July 1880, at the City and County to forcibly ravish deponent and and came behind the bar and caught hold of deponent and said to deponent "pile you lie down behind the counter".

That deponent ordered him out and pushed him out of said saloon whereupon he returned and threw deponent down upon the floor of said saloon. That deponent screamed "murder" and he then placed his hands over deponent's

Rachel Simmons }

on amended Complaint for Attempt at Rape filed before Justice Nelson H. Wheeler, July 22nd 1850.

Defendant notified of his rights and informed of the nature of the charge, to which he pleads not guilty and requests a fair trial.

Benjamin Neely, Juror and examined for the People. I live at Jonkers. I was at the reading of the Complaint on the afternoon of the 18th inst. Among my children was with me. I saw the Complainant come out of her house followed by the defendant, then present. She picked up a chair and holding it aloft

said to the defendant "go away from me." He then pulled the chair away from her and caught her by the waist. She broke away and ran into her balcony and closed the door. He then threw himself against the door and burst it open. In about a minute I heard her scream "murder" repeatedly from the inside. I went in and saw her down on the floor and her on top of her. She said "Take this mean off me." He then jumped up from her and stepped out side. The defendant then turned to defendant and placing his hand in his right coat pocket said to defendant "What do you want here you son of a bitch." I stepped back and picked up a chair as he advanced towards me. The Complainant had stepped outside the door into the stage when the defendant had let her go. I did not go inside the door at any time, but stood upon the sill. She stepped in and shot the door leaving myself and the defendant outside. The defendant followed after me while I was looking out and struck at me with his fist three times hitting me once. I waved the other blows off with my left hand.

0427

The prisoner said to defendant "I wish you would strike me so that I could put a hole in you," at the same time he had one of his hands in the pocket of his coat. He then went back into the front yard and I knew nothing more of him. I never saw the Complainant or the prisoner before this occurrence.

Cross Examined

The Complainant's home stands about 20 or 25 yards from Broadway. The nearest house

0428

His is about 100 yards off.
 I was going down looking through the pinks when I first saw the prisoner. I lay still until I heard the Complaints scream "Murder." That was three or four minutes from the squabble on the low steps or piazza. I saw no other person in the room but the prisoner and Complaints. I saw none of his clothing disarranged and only noticed one of his hands when he was lying on her, which was around her shoulder.
 I never before saw this

 Rivdale - Cty.
 July 23rd 1880

Dear Sir -

Officer Bacon of this Police District, in giving me a statement of the alleged facts in the Simmons, suggested that I should write to you as to my knowledge of Mrs.

In accordance with this, I beg to say, that when I came to Rivdale, some thirteen book of locked arrests - in Mrs. Mearns, Mrs. Goodrich, Mrs. Mearns, S.

0436

years since, I found Mrs. S. rendered as a communicant of Christ Church Rindale. Her children attend the Sunday School, and have grown up in connection with the Parish. Her husband, a man much older than herself - she being, I think his second wife - had had, for many years, been at service on the Van Courtlandt estate, and a trusted in door domestic. Her age and infirmities, eventually led to the severance of their connection, and when I came to Rindale I found the family occupying the property in which the widow and her children, who are at home, now live.

Up to within some few months, I have heard nothing, then I deemed worthy of credence, as to the family character. I have helped its different members in various ways; one of the daughters some years since being at home in my household. Mrs. S. with this latter, I believe to be honest and endeavoring to secure a livi-lihood by honest means. She has been employed in laundry work, in various leading families in Rindale, and I believe, has been

0437

-and the uniform good will of her employers.

Within a few months, however, I have regretted to know that Mrs S. had spent a refreshment saloon at her home. I felt that this, - in such a neighborhood, - would prove an occasion, at least, of trouble to herself and family. She has been
- present as I perceive; but whether in the in the special instance, in which her case comes before you, she is other than a person wholly innocent of it.
- I say much, question. My knowledge of both parties in the case, in so far as it goes, would lead me to the conclusion that Mrs S.
