Dear Sir -

In the case of the People vs John Finneman, who has been indicted for receiv-ing stolen goods, I wish to say that I have known Mr Finneman for more than ten years and know him to be an honest man. He would no more re-ceive goods knowing them to be stolen than I would myself. I intended to be present at his trial to bear testimony to his uniform good character during all the time I have known him but I cannot get down town this morning as I have to attend the funeral of

You may rely upon his entire truthfulness in any statement he may make.

tomorrow I would like to be a witness in his behalf, but at all events I hope you will receive this assurance from me of the man's straight forward, manly honesty. There has either been a mistake made in bringing the charge against him or there is some sinister motive actuating those who have preferred it.
He was formerly employed in the park about his place when the force was cut down. Scarcely he has been trying to make a living for his family by keeping a livery cab & I am told that others engaged in that business in his neigh-borhood are jealous of him & are endeavoring to injure him. However that may be I believe he is innocent of this charge & I hope that you will see
