The People
Joseph Manning
Court of General Sessions. Part I Before Recorder Smyth. Dec. 6. 1887 Indictment for burglary.

John Reilly, sworn and examined, testified You are a liquor dealer and your place of business is No 60 Prince St. I have a stock of liquors, cigars &c. On the 20th of Nov. you had a stock of over a thousand dollars worth of liquors and cigars? Yes. Did you lock your place and go away? Yes. What time of day or night did you lock up your place and go away? Half past twelve o'clock. When did you return to your place? Then the officer woke me up at half past four o'clock in the morning. You came to the place, what did you find? I found the front window fronting on Prince St. and a pane of glass broken large enough to get his body in. That is in the Fourteenth Ward of the city of New York? Yes. Cross Examined.
All you know about this of your own knowledge is that you saw the glass broke after you were woke up in the morning? Yes.
There was nothing taken? No sir, not then.
The glass was not broke when you went home? No sir.

Theobald. Thorne, sworn and examined, You are an officer of Police of the South Precinct? Yes. On the 20th of November or rather the morning of the 21st, perhaps, you were patrolling your beat? Yes. Where was that, near 60 Prince St.? Yes. Did you see the prisoner? Yes sir. What did you see him do? I was standing near the corner of Mulberry and Prince Sts. I heard a pane of glass break. I ran down to the corner and I saw the defendant in front of the window. I asked him what he was doing? He said, nothing. I said, "What is the matter with your hand?" His hand was bleeding. I said, "Did you break a pane of glass?" He says, No sir. There was three burglaries committed on the very same corner — I took the man to the station house, and he said to the Sergeant that he was innocent, and I did not have a right to lock him up. I showed the hand to the Sergeant and the Sergeant asked him if he broke the pane of glass, and he said, "no." That is all I know about the case. Did he say how he got his hand cut? No. Was he able to walk and able to talk? Yes sir. The Sergeant took his pedigree, and he was able to answer the questions. He says he was drunk, was he drunk? He was slightly intoxicated. But not so drunk as not to know what he was about? No sir. Was there any property in that window at all? No. Did you take him to the Police Magistrate the next morning? Yes sir. He was not drunk when he was before the Magistrate? No. Did you see him sign that statement on being examined? Yes, I believe he did. Was the charge read over to him? Yes. Did the Magistrate tell him that he might answer the charge that was made against him and explain the facts if he chose to do so? Yes. He gave his name, where he lived, his age and where he was born. He said his business was a canvasser and answered the question what he had to say in answer to the charge made against him. The District Attorney read the examination of the prisoner before the Magistrate. His answer to the charge was: "I am not guilty, I was walking through the street, and the officer arrested me. I did not break any window pane."

By counsel. O. Officer, did you see that pane of glass broken? Yes, I seen that pane of glass broken when I came down there. Did you see it when it was broken? Yes. You did not see anyone break the glass? No. You do not know of your own knowledge who did break it? He was the only man was there at the time. How large was the pane of glass? The pane of glass was about two and a half feet long and six inches wide. It was done by the pavement, the front of the window near the pavement? Yes sir. How far from the pavement? About three feet. That was the defendant doing when you first saw him, if anything? He was standing in front of the window. About how far from the window? About six inches. He was just standing there? Yes sir. Was he attempting to do anything? No sir. How long did you watch him before you arrested him? About three minutes. Is it not a fact that this defendant was very drunk? No sir, he was slightly under the influence of liquor. You thought he was not very drunk? No sir. You arrested him and took him to the station house? Yes sir. You say his hand was bleeding? Yes sir. Do you know what caused his hand to bleed? No sir. The pane of glass was half broken out; the defendant did not take any property. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of an attempt to commit burglary in the third degree.

Hon. John R. Fellows, District Attorney &c.

My dear Sir:

Referring to the conversation which I had with you on the subject yesterday, I write to ask your attention to the cases of The People agt. Caroline Mayer & ^{Wm} Mayer, now on your calendar for trial.

The defendants are charged with assault on a police officer. The facts, as near as I can ascertain them, after a very thorough examination of all the circumstances, are that this woman and her husband did, under great provocation, and believing themselves innocent of any offense refuse to submit to arrest and endeavor to avoid it. They were on their own premises on which the officer had forced himself, and being ignorant of the language, and of the law, were not aware of the seriousness of their offense.

There would be, perhaps, a chance of an acquittal on a jury trial, but it seems to me that the defendants should plead guilty, and that the purposes of the law could be fairly met by a fine.

I most earnestly hope that an examination of the facts will lead you to the same conclusion.

The character of these people is represented to me by Mr. George Chet, who knows them well, to be very good, and he and other well known citizens of our part of the city have represented to me in the strangest terms the difference which exists between these defendants and the ordinary law-breaker.

With thanks for the courtesy you have shown in the consideration of this matter and of all matters which we have had in the course of business together,

I am,

Sincerely yours,

fastened together by an iron or steel chain, the links of which shall not be less than one inch in diameter, and which said timbers shall also be held in place by at least five hundred pounds of large stones piled on top of them.

Three minutes notice before firing the blasts shall be given, by displaying a red flag on the staff not less than ten feet high, set in a conspicuous place within twenty-five feet of the point where the charge is placed and also by calling out the words "a blast" several times repeated, and loud enough to be distinctly heard at a distance of two hundred feet from the point of discharge.

For every violation of either of the preceding sections of this article, the offending party, upon complaint and conviction thereof before a police justice shall be liable to a fine of twenty-five dollars, and stand committed until the same is paid."

Joseph Mc Clellan

Now present came to deponent's residence and having learned this deponent's name stated that he was informed of deponent's doing having seen her in company of men at various times in suspicious places and under peculiar circumstances and told deponent that for a consideration in money he would keep the matter a secret from her husband but if she failed to pay over the money, then, he Mc Clellan would apprise deponent's husband of the knowledge he possessed regarding deponent's conduct — That afterwards and on the same day the defendant knowing the contents thereof, and with intent by means thereof, to extort money, did send or caused to be sent and delivered to deponent the annexed letter or writing, in which he threatens to accuse this deponent or expose her to her husband if deponent did not pay money to keep the defendant silent. Deponent therefore alleges and believes and charges that the defendant did so threaten and write for the purpose of extorting money from this deponent.
