MRS. DUDLEY SENT TO AUBURN.
Mrs. Lucille Yseult Dudley, who in February of last year attempted to shoot O'Donovan Rossa and who since her trial has been confined in the lunatic asylum at Middletown, was last Monday transferred to the lunatic asylum for the insane criminals at Auburn. About a month ago an effort was made to secure her release under the condition that she would return to England. Judge Brown, of the Supreme Court, before whom the matter was brought, was willing to consent to her discharge under that condition, but the plan failed, because the woman could find nobody in this country ready to guarantee payment of the expenses of her return. The State Board of Charities was then appealed to, but refused to act on the ground of lack of funds.
When told that she would have to be removed to some other asylum Mrs. Dudley expressed a desire to be transferred either to Poughkeepsie or Utica. But the laws of 1884 gave the asylum authorities no option in the matter. They were compelled to send her to Auburn. An order was procured from Judge Brown and the transfer was made on Monday. She went willingly and without causing any trouble, and seemed apparently resigned to her fate.

MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT.

New York, April 6th 1885.

Dear Mr. Martine,

I have been ill, and confined to the house since the day I saw you, and so have been unable to get to the city to make the examination requested by you.

I am afraid I have been remiss in not notifying you sooner, but I expected each day to be well enough to go over, and I did not anticipate the case coming up so soon.

I see by the papers that one phase of it is set down for argument to-day, and so write at once.

I think that I shall be able to make the examination within the next three or four days if that will answer your purpose.

Yours very truly,

A. E. MacDonald.

Very Pressing

Sir,

With reference to the Insanity Certificate which was transmitted to you on the 29th ulto: in the case of the prisoner Lucille Sudley in Leamington Prison, I have the honor to state that the Surgeon of the Gaol reports the case to be "most dangerous," and asks for a Warrant for the lunatic's removal to an Asylum as soon as possible.

Sir,

I am directed by the Visiting Justice of this Asylum to draw your attention to the case of Lucille Dudley and to ask that she may be transferred to the Broadmoor Criminal Lunatic Asylum.

Her History is as follows:-

On September 12th last she was found by the Police in a state of insensibility in a Railway carriage at the Brighton Station, and was taken to the Hospital; where it was ascertained that the unconsciousness was due to chloroform. She was then summoned before the Brighton Bench of Magistrates and committed to H.M. Prison at Lewes on a charge of attempted suicide.

She was there certified to be insane and was removed to this Asylum on October 9th inst: under a Warrant

Signed

signed by yourself on October 2nd

The grounds on which the Visiting Justices base their present application to you are as follows: -

It is certain she is not a native of this county, although to what locality she belongs has not been clearly ascertained.

She is homicidal and suicidal to a marked degree, and at times very destructive, so that it is necessary always to have at least two nurses always with her, & to impose restrictions on her, and to tighten the discipline of the asylum, in a way inimical to the other patients.

In effect, she belongs to that distinct class of the insane, to which has been given the name "Criminal Lunatic," and as such is out of place

Sir,

I write to call your attention to the case of Lucille Dudley who was admitted into this Asylum from Lewes Gaol on October 9th 1883 under a warrant signed by yourself.

I would remind you that she was committed to Gaol for having attempted suicide at Brighton, & that after commitment she was found to be insane and was sent here. On the case coming before the Recorder of Brighton he dismissed it on the ground of her insanity.

She appears now to have lost all suicidal impulse & she never had any intellectual lesion, though doubtless she has a congenital depraved Moral sense.

Her Guardian the Rev. A. V. Pickering Rector of West Chillington and General Brownrigg C. B. J. P., of 28 Lawdnes St. are willing to become responsible for her.

The People Court of General Sessions, Part I.
Lucille Vesult Dudley. Seated on the bench, Judge Aldersleeve.

Tuesday, June 30, 1935.

Alexander E. Macdonald sworn and examined by Mr. Butts.

Q. You are a doctor by profession I believe?

A. I am.

Q. What at present is your occupation, doctor?

A. I am a practising physician and superintendent of the asylum for the insane in Ward's Island.

Q. And how long have you held that position?

A. For the past ten years.

Q. And during that time has it become necessary for you to make mental diseases a special study, has it not?

A. That had been my special study before..

Q. That had been your special study?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Have you been quite often called as an expert in criminal trials where the defence was insanity?

A. I have from time to time, yes.

Q. You are familiar with the disease of insanity and its manifestations are you?

A. Yes, sir, that has been my specialty in medicine.

Q. Were you ever called upon to examine the mental condition of the defendant at the bar?

A. I have been, yes sir.

Q. State when and under what circumstances and by whom?

A. By the District Attorney of this county shortly after the shooting for the purpose of reporting to him what I judged her mental condition to be.

Q. And in pursuance of that authority did you make such examination?

A. I did, sir.

Q. At what place?

A. I saw her twice at the City Prison and once at the Jefferson Market Court prison.

Q. Will you give to the Court and Jury, Doctor, the result of your examination?

A. I made up my mind that the woman was insane.

Q. Have you heard the testimony in this case, any of it?

A. I heard a portion yesterday, yes sir.

Q. I mean the evidence for the defence?

A. No sir; none.

Q. Suppose then Doctor, that this woman whom you have seen should be proved that she was subject to epilepsy, that she had several epileptic fits on the 14th and 16th of January and believed that O'Donovan Rossa was connected with the recent explosion in London, and she being a native English woman, what effect would those things have upon such a person as you found Yasult Dudley to be?

A. They would be liable to incense her against him and be apt to lead to violence on her part toward him.

Q. Will you state Doctor, if one of the manifestations and results of epilepsy is, to leave the mind of its subject in an irritable condition?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Will you state if it is not one of the distinct marks of epilepsy that it does not create an impression in the mind which the subject sometimes desires to perform and if the reading of a crime soon after the attack of epilepsy will not sometimes excite the subject to the committal later of the destructive act?

A. That is so in all cases, in all forms of insanity and not characteristic of epilepsy alone.

Q. It is also characteristic of the disease I have named?

A. No sir, I would not call it characteristic of it, that is common in all forms of insanity.

Q. Common in all forms?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Taking into consideration then the general condition of this woman, what would be your opinion as to her state of mind on the 2nd day of February last when this alleged crime was committed - do you believe that she was responsible for her act and capable of distinguishing right from wrong?

A. I believe she was irresponsible owing to insanity.

Q. When did this examination you made take place, Doctor?

A. The first one on the 30th of April, the second one on the 2nd day of May and the last one on the first day of this month.

Q. The first day of June?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You have had no reason to change your mind but found her condition to be the same in all these examinations?

A. Yes sir.

Gross Examined by Mr Nicoll.

Q. Doctor, you stated in your direct examination that from your examination of the defendant made at the request of the District Attorney, that you found her to be insane, will you now state to the jury specifically the ground of your judgment that she was insane?

A. I found that she was and had been for some time a sufferer from epilepsy, that she had fits while she was in the prison; I found that from herself and from the statements of others. I found that she had been as I judged, a case of chronic mania for a number of years, that she had delusive ideas as to her relation to this man whom she shot, that she imagined that she had the right to try him, as she said - that she put him upon his defence, had given him the opportunity of showing to her, of proving to her that he was not guilty of those matters of which she accused him; that he had failed to do so and that she thereupon shot him, that is, she punished him for crimes that she believed he was guilty of. She said also that he was only one of three that she had determined to punish in this way, that he happened to be the first of the three which came in her way and she punished him first; that she accorded him these different interviews so that he might have every opportunity of establishing his innocence and of defending himself properly and that she punished him after he failed to do so.

Q. Now state, Doctor, if you please, the character of her insanity, whether it be an acute or harmless form of insanity or a dangerous, homicidal form?

A. I regard her as a case of chronic mania complicated with epilepsy - as chronic and incurable in its nature and as extremely dangerous.

Q. Have you made yourself familiar since you made your examination of her with the facts in her past life including the fact of her incarceration as a criminal lunatic in an asylum in England?

A. I had made my own examination and made my report to the District Attorney, and he read to me some of the details of her past life and the fact of her confinement in an asylum in England. That confirmed of course, my own judgment.

Q. That confirmed your judgment in regard to her?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Have you formed any opinion as to her present condition, doctors?

A. I believe her condition is a continuous one.

Q. It is continuous, chronic mania?

A. Yes sir.

Q. With the tendencies which you have suggested here?

A. Yes sir.

0961

William L. Hardy sworn and examined by

Mr. Butts.

Q. Doctor, you are a practising physician in this city?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How long have you been in practise?

A. Fourteen years.

Q. You have heard the testimony of Dr. MacDonald, have you?

A. I have.

Q. To what extent do you endorse what he said?

A. Wholly what he said.

Cross Examined by Mr. Macoll.

Q. Did you make an examination of the subject?

A. I have.

Q. At whose request and under what circumstances?

A. I was asked quite a while after her incarceration to examine her in regard to her insanity by the District Attorney.

Q. And in pursuance of that request of the District Attorney did you examine her?

A. Yes sir, quite a number of times.

Q. Where did you examine her?

A. Principally for about two months I saw her very frequently at the prison, at the Tombs and last Saturday I saw her again at Jefferson Market.

Q. State somewhat in detail if you please Doctor, the ground of your belief as to her insanity?

A. Well, she understood she had a special mission to rid this country of dynamiters, that that was her special mission, that she had some indistinct authority from the English Government though she could not say where or why.

Then it is principally too upon her actions. She is irritable, extremely nervous, and in talking she could not remain quiet; she had tremors of the face, the muscles of the lips, the muscles of the eyebrow and she has been subject to a form of epilepsy called petit mal. I should judge from her character because she could describe the aura or approaching symptoms that announce these attacks to her. Then she had insane projects. One of the projects was, she was going after she got acquitted here to lecture through the country to counteract the effects of O'Donovan Rossa's teachings against the English government and that she had various missions to perform as a nurse in Soudan or as a nurse in India; and then she gave me the previous history of her life up to the time she committed this deed, showing that she was actuated by a sudden impulse - any idea came in her mind. She gave me a history of her life; she committed suicide twice, and I also saw a letter from the superintendent of an asylum in which she was confined on the other side.

Q. You meant an attempt to commit suicide, Doctor?

A. I only know that she attempted to commit suicide; yes, I stand corrected.

Q. Now Doctor, did you form a judgment as to the character of her insanity whether it be an acute or inoffensive mania or a dangerous homicidal mania?

A. I think it is a dangerous mania and a chronic mania, one liable to last the whole of her life.

Q. Have you made yourself at all familiar with the reports upon this woman's condition which we have brought from England?

0963

A. No sir, I have not.

Q. You have not seen those?

A. No sir, I have not.

Q. Would your judgment as to her condition be confirmed or not by learning that she been incarcerated in an asylum in England as a criminal lunatic with homicidal tendencies?

A. I formed my judgment before I had known that except so far as I had seen in the newspapers.

Q. That would confirm your opinion would it not?

A. That would confirm my opinion.

Q. Have you made the study of mental diseases a specialty in your profession?

A. Yes sir, as I have been for the last seven years examiner in lunacy for the department of Public Charities and Corrections.

Q. And during that time a great many cases of insanity have come under your notice, have they not?

A. About twelve hundred a year.

Q. You have had occasion I presume, many times before to be an expert in cases in court?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you report the results of your examination to the District Attorney?

A. Not a written report.

Q. But did you state in substance your result?

A. Yes sir.

Q You are attached to the Chamber Street Hospital?

A I am.

Q Do you recollect the 2^d day of July instant?

A I do.

Q Was there a man brought into the Hospital on the afternoon of that day?

A There was.

Q State what occurred?

A He walked into the Hospital between friends and was directed to the back room in the dispensary.
 He stated he was shot in the back. His clothes were removed by attendants and I made an examination and found one

Center of left scapular in the back a small wound. On probing the wound the probe entered easily in the direction upward and inward toward the median line. The bullet was not found.

Q What kind of a looking man was he?

A He was a medium ~~man~~ ^{size} man, sparely ~~built~~ ^{built} and of good muscular development. He had a sharp ^{face} ~~profile~~. I have been a physician three years. The wound was caused by a bullet about 8 or 9 caliber. He gave me his name as Jeremiah O'Donovan Rossa.

Mr. Fullerton here stated that it would not be surprising it was O'Donovan Rossa who was shot.

Q Did you see this Prisoner, Miss

A I was going from my office to Broadway on the south side of the street. When I got as far as the Dist. Atty's office I saw a lot of people on the other side of the way
coming towards Court Street.
I saw them following the prisoner, who had something in her hand. The people would crowd upon her and she would turn about and they would then fall back.
I ran across the street and I took a pistol out of the prisoner's hand. I mean the defendant here present.

I examined the pistol and found the hammer down and I put it in my pocket.

 The pistol was warm. I asked her who she shot, she said
 "I shot O'Connor Rossa."
 I asked her what she shot him for and she said "I wanted to kill him." I asked her what she wanted to kill him for, she said "because he is an enemy of my Country."
 I told her she was a prisoner and took her to the City Hall Police Station. I gave her the pistol I took from her & the Sergeant behind the desk
 in the Station home.

Cross Examination of Mr. Fullerton - Q Did she state anything more when she said Rossa was an enemy of her Country?
 A No.

Whether suicidal or dangerous to others.

Lucille Dudley? (Name unknown on committal) was remanded here from Brighton on 13th Sept. 1883 for "attempting suicide" & was committed for trial on 20th Sept 1883 for same offence. The deputy Medical Officer of the Prison S. W. F. Crosskey considered her to be suffering from suicidal mania when under remand here but the House Surgeon of the Sussex County Hospital Mr. Scott & the Police Surgeon Mr. Rogers considered her to be of sound mind. She is at times very violent and destructive and she has assaulted several Prison Officers & threatened to murder them.

Supposed cause

The prisoner alleges that after being married - she found her marriage was void - on 4th of her supposed husband having a previous wife living - which has preyed upon her mind.

Chief delusions or indications of Insanity

The Medical Officer is requested to arrange the information here required under the two following sub-divisions

1. Facts indicating insanity observed by himself

She persistently asserts that she has a perfect right to commit suicide if she chooses - she refuses to promise not to do so again and says she will do so the first chance she gets. She has made several attempts whilst here when released from personal restraint for the purpose of taking her food as (she has tried to starve herself refusing food &c) required by the Regulation & once when actually under restraint in a Canvas Jacket. 3 by strangulation & once by clutching her throat with her hands & by holding her breath and pressing her face in the pillows.

2. Other facts (if any) communicated to him by others stating from whom such information is derived.

The Matron of the Prison Mrs. Margaret Watson informs me that she, the prisoner tells her she had meditated self-destruction for two years past - and that - sometimes when she would like to do it something prevents her & at other times she cannot prevent herself from trying to do so, and at the latter times she has severe pain over the top of her head.

10 16

Whether subject to Epilepsy Not so far as known. has some kind of hysterical attacks at times & seems then semiconscious only.

Whether of temperate habits Not known

The Pilot.

Boston, March 14, 1885.

Mrs. LUCILLE DUDLEY has been traced through Ireland, where she was "on duty" last year as an English detective, employed directly from Scotland Yard, London. She was in Dublin in company with "Mrs. TYLER," at which time she acted as "Mrs. TYLER's" assistant or "maid." In Sligo, however, Mrs. DUDLEY acted alone, and registered at the hotel as "L. DUDLEY." On her box and portmanteau, however, it was noticed that her initials were printed "L. D."—so that "LUCILLE" and "YSEUT" were not quite invented for New York. The Sligo Champion follows her, step by step, and gives the dates and registers. We understand that O'DONOVAN ROSSA will not prosecute the woman; but it is well to establish the fact beyond question that she was employed by the English Government as a spy, if not as a murderer. The Sligo Champion of Feb. 7, says:—

"Most of the readers of the Champion are, doubtless, in remembrance of the facts connected with the visit of a female detective to the town of Sligo in July last; we at that time called attention to some of her proceedings while among us, and of a certain episode in the life of a local gentleman connected with the Government. When it became an open secret that she was the female detective who had been, a short time before trying her hand in Dublin, she at once quitted the town. Her luggage bore the initials 'L. D.', and it was remarked by those who came in contact with her that she had an eminent fondness for introducing the subject of dynamite. Now, according to the telegrams received from America relative to the shooting of O'DONOVAN ROSSA his would-be assassin is one YSEUT DUDLEY, but the real name is LUCILLE DUDLEY. There is something remarkably coincidental in all this. We have had in July, in Sligo, a 'female policeman,' as she was termed, whose luggage was marked 'L. D.'; she sought lodgings as Miss DUDLEY here; and in Ballina, we understand, that when stopping at an hotel in that town, she gave her name as Miss DUDLEY again."

Dear Sir:

The State Board of Charities recently referred to a committee of which I am one, the case of the woman who shot O'Donovan Rofa, and was sentenced as a criminal lunatic, and who is now confined at Middletown, in the House of the Asylum for the Insane.

The Board, having authority to return alien paupers who have been shipped to this country, the question is, did she come here of her own volition and with her own means - or was she shipped here as a troublesome lunatic. She refuses to give her real name, or the names of her friends; but from statements made by her, we infer that she was shipped here by either her guardian, or the poor authorities, and perhaps under the supervision of the House Officer. In either case, we believe she was shipped here within a few days after release from an insane asylum, in which she was placed on the ward for the violent and disturbed cases.

Will you be good enough to advise me if there is anything in your office, or connected with her trial, which will throw light on these points. I suppose that the Board could not exercise its power to return an insane women when she had them, leaving her to the care of my wife and Miss Chalmer - so that I can't say much about them -

To the fifth interrogatory he said:

I remember the explosions referred to took place last winter, I cannot tell the date -

To the sixth interrogatory he said:

I saw the account in the paper first, one Sunday morning. Had a talk with the prisoners about the matter later that same day -

To the seventh interrogatory he said:

She came to our house about noon that Sunday. She had a bundle of newspapers under her arm, the same containing the account of the dynamite explosions which she said she had been reading -

Wm J. Day
Commissioner

I was sitting in the front room - She came into the house without ringing the bell, and into the room where I was sitting.

 She appeared to be very excited - She threw the bundle of papers down on to the table, and walked up and down the room - I said to her "Mrs Dudley, if I were you, I'd try to keep cool." She said "No" - Then she'd sit down, then rise and walk about the room again.
 She remarked that it was an outrageous thing, this explosion - She was uttering a good deal to herself as she paced the room, so that I could not catch all she did say - She said that "Donovan O'Rossa was at the bottom of the matter, and that he ought to be drowned or hung" or something like that - She laid the whole blame of the explosion upon him.

To the eighth interrogation he said:

While we were talking together my wife came in out of the kitchen - Mrs.
 Dudley was very much worked up. I tried to quiet her, and my wife also, but the more we remonstrated with her, the more irritated and excited did she become.

Wm J. Day
 Commissioner

To the ninth interrogation he said:

She was any thing but right; an insane woman I should think -

To the tenth interrogatory he said:

She often acted like an irrational person. It was the topic of her conversation all the while she was at my house, from the beginning, that she would take her own life. I felt that she was insane, and was fearful that she would harm either herself or ourselves - and so tried to keep her away from the house -

To the last interrogatory he said:

Having nothing more to add. From what I saw of the woman I believe she was an irrational person, and it is my candid opinion that in shooting O'Rossa she was irresponsible and insane.

Deposition of Witnesses produced and examined the eighteenth day of June 1888 at my chambers 766 Broad Street in the City of New York New Jersey, under & by virtue of a Commission issued out of the Court of Oyer & Terminer of the City & County of New York in the State of New York in a certain cause then in pending & at issue between the People of the said State of New York & Lucille Y. Dudley, as follows:

Mrs. Emily Iney ad,^{wife of} Frederick Ineyd of 608 Hamburg Place in said City of New York, aged twenty nine years & upwards being duly and publicly sworn pursuant to the directions hereunto annexed & examined on the facts of the said defendant, doth depose and say as follows:

Wm. J. Day
Commissioner

To the first interrogatory she saith:

I am his wife, and reside at 608
Hamburg Place in the City of Newark
New Jersey.

To the second interrogatory she says:

I do know the defendant Lucille Y.
Dudley. I have known her since November 1882, when I first met her. I cannot remember the day of the month.

To the third interrogatory she says:

She was -

To the fourth interrogatory she says:

She, the defendant, was sick at my house; my home then being at 47
Plane Street in said City of Newark.
She was sick twice, being taken with two severe epileptic fits. Both attacks were in January 1885, the first on a Monday, and the second on the Wednesday next following. She was taken with the sickness while lying on a sofa, going off suddenly in a faint scream, very rigid and foaming to mouth, unconscious, and

Wm J. Day,
Commissioner

remained so during the whole time of the attack. She had fourteen fits in succession, bit her tongue, and it was quite painful for her to eat or speak the next day.

To the fifth interrogatory she saith:

I have never been a hospital nurse, but have been a private nurse for mental ^{and} paralytic diseases. I had two years experience in such capacity, being engaged almost constantly during the whole of that period in nursing such diseases.

To the sixth interrogatory she saith:

I have had charge of no wards. I have had many patients suffering from epilepsy under my charge. Nearly all my patients were epileptics, so that I am very familiar with the symptoms and manifestations of epilepsy, and am ^{well} able to speak as to Mrs. Dudley's disease.

To the seventh interrogatory she saith:

She suffered from epilepsy.

To the eighth interrogatory the witness -

Mrs. Dudley was first attacked with epileptic fits at my house in January last. It was on a Monday, but I do not remember the date. I have no other description to give of the fits than I have already given. I was in the room, sewing, when she went off in the first attack. She was not well and was lying on the sofa. I had noticed the day before, Sunday, that her eyes looked queer, - very strange, - sometimes being very dull, and at other very glaring; but I had no knowledge of her being subject to fits until she went off the next day, as I have described. She was taken with the fit between twelve and one at noon, and continued under the influence of that and the succeeding thirteen fits, all the afternoon, until four or five o'clock, I should judge. Then we put her to bed, and she continued thus unconscious and in a very deep sleep until the next morning. The next morning she got up, but was very weak & unable to walk about, so that she lay on the couch the whole day. She was very strange in her ways, acted very strange, just she'd try to write, then she'd try to sew, and she talked strangely. The second attack ~~of~~ fits was the next day Wednesday. It occurred in the morning while Mrs. Dudley was eating her breakfast. I was not in the room when she was seized with the first fit; Miss Chalmer, (the witness herein,) was with her, and called to me to come and help her. I went into the room at once. I found Mrs. Dudley lying back on the bed, very rigid, and foaming to mouth. She had slight attacks fits at this attack, and they lasted, I should think, about two hours. Then she slept very soundly until the afternoon, when she got up out of bed. I was surprised to see her come down stairs. She was very, very weak, unable to walk without the assistance of chairs, or the wall, or whatever she could get to support her. She was greatly frustrated, & lay on the sofa, until evening, when she went daily to bed.

Wm. J. Day
Commissioner

She was the strongest person in these attacks that I have ever seen. She was stronger in them on Wednesday than on Monday even. It injured all Miss

Wm. F. Day
Commissioner

Chalmers' and my strength to keep her from hurting herself, as she swung her arms, and feet and head about while in the fits.

To the ninth interrogatory she said:

I just knew of the dynamite explosions referred to by reading of them in the newspapers the next day, at breakfast. Mrs. Dudley was not my informant. She had left me about a week after the second attack of fits. But this Sunday, when I read of the explosions, in the papers, - being over a week after Mrs. Dudley had left our house, - she came to our house about noon, with a roll of newspapers under her arm.

To the tenth interrogatory she said:

Mrs. Dudley came to see us the Sunday I have mentioned in my last answer. She was very much excited. She walked right in to the house, without ringing the bell, and entered the front room where my husband was. I was in the kitchen just in the rear, the door being open between the two rooms. I heard Mrs. Dud.

Wm. J. Day
Communications

she threw her bundle of papers down on the table, and say to my husband ^{in a very loud tone of voice} "What do you think of this now?" My husband said "What do you mean?" Then I entered the room. Then she said in reply "Why, this dynamite explosion at the London Tower!" We both answered and said "It was a very serious affair". She said "Yes, why does the public allow such a man as O'Donovan Rossa at large!"

She was very excited at this interview, talking constantly the whole time, and appearing very much worked up over the matter of these explosions - and charged Rossa with being at the bottom of the matter.

To the elench interrogatory she said:

My husband & I were the only ones present at this interview, excepting my little boy ten years old. We both tried to soothe and quiet her, but she became more irritable over our remonstrances with her, and we could not calm her at all. She remained to dinner and until four or five o'clock in the afternoon. She continued the whole while just as excited and worked up over the matter, and went away in the

Commissioner

same condition -

To the twelfth interrogatory she said:

Her manner and words on this occasion impressed me as being those of an irrational person -

To the thirteenth interrogatory she said:

I always took Mrs. Dudley to be any thing but responsible for any thing that she done, said or done. While at my house, - for she was then off and on from November, 1882 until January 1885 - she was constantly talking of causing sensation and suicide. By sensation I mean, ^{causing a sensation by} taking a room at a hotel, and taking a dose of morphine, and being found dead in her room. It made me feel very uncomfortable to have her in my house. At times, especially such times as I have mentioned, she struck me as being a very irrational person -

To the fourteenth interrogatory she said -

Wm. J. Day
Commissioner

Mrs. Dudley often spoke to me of taking her own life - she said to me that she did not value her life, and would like to cause a sensation by taking her life, in the manner stated in my last answer. Her talk impressed me as being that of an irrational person -

To the fifteenth interview she said:

The last time that I saw Mrs. Dudley was when she came to see us, the Sunday after the explosion, - the time than mentioned in my replies to the 9th, 10th & 11th interviews -

To the last interview she said:

I do not think of anything more than than testified to - she was almost an entire stranger to me. Of course her being subject to fits would affect her mind. She hadn't been in my house two days before I felt being very uncomfortable about her being there. Her talk and manner were very irrational. She tried to take the direction of my house - she tried to persuade

Wm. J. Day
Commissioner

me, indeed, to force me, to move to Jassy City and there take a large house, and open it as an institution for the training of nurses. She became excited and irritable when I refused to do this.
Her whole manners and ways were strange, and led me to regard her as an irrational and irresponsible person.

Miss Isabel M. Chalmer, of 445 Hamburg Place in the City of Newark, New Jersey, aged twenty seven years being duly and publicly sworn pursuant to the directions hereto annexed and examined on the part of the said defendant, both before and say as follows:

To the first interrogatory she saith:-

I know the defendant Lucille Gould Dudley - I first became acquainted with her the second week in October 1884, at the Roosevelt Hospital, 59th Street New York City -

To the second interrogatory she saith:

I know Mrs. Mrs. Frank Freyd of Newark, N.J. I introduced Mr. Dudley to them as an acquaintance of mine. I had previously written Mrs. Freyd that there was an English nurse in the Hospital, whom I would like to bring over to Newark and introduce to her - Mrs. Freyd & Mrs. Dudley were both English women, and I thought they would like to become acquainted with one another - So I brought Mrs. Dudley out to Newburg to see Mrs. Frey's son here in November 1884.

Wm. J. Day
Comptroller

To the third interrogatory she saith:

Mrs. Dudley was sick twice at Mrs. Frey's, the first time was Monday January 12th 1885, and the second time on Tuesday January 14th.

To the fourth interrogatory she saith:

She had epileptic fits. She had not been feeling well that Monday morning, having a headache, and had lain down. She had her dinner about half past twelve. Then without any previous warning she went off into a fit. She became rigid, foamed at the mouth, and dashed herself about while in the fit, she being perfectly unconscious all the time. She had fourteen fits at that time, with an interval of three or four minutes between each fit. While still unconscious, and ^{about} ~~at~~ one or seven o'clock Mr. Frey carried her upstairs and we put her to bed. It was eleven o'clock before she became conscious.

Wm J. Day
Commissioner

She was very weak the next day, and her tongue was sore from having bitten it in the fits the day before.

On the Wednesday I took her breakfast up to her room. I left the tray on the bed a moment, while I went down stairs for something I had forgotten. When I returned Mrs. Dudley was in a fit, with the knife grasped tightly in her hand. I called Mrs. Lloyd, while she was coming Mrs. Dudley's hand unclenched and was able to take the knife from her. She had eight fits that morning, they being just the same as those of Monday.

These fits rendered her weak, and caused her head to trouble her, and she seemed stupid for several days afterwards.

To the fifth interrogatory she saith:

I am a nurse. I have been a nurse for the past nine years, at New Castle on Tyne, England, and Guy's Hospital London, the Roosevelt Hospital New York, St Thomas' Hospital, corner of Leadenhall St., and 52^d St. New York, and various other institutions. I have also been & much engaged as a private nurse. I am familiar with epilepsy, its symptoms & manifestations, having had charge of many ~~of~~ cases of that kind.

Wm J. Day
Commissioner

To the sixth interrogatory the witness

She very often talked and acted before me like an irrational person. She was very changeable, one day having one plan, and one day another. She was always most insulting and rude toward Americans, ~~has~~ manifesting a bitter hatred toward them, while having no reason ^{for} ^{acting or} feeling so toward them. ^{She was, however,} ^{she} ^{of} ^{the} ^{people} ^{she} ^{was} ^{born} ⁱⁿ ^{her} ^{own} ^{country} ^{and} ^{among} ^{her} ^{people}. She talked of committing suicide. She was quick and irritable; sometimes she couldn't be spoken to, she was like a petulant child. The most trivial things would very easily annoy her, and put her out. She would often walk up and down the room, or if writing, would throw down her pen, and then start up and walk about, - not like a suicide person, but like some one who was not responsible for what she did, and had no control over her acts.

Wm J. Day
Commissioner

To the seventh interrogatory the said:

I heard her express herself very often that she would commit suicide, both in New York and in Newark. This she would say something about ending her life nearly every day, extending over the period of my acquaintance with her. She told me that she had once attempted her life during a period of insanity when she was confined in Hayward Heath Asylum. This mode of conversation led me to observe Mrs. Dudley carefully, and from what she said and from what she did I was led to regard her as an irrational person.

To the ~~seventh~~^{eighth} interrogatory the said:

I was not present at the Tuedy's on the occasion referred to. I had left them on the same day that Mrs. Dudley did, - the 21st of January last, I think it was, - and I have not seen her since, and have never heard her make any allusion in any way to the dynamite explosion.

Wm. J. Day
Commissioner

To the ninth interrogatory she says she knows not.

To the last interrogatory she says:

While Mrs. Dudley was rational in many respects, I could not call her a sane woman. I felt that she was irresponsible for what she might do when in one of her excited moods. I thought it was wrong in her friends having ~~let~~ her come to this country, and wrote something to that effect to Miss Robert of Surrey England, but having a copy of my letter. When she had an idea in her head, whether it was right or wrong, no one could reason her out of it. I certainly do not think that she was rational or irresponsible when she shot O'Donovan Rossa.

If you are ill, when served, send timely notice of that fact to the District Attorney.

If other witnesses in this case are called, and another case taken up, you may know — unless otherwise advised — that the Grand Jury do not care to examine you; and you may then retire, mentioning your withdrawal to the officer or clerk.

If the Grand Jury adjourn, and you have not been called without explanation, inquire up stairs, in the District Attorney's Office if you are wanted again, and when.
