AUGUSTA, GA. November 2nd, 1895.

Hon. William Strong, Mayor, and Party,

New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:--

The Young Men's Business League of Augusta, Ga., in meeting assembled, respectfully invite your honorable body to visit this city upon the occasion of your proposed Southern tour.

Augusta is as you are probably aware, the largest cotton manufacturing city in the Cotton States, having about $7,570,000. invested in that industry, and manufacturing three times more cotton than is manufactured by any other Southern City.

It has one of the largest water-power canals in America, erected by the City at a cost of $1,500,000., which is capable of developing in its present condition 14,000 horse-power, which power is leased to manufacturers at $5.50 per horse-power per annum.

We are in hopes that in this day of Southern progress the members of your party will be sufficiently interested in the development here to include Augusta in your itinerary. Should the invitation be accepted the League will spare no efforts to make your stay here both pleasant and profitable.

Assuring you of a hearty welcome,
Very respectfully,

YOUNG MEN'S BUSINESS LEAGUE OF AUGUSTA,

D. B. Dyer
President.

The affair is not properly speaking an "Opening," as the Loyal Republican Club's premises have never been closed, but in the full meaning of the expression it is a "House Warming" at which you are to participate as a guest. Everything in the Club is new but the fish Republican spirit that animates its members, that, in a moment of unguarded generosity,

H. Gunner had donated to the Club, having been claimed by him, although legally our property, was returned to him. The members desiring to obliterate even the remembrance of their association with the man who had proved false to his best friends thus allowed this new Iscariot to remove anything he wished to. It appears that he wished everything, as he left only the four walls; and those probably because he could not carry them with him. The forced retreat of this man being followed by the forced retreat of his sycophants, it follows now that only gentlemen are members of the LOYAL REPUBLICAN CLUB, and, therefore, if you desire to honor their family feast by your presence, you may be assured of a warm, friendly, reception.

Very truly yours,

THE COMMITTEE.
