not in New York city. I was not at 52 Henry St. on the 2nd. I recollect this little girl. The party from whom I bought the pawn ticket told me he was boarding in Henry St. and I went around several places enquiring for him. I went into a lager beer saloon to get a glass of beer and this little girl came in; she said, "Did you make a mistake?" I says, "yes." I did not steal any coat out of that house. I bought the ticket for a dollar from a man whose name I do not know. I was in the pawn shop at the time. The ticket represented an overcoat. I had no use for it, and the man whom I asked to purchase the ticket said he wanted to see the coat first. We went to the pawn shop for that purpose, and while there I was arrested. I never was arrested before for anything. Jane Boyce recalled. This coat belonged to my husband; he had it since the latter part of last winter, it was very little worn; he paid $28 for it. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of petty larceny. The prisoner was sent to the Penitentiary for twelve months.

The People vs. Junie Murray } Court of General Sessions. Part I.
 Indictment for grand larceny in the first degree. } Before Judge Leawing. Jan. 31. 1884.
 Maria Gutchie, sworn and examined through the Interpreter. On the morning of the 24th of January last I was going to a steamer which was going to San Francisco at 9 o'clock I met the defendant on the street at 2 o'clock in the morning; she said, you had better spend some time with me; he said, it was too late; she said, it is better to spend a while with her, and he asked how much she would charge? She said, one dollar; when on the way she threw her arm around his neck and searched all his pockets and she robbed him of all the things he had - a watch and chain and five dollars and a bunch of keys (Witness identified a bunch of keys shown him.) He had them in the pocket with the money. After that the policeman came and arrested her. Cross Examined. I don't know whether there were any other women around or not. I did not understand all the woman said to me, but I understood that she said to spend a short time with her. We did not stand talking, but we spoke on the way together. It was only a short time after she first spoke to me that she put her arms around my neck. I did not notice then I was robbed. It was about ten minutes afterwards I thought I would see what time it was and I found the watch was lost. It gave me much displeasure when I found I was robbed and when the policeman came I complained to him. I don't remember how many blocks I went to go to her house. I am sure she took the watch and money. The watch was a new silver watch worth twenty five dollars, and I bought it three weeks ago. I don't remember the street.

Franklin W. Lake sworn and examined. I am an officer of the Sixth precinct. I arrested the defendant on the morning of the 24th of January last corner of Bowery and Pell st. at two o'clock; it was 2.15 when we got to the station house. I was going through Pell st. from the Bowery and I heard quite a noise on the corner of Pell st. and the Bowery. I went there and found the complainant and this woman evidently quarreling. As soon as he saw me he halloed he was robbed and wanted me to arrest her. I questioned her and him considerable and finally took her to the station house; he said he lost a watch and chain and some money as near as I could understand him. She was searched at the station house and all that was found upon her was four pieces of Japanese coin and Three Keys; They were found in a suit of garment she had over her dress; the complainant identified them as his property. There was quite a crowd congregated in the Bowery as they saw me; there were women in the vicinity. I asked the prisoner if she robbed that man? She said; 'no'; that he would "hang" anybody; she had no hat or shawl on at the time. Nothing was found on her but the Keys and the Japanese money. She evidently had been drinking; she was not what you would say drunk. Anybody that knows the vicinity of Bowery and Bayard St. knows there is somebody there all hours of the night. When they saw me it attracted a crowd, but at the time I came up the prisoner and the complainant were standing alone. Ann Murray sworn and examined in her own behalf testified. Do you remember the morning of the 24th of January when you were arrested? Yes sir. I was arrested on the corner of Pell St. and the Bowery. The Japanese made a charge against me of robbing him. I was passing along the Bowery I had a little drink taken and he spoke to me. He says. "If you come with me

I will give you a dollar. "I says, "All right," I walked along. I walked a block and a half to Bell st. I went up stairs, and he did not come and I looked down. The girl that keeps the place said, "There is nobody coming up." I came down and I saw a crowd. I looked around and the complainant pointed me out and said I took his watch; he said that to the officer. I never had anything to do with the man and never left my hand to him. I had been drinking that night, but I understood well what was going on. Cross Examined. I met the complainant in Chatham st. just about a block and a half from Bell st. He was taking me to a bed house in Bell st. Then the complainant said it was me the officer arrested me on the corner of Bowery and Bell st. I stop at 10 Washington st. I hardly know why I was cut. I had a little drink taken. How did you get possession of this Key? I dont know anything about the Keys. The officer found them under your dress? They must have been put there, but my hands never put them there. He tells stories when he says I put my arms around him. I wash and iron when I get it. I dont make a practice of soliciting, but it might be when I was broke.
 The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.
