case of Charles Lang
filed June 1892

41.

The People Court of General Sessions, Part I vs. Charles Larrif Before Judge Cowing July 18 1882 Indictment for obtaining goods by false pretences August 1882, sworn and examined, testified I do business at 139 Canal St. I am in the wine business. I know the prisoner. On the 7th of April he came to my place with Mr Heim and asked the price of Ohio wine, then he ordered a hundred gallons at one dollar a gallon, he gave a blank check to Mr Heim and told him to make it out for a hundred dollars (check shown) It was on the Manhattan Savings Institution, dated April 7. 1882 to the order of Albert Heim or bearer and signed "George Miller." I saw him sign the check. Mr. Heim went to the Manhattan Savings Institution, he is not in Court. I never got the money for the check I never asked the prisoner anything about the check. He said I should send the goods the next day and about a 1/4 of an hour after the defendant came and borrowed thirty dollars. Mr. Heim lives in Christie St. I gave him $30 upon the faith of the check which I took in payment for wine because he said he was George Miller from Elizabethport, was a well known man in good circumstances

0434

Wednesday, July 19, 1882 August. Wohl recalled I received a check from the prisoner, he said his name was George Miller, that he lived in Elizabethport and kept a grocery store there, he ordered two barrels of wine I was at the examination before the Magistrate in the Police Court, he said then that he lived in Syracuse and had no business I loaned him $30 because I knew Mr. Miller from Elizabethport by reputation and that he was a grocer and upon the faith of his being Mr. Miller I gave him thirty dollars. I never got the $30 back. Cross Examined. Mr. Keim introduced the prisoner to me on Friday night the 4th of April in my place; the prisoner asked for samples and prices of wines, he told me he wanted to buy wine I did not deliver it he requested Mr. Keim to make out the check and he signed it George Miller. Mr. Keim told me that the prisoner ordered $200 worth of goods from him and that he gave him a check for two hundred dollars, the prisoner was not intoxicated when he came in he came into my place half an hour after he gave me the check and asked for the loan of thirty dollars, he said he spent all his money, that he would like to spend the next day in New York and that he would send the money to Mr. Heine. I never saw the prisoner after that until I saw him in the Tombs. Albert Heine, sworn. The prisoner came to my store in the forenoon of the 7th of April. I was not at home. I have got a check he gave me for two hundred dollars. I went to the bank with that check. I did not get the money for it because it was a forgery. The cashier of the bank that no account was kept by such a man; he put the name Louis Miller on my check. He kept a big grocery store and a hotel he said at Elizabethport, N. J. and before the Magistrate the prisoner said he lived at Syracuse and was a laborer. [The District Attorney offered the hundred dollar check in evidence.] Cross Examined. I first saw the prisoner in my store about 7 or 8 o'clock in the evening in my store. He first spoke with my wife and was there for a big order for groceries and Swiss cheese. I came home about seven o'clock and he represented himself as Mr. Miller from Elizabethport. I made out a list of the goods which amounted to $227 and some odd cents. I made out the heading of the check and he signed it. He said he would send the goods by freight and would take two West Phalian hams. I said I did not deliver any goods until the check was certified. I introduced the prisoner to Mr. Whl and at his (the prisoner's) request I made out a check for one hundred dollars; that check was signed George Miller, but I did not look at it and did not know it at the time. I took both checks to the bank. I did not take Lang around and get him drunk. He said he wanted to buy some wine, and I told him I had a friend who was a wholesale dealer in wine; we took a glass of Rhine or Ohio wine together. I was not present when he borrowed thirty dollars. Before that he was joking with Mr. Whl and said he was short of money and asked him to lend him some. Mr. Whl did so. I said, "Mr. Miller, that is not a business transaction; return the money to Mr. Whl." He said, "I want to make fun"; he gave the money back to him. The prisoner said he was Mr. Miller from Elizabethport, he drank no liquor in any state, for I do not keep any there. The man at the bank did not pay the money; he said the check was no good. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

0435

0436
