PEOPLE ON MY COMPLAINT, VERSUS

Jerome Savicello

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself, but by the consideration, that the defendant, who is my son and only a little over 16 years of age, has shown sincere contrition since his imprisonment and was induced by a companion of his to commit the act, which I am satisfied will not be repeated. Besides, being now myself aware of the bad company he got into, I shall take care, that he be not again seen in such association. To all intents and purposes his present confinement seems to have been all the punishment wanted.

The People
v. Samuel Silverman { Court of General Sessions. Part Before Judge Gildersleeve.
October 25. 1887. Indictment for grand larceny.
Peppie Birn sworn and examined
I live at 22 Attorney St. in this city. I was in the city on the second of October at the corner of Chester and Essex Sts.; it was on a Sunday;
there is a vegetable stand there. What did you have in your pocket at that time? A pocket book with about one dollar and fifty cents in it;
it was my property. In what pocket was it, in your dress pocket? Here in the right side, it was another dress. While you were standing at this vegetable stand what happened, tell the jury? I was reaching out to take some vegetables and I felt a hand in my pocket.
What did you do when you felt a hand in your pocket? I caught his hand, this prisoner.
Do you swear positively he is the man whose hand you caught; when you caught hold of his hand where was the hand, in your pocket? Yes sir. What did he have in his hand when he took it out the pocket? My pocket book. What did he do with that pocket book? He passed it to another man. What did the man to whom he passed it do? He ran away. How long was it after the man ran away before this man was arrested?
I do not know exactly; for some time I held him, and I called, "Police, Police." Did you hold him until he was arrested? I held him all the time until the policeman came. Cross Examined. Was this man talking to a woman at the time you got hold of his hand? I did not see any woman near him. Was there a fight there? I did not see any. How long were you there before your pocket book was taken? I just reached the stand. I came to the stand and I had the pocket book in my hand and I put it into my pocket and looked about the vegetables. Where was this stand? Between Ludlow and Essex streets near Essex. This was on Sunday about four or five o'clock in the afternoon. There was a good many people around at the time. When did he pass the pocket book to the other person if you had hold of his hand that was in your pocket? When I caught him he was on my right side and I caught his left hand, and whilst I held his left hand he took the pocket book out with his right hand and passed it to another man. Ask her if she did not miss her pocket book before she saw the man and if she did not go five or six feet away from where she was robbed and get hold of him. No sir, he was immediately at my hand.

John Elterich, sworn and examined, testified. I arrested the defendant on the second of October on the corner of Essex and Hester St. the complainant was there and she held him until I came up. she accused him of taking her pocket book. Then I arrested him.

Peppie Birn recalled by counsel. A man had vegetables in a basket. It was near Essex in Hester street. I could not swear how many houses from the corner it was. The defendant pulled me away from the place and he tried to get away and he pulled me along.

Sarah Corven, sworn and examined for the defence testified. I live 411 Essex St and know Silverman two or three years. I used to work for Frank Wolf in Essex St. I am not working now. I remember the Sunday Silverman was arrested. I was around the corner of Hester and Essex St. I was speaking with the defendant and a lady came over and caught hold of him; she said, "you took my pocket book." I think I was there about an hour and a half talking to him before the lady came up and charged him with taking her pocket book. There was no vegetable stand near where we were standing, but there was a man with a basket selling vegetables on the sidewalk.

There was a whole crowd there and a fight I could not tell where the woman came from when she caught hold of the defendant and charged him with taking her pocket book. The defendant did not put his hand in the complainant's pocket, I suppose it was another fellow who did it.

Samuel Silverman sworn. I live at 139 Murroe St. and remember the day I was arrested about three o'clock. I was arrested at a soda water stand on Essex St. I was talking to the young girl who was a witness here for an hour and a half. I was talking to her when the complainant came behind me and grabbed my hand. I was standing on Essex St. I did not have my hand in her pocket. I did not pass the pocket book to another man. I never had the pocket book in my hand at all. There was a fight there, but I do not know who was engaged in the row; there was a big crowd around. Cross Examined. I knew Sarah Cohen about three years and I see her frequently. I was talking to her for an hour and a half that day about balls and about other girls of my acquaintance.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty. The defendant was sentenced to the State prison for three years and six months.

Hon Judge Cawing
Sir:

Having known the family of Mr G. Smirn for a number of years I beg to petition you in behalf of Isaac F. Smirns, who has been convicted before you on his own confession, to exercise that clemency and mercy, which is the highest privilege of the Judge. I have known the boy well and am confident that he is not vicious, but has been led to commit, what he probably did not look upon a crime. His consignment to a penal institution would amount to a degradation and disgrace, from which he would recover with difficulty and he an irreparable blow to his parents.

I feel certain that he feels the position he is in now and that the plight he is in will be the lesson of his life. It looks to me that the ends of justice, which looks to the correction and reformation of crime would be best served by extending to the unfortunate boy the utmost clemency.

Very Respectfully Yours
Mr. Ellinger.
