City and County of New York, ss.

Elizabeth Miller of no. 337
Water Street being duly sworn deposes and says that on some day between the 4th & 12th of May 1884, there was stolen from the possession of deponent
two pairs of stockings value 50¢ pair
1 silk handkerchief value of $3.-
2 other handkerchiefs value of 25¢ each
1 bed sheet of the value of $1.25. ~~three~~
1 scarf pin of the value of $5.- 1 collar pin value of $1.25, & one ladies pin of the value of $7.- 1 cash value $1.60 1 night gown value $1.- 1 piece of lace, value of 50¢. of the property of Daniel Miller, deponent's husband.

That deponent has good cause to believe & does believe that said property was stolen
by one man, McLaughlin from the fact that said Mary was during said time employed by deponent as a domestic & gave her name as Ellen McLaughlin,
& had free access to said property.

That said Mary left deponent's house on the said 12th

0213

of May, 1934, while deponent was absent; That said Mary on the 13th of May sent word to deponent that she had been arrested, and ^{deponent} thereupon found that the said property had been stolen. Deponent then called on said Mary at the Tolls & then accused her of said larceny, which she said Mary denied.

Deponent came home, and afterwards in company with an officer & the housekeeper of deponent's house & her son, deponent visited the room of said Mary & then found part of the property so stolen: and deponent is informed by Officer O'Leary of the 7th Precinct that he, said officer, found in the pawnbroker's office at 75 Canal Street the said scarf pin: and that the said pawnbroker informed said officer that a person answering the description of said Mary had left the same at said place.

City and County of New York vs.

John W. Woolsey being duly sworn deposes and says: that she is a collector for the Singer Manufacturing Co. at 34 Union Square in this City.

That on the 17th day of Jan. 1880, one Mary Mc Donoughlin under the name of Julia Mc Donoughlin leased on the installment plan ~~from~~ from the Singer Manufacturing Co. a sewing machine of the value of ($50) fifty dollars, as deponent is informed and believes.

That said Mary paid upon the said machine in all ($17) Seventeen dollars, the last payment being of three dollars being made on the 7th of March 1881, since which time the said Co. has been trying to arrange & settle with said Mary as to the said machine, & to ascertain the whereabouts of the same: and that said Mary has since that time denied herself as Julia Mc Donoughlin, the name under which she bought said machine.

That deponent has been looking, for the last two years, for said machine but has been unable to find it or to ascertain from said Mary its whereabouts, That on the 21st day of March 1924, deponent called upon said Mary in regard to said machine, and the said Mary then & there denied that she was Julia McLaughlin, & that she had ever had a machine from said Company & then & there struck deponent.

Wherefore deponent charges that said Mary, at the time she leased the said machine took the same with the felonious intent to deprive the said Singer Manufacturing Company of the said machine & to appropriate the same to her own use.

That on the 30th day of September 1922, one Ellen McLaughlin, under the name of Cecilia Lyons, in the same manner leased a machine from the said company, the same being likewise of the value of forty dollars, and thereafter paid upon the same in all twenty-three dollars, the last payment (of 3 dollars) being made October 29th 1883, since when the said machine has been in the possession of said Ellen. But said Ellen has, since Feb 7th denied all knowledge of said machine & has denied that she was Cecilia Lyons.

Wherefore deponent charges that the said Ellen McLaughlin under the name of Cecilia Lyons, did take & obtain the said machine from the said Company in manner aforesaid, with the felonious intent to defraud & deprive the said Company of the use & benefit thereof, & to appropriate the same to her own use.
