New York, Sep^r 24th 1884

In the case of Patrick Kelly. there is a Witness O'Neil who seen Duffy the man sentenced by Judge Gildersleeve with another carrying the harness. on the night it was stolen and he heard Duffy call his companion by the name Kelly when he passed them. and he described Duffy's companion as a little man. he looked kind of stooped over and older a good deal than Duffy. this description was given by O'Neil and the story told about Duffy calling his companion Kelly. the first time he spoke to me about the matter and before we knew anything about this prisoner Patrick Kelly

Captⁿ Killilea learned that this ^{prisoner} Kelly's wagon had conveyed a bag of goods for Duffy somewhere. and sent for Kelly. when he stated that he let Duffy take his horse & wagon and he remained in a saloon to get his breakfast. that Duffy went away with the bag in the wagon and came back without it. that he knew nothing more about it. the Receiver of the Harness says he bought them from Duffy and that Kelly was with Duffy. and vouched for Duffy as being the lawful owner of the harness. I heard Kelly's story to Captⁿ Killilea and the Receiver told me his side of the story

deposes and says:

cross examination
Q (Mr. ~~Oliver~~ Ottoburn) Mrs. Foly, you say you were standing in front of the house?

A Yes, sir.

Q You did not see Mrs. Knickmeyer enter the house?

A No, sir.

Q When did you first find out that Mrs. Knickmeyer was in the House?

A By going into my kitchen I first found out she was there. -

Q What prompted you to go into the kitchen?

A By a young man telling me that people went into the store; then I went into the store; and from the store in the kitchen.

Q There you found the door open?

A Yes, sir.

Q You asked your girl who opened the door?

A Yes, sir.

Q Who else was present at the time?

A No one but the girl and me.

Q And you were standing in the kitchen?

A Yes sir; and while standing in the kitchen Mrs. Knickmeyer came from the yard.

Q Was that before or after the girl had answered your question?

A Directly afterwards.

Q Hadn't you seen anybody else go in the house, or had you any information that anyone else was in the house?

A No, sir.

Q Hadn't a young man been running into that store while you were standing there?

A No, sir; I saw no one at the time, nor ~~at~~ before that time.

Q Nor into the hallway?

A No, sir.

Q And where was your husband while you were standing in front of the house?

A In the yard; he came in after that.

Q I ask you where your husband was, if you know, at the time you were standing in front of the house?

A He was out in the store, I could not tell you the spot he was in.

Q When had you seen your husband before you stood in front of the house?

A Nearly five minutes.

Q Wasn't he in company with somebody?

A No, sir.

Q You saw him there?

A I saw him behind the bar.

Q When you ~~asked~~ Passed through the store to go into the kitchen didn't you see the woman in the saloon?

A No, sir; there was no one but he and the girl; my husband came in directly afterwards.

Q I mean at the time you went through the store your husband was not there?

A He was not; I did not know where he was.

Q At the time you stood in front of the house wasn't there some one in the house with your husband?

A I had my back turned.

Q Who is that man who gave you the information that some one was running into your house?

A His name is Hellmyer; he is here.

Q You asked her a question?

A Yes, sir; she tried to force her way in; she wanted to go into my kitchen, and I shoved her out, and she raised her hand and gave me the blow.

Q You wanted to keep her in the yard?

A I told her to go out through the hallway, that she had nothing to do with my kitchen at that time of night, ~~and she~~

0991

Q And she refused to do it?

A She made no reply.

Q Where was your girl standing?

A By the table, not very far from the door.

Q Then your husband came?

A Yes, sir; right away.

Q Did he come through the door where she was standing?

A Yes, sir: she was gone through the hallway with somebody else.

Q Well, had you been stabbed at that time?

A I was stabbed ~~xx~~ while standing at the door.

Q When your husband came then the whole thing was over?

A The stabbing affair was over, and Mrs. Knickmeyer went through the hallway.

Q Did you tell your husband she had stabbed you?

A I did as soon as I was able, I told my husband that I was stabbed and to go for a policeman.

Q I mean at the time your husband came in--- wasn't he near her?

A Not near enough to reach her; he tried but he did not reach her.

0992

Q Was the blood flowing then?

A I was bleeding from the breast..

Q There was no fight?

A There was no fight or quarrel.

Q I mean whether there was anything else done but simply by your refusal to let Mrs. Knickmeyer go into that door?

A That is all.

Q Then your husband came in?

A Yes, sir.

Q No words were exchanged?

A No, sir.

Q She went out?

A She went out in the hallway?

Q Did you meet her again after that?

A Not until I met her in the station house in 35th Street.

Q Did anything else happen after that?

A There was a pane of glass broken.

Q Who was there then?

A A young man who was with Mrs. Knickmeyer.

0993

Q She came in the saloon again?

A No, sir; this happened at the time of the stabbing.

Q I ask you if you met Mrs. Knickmeyer again in the saloon?

A No, sir; I did not meet anyone in the saloon; I saw two men running through the kitchen and into the saloon.

Q Who were they?

A Mr. Knickmeyer and Henry Long.

Q Where was your husband then?

A He came in out of the yard; he met those parties in the yard.

Q He met them in the yard?

A Yes, sir; my husband put them all three in out of the yard.

Q You didn't assault Mrs. Knickmeyer?

A No, sir.

Q She without any provocation stabbed you with a knife?

A Yes, sir.

Q Then your husband came, and after you had recovered your strength, then you told him that you were stabbed?

A I said "Henry, I am stabbed!" go for a policeman;" immediately after I got stabbed this young man here, he turned me around like that and ran from the kitchen into the yard.

0994

I did not have my senses to know how quick Mr. Knickmeyer came in. I saw my husband passing him directly, but he did not speak to me nor I to him. This man down here below slipped and broke a pane of glass with his elbow; that was Henry Long.

Q Where were you then?

A I was walking through the kitchen as well as I could.

Q And when that pane of glass was broken in the store you were there?

A No, sir; I was not even in as far as the door of the kitchen.

Q Wasn't there a fight in the store and where this man hurt his arm you got that same cut from the pane of glass?

A No sir.

Q Now, isn't it a fact that when Mrs. Knickmeyer tried to go out of the kitchen through the hallway that you and your husband from behind gave a blow to that woman?

A Never.

Q So, in other words, Mrs. Knickmeyer has never been touched?

A Never been touched except to tell her to go out into the hall.

0995

Q Do you know a young man named Joe? Was he in the house?

A He was not.

Q Did you see him running in?

A No, sir. My husband protected him to his room.

Q From whom did he protect him?

A From this party; he simply came into the store---

Q You know your husband protected him?

A I heard him say so, afterwards.

Q Where was Joe at the time you stood on the sidewalk?

A I could not tell you for I did not see him.

Q This Joe lives in the house there?

A In the next house.

Q Now isn't it a fact that your husband took Joe in the next house?

A I could not tell you.

Q How do you know that your husband protected Joe?

A Only from what I heard.

Q Do you know of any trouble that had existed between Mrs. Knickmeyer and Joe?

A Only from what I heard.

0996

10

Q You never heard Joe abuse Mrs. Knickmeyer?

A No, sir.

Q You never saw him spit in her face?

A No, sir, nor call her names.

Q Joe was in your house on that night?

A In the store but not in the kitchen.

Q Did you see him in the store?

A I am not positive; if I saw him there I would tell you positively.

Q Didn't Mrs. Knickmeyer tell you she was looking for Joe?

A She said she was to my girl's; I heard that in my kitchen.

Q You were not listening?

A I was on the sidewalk at the time; the girl told it to me afterwards.

Q Do you know Dr. Heath?

A No, sir.

Q Do you know that he called to your house?

A No, sir.

Q Do you know that he went there to examine into your condition?

0997

II

A I do not know that he did.

Q Haven't you heard that some doctor was there?

A I do not think I did.

Q Is Dr. Farrie here?

A He was to be here at three o'clock.

Counsel Otterbourg now read two certificates in relation to the condition of Mrs. Foly from Dr. Farrie of No. 227 East 45th Street.
