The People
 Catherine Callaghan } Court of General Sessions. Part I Before Judge Geldersleeve.
 Tuesday, October 30. 1883. Indictment for grand larceny in the second degree.

Margaret Brown, sworn. Where do you live?
 No 61 Forsythe St. On the 18th of this month did you lose any property? Yes sir, I did. What was it? It was a cloak, a hat, an apron, a pocket handkerchief and my shoes and stockings, which I saw in the Court house. Did you lose any money? Yes sir, twenty seven dollars.
 How much was the wearing apparel worth? I do not know exactly. Were they worth as much as ten dollars? Yes sir. That was your property?
 Yes sir, and the money too was my property.
 Where did you have the money? The money I had in my pocket and the clothes I took off me when I went to bed. I put them on a chair by my bed; the money was not in a pocket book, it was in a little bag. And that was in the pocket of your dress? Yes sir. When you went to bed where was this woman? I made this woman a bed outside on the sofa next to my room; it is one floor; she could go in and out. How long had you known this woman? I only knew her five days. What time did you go to bed? About three o'clock in the morning. And at that time the prisoner was in the room was she?

0194

Yes sir. Was the property there? Not in my room, outside in an adjoining room with the door open. In the day time she tried the cloak on; the cloak was not in my room.
What time did you awaken? I awakened about five o'clock in the morning; the milkman came and called me. When you awakened was your clothing gone? The light was out and I did not miss it right away.
When you awakened up was your property there? I could not say that. In dressing myself I found it out. When you got up and dressed yourself you discovered that the clothing had been taken and the money gone? Yes sir. Was the prisoner gone? Yes sir.
Did she ever return? She did not. When did you have her arrested? The second day after losing the things I arrested her myself.
I caught her. When she was arrested was any of your property found with her? My cloak and my hat and the shoes and stockings; she had them in the Essex Market Courthouse. This property that you found on her, the hat and cloak and shoes and stockings was the property that was stolen from you on the morning of the 18th of Oct. was it? Yes sir. Cross Examined. I did not go to bed till 3 o'clock in the morning because I was knitting. I keep a lodging house. That evening there was nobody there but this woman (the prisoner) and the people that belonged to the house and one man who was up stairs; he was there in the morning about ten o'clock. There was a girl there who also belonged to the house. There was no drinking going on in that house the night before these things were taken. I keep only soda and sarsaparilla. I don't know that any money was found on the person of the prisoner. I know I had my money when I went to bed. I saw it last in my bag in the afternoon and counted it about 3 o'clock. Men and women come to this house to lodge; they come in together.

 Catherine Callaghan sworn and examined in her own behalf testified. I am about 43 years old and have never been arrested before. When did you come to this house?
 I went to it on the Jews' first holiday. I don't know what day of the month it was.
 How long were you there at the time you left? I was fourteen days the very night this happened. Did you hear what the complainant said about you? Yes I did. How do you account for having in your possession a cloak and a hat and the shoes belonging to this woman? Tell your story to the jury just as it occurred. I will tell you just as near as it was with the help of God. This is the first time I was ever in Court. There is a girl up stairs and there was a man in the house all day that day with her. I was cleaning down the stairs that morning and he paid for a drink. I took a glass of whiskey. I went out and got coal and made the fire for the girl and the man was lying on the bed. The house closes every night at 3 1/2 o'clock. It was between four and five o'clock as near as I can understand I was awakened by a man, who said, "God damn your soul, get out of that, that is no place for you. I will give you money when you get out on the street, and put those clothes on. I took a drink of something, I don't know what it was. It is on my dress yet. I never remember anything. I was lying on a stoop. I thought it was lying on a bed I was; he gave me no money. I was lying on the stoop fast asleep. The officer said I was not drunk but drugged. I did not take $27 from the complainant and no clothing. The jury rendered a verdict of petty larceny with a recommendation to mercy.

nowhere, did unlawfully keep, maintain, conduct and occupy premises No. 525 East 18th Street, or a part thereof, as a place for the purpose of gambling and for the sale of what are commonly called and known as Lottery Policies, in violation of law.

That said place is fitted up as a Policy shop and said defendant was then within said shop and in charge of the same, and had then and there in his possession the printed slips and book, now here shown, and which are used to enable him to sell such Lottery Policies, which Policies are in the nature of a bet, wager or insurance upon the drawing or drawn numbers of a certain Lottery not authorized by the Laws of the State of New York.

The People v. James Clark Court of General Sessions. Part 2 Before Judge Gildersleeve, Oct. 17, 1883.
 Indictment for robbery in the first degree.

James Trimble sworn. I am in the soda water business and live at 236 Montgomery St. Jersey city. I was in New York on the 11th of this month between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening in company with a young lady, Miss Cassidy. We were on the corner of Hudson and Desbrosses St. going towards the ferry when two young men were standing on the sidewalk. As I got even with them I could not pass with the lady. I put her in front of me and went sideways; one fellow had his back turned and one was facing me. As I got even with him the fellow that was facing me grabbed my chain and the other put his arm around my neck while the other fellow took the watch; they turned around and I ran after the fellow that had the watch into Wall St. I had my hands on the fellow when this prisoner struck me. As he struck me I turned around. Of course I could not make chase for the fellow that had the watch because he was facing me trying to hit me again. So I thought I would hit him. At that the officer came over and asked what was the matter and arrested the prisoner. He ran with the other man. I am certain he was with him. I did not lose sight of either of them after they commenced to run. At first I did not see the face of the prisoner because his back was toward me. A crowd soon gathered. Cross Examined. The first time I caught sight of the prisoner's face was when he was turning around in Matt St. Then he struck me and I struck him back because he was attempting to strike me again. I said nothing to him. Had no conversation with him. I knocked off his hat when I struck him. The officer ran after him half a block before he arrested him. The prisoner asked me why I hit him? I told him it was necessary because he hit me. Anna Cassidy sworn. I was with Mr. Trimble in Desbrosses St. the night of the 4th of this month before 9 o'clock. I heard him narrate the story of this occurrence. At the time of the robbery I was walking with him; one was facing me and the other had his back toward me; the one facing grabbed his chain, and as he did I was terrified. I could not realize what happened. As I turned I saw the men were running by us. I could not say whether they were the young men who assaulted him. It was done so quickly that no one seemed to notice it; it was a chilly evening; at that time I did not recognize anybody. I saw nobody but two young men. When I realized what happened I ran to the corner of Desbrosses St.; they were on the sidewalk still running in the act of turning Wall St.; my friend was still running in the middle; one of the men had a short jacket and a derby hat. They turned into Canal St. and as I ran they were the only ones in the middle of the street. When I got around there one of them was in the act of striking Cross Examined. When I got to the corner I saw the prisoner without a hat. I turned around to see if there was an officer and at that time a crowd of young men surrounded him very suddenly. I could not tell where they came from; it was a very dark street; the officer chased and arrested the man. At the time I got to the corner of Wall and Canal Sts there was nobody there. I was there when the officer brought the prisoner back. I do not remember what he said, but my friend made a charge against him for interrupting him in catching the men.

John Leyden sworn. I am an officer and made the arrest of the prisoner. The complainant was standing in the street and halloed "murder, watch!" He told me there was a party that went down the street with his hat off and he wanted him arrested and I arrested him on the corner of Greenwich St. He accused him as being connected with losing his watch. He said he was one of the party who grabbed him under the throat. Had to run a block after him. The prisoner said he did not know anything about it and wanted to be taken back where the robbery took place. I took him back looking for his hat.

Jarvis Clark, sworn on his own behalf. I work at tiling and on this night I was crossing Hudson and Canal St. and heard the cry of "stop thief." I saw one man turning the corner of Canal St. I crossed the street and three or four more ran down to see what was the matter and one man ran into me and struck me in the forehead and knocked my hat off. I asked him what he hit me for and commenced to look for my hat. I started away, heard footsteps after me and the officer came and arrested me. I know nothing of the occurrence

Dear Sir,

The facts

relative to the case of Wm B. Laffin now under indictment for grand larceny are that he took from Frank B. Hobart undesignated, by whom he was employed, the sum of one hundred & forty two dollars, all of which has since been restored to Mr Hobart. This is the first offence of the accused and he is only about eighteen years old. He has promised never again to offend and we believe he will keep his promise and that it will be for the best interest of all concerned not to punish him, and we respectfully ask that this charge may be dismissed.

Yours Respy
