58 WALL STREET,

NEW YORK,

Nov 20th 1897

Hon Wm L. Strong
Mayor

Dear Sir

I desire to call your attention to the fact that Wall Street in front of my office has been excavated and in a very disgraceful condition for upwards of two yrs. No sooner is the work finished & the asphalt down than a new gang of men commence to dig it up again. The noise & smells have been very troublesome,

I would like very much to meet you and discuss with you how such a state of affairs can be prevented by proper legislation this winter.
The question undoubtedly has been often brought to your attention & you may have some valuable suggestions to make as to the best course to take looking towards the better protection of the people.

Very Respe

My dear Colonel:-

Owing to your many engagements, I write to ask if you will kindly enter on your "Engagement" book the afternoon of December fourteenth, when the Annual Meeting of the Tree Planting Association will be held, and at which I hope that you will preside.

We can hold the meeting at the Wool Club at four o'clock or whatever hour best suits your convenience.

We are getting in new members and the press are publishing enough articles on the subject to interest the public, and the effect of your presiding, will be of the greatest benefit.

Thanking you in advance for the trouble,

I am,

Dear Sir,

I sincerely thank you for causing the amount of $50000 as provided in Chapter 523 Laws 1894 to build a monument in Battery Park to mark the evacuation of the British in 1783, to be acted upon. I am informed that the Board of Aldermen cut the amount down to $100. The reason of such action I cannot understand. Please use your influence next week to have the full amount reinstated. The act referred to gives the Board of Estimate full authority. Trusting you will take the matter in hand.

November 23rd, 1897.

Hon. William L. Strong, Mayor,

Dear Mr. Mayor,-

Since everything seems to be in shape for securing the land for our little University park upon which the Board of Street Openings acted last week, I am requested on the part of the University people to ask you to inform me what steps are necessary to enable us to secure from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, the insertion at an early meeting, in their estimate, of $10,000.

The 4th section of the Act providing for the park, contains the following, "The Comptroller of the City of New York is hereby authorized and empowered and directed to issue revenue bonds not to exceed ten thousand dollars for the construction and improvement of said park, the redemption whereof shall be provided for by the board of estimate and apportionment in the final estimates for the year eighteen hundred and ninety-seven."

Perhaps you can have this arranged at the next meeting of the board of estimate and apportionment.

Sincerely yours,

Mr Bion L. Burrows,
The Mayor's Office, City,

My dear Mr Burrows,

The other evening about 6 o'clock Mr. Evans and myself had occasion to use a hansom cab in front of the Metropole Hotel. We got into one that was standing there and asked the driver how much he would charge to drive us to 175 West 47th street. He replied $1.00 which we thought was in excess of the regular rate. I admit that we were somewhat indignant at him and asked for his number, to which he replied that his was an hotel cab and it was not necessary for him to have a number. To satisfy my curiosity I would like to know if we were consistent in feeling that he had overstepped his authority.

Wont you kindly advise me at your early convenience, and much oblige,

Dear Sir:

The original plan of Block Indexing the real estate records of this City, contemplated the assignment to each of the 13 Sections laid down on the Land Map, of a separate volume in the Register's office, so that all the Record Books, maps and indexes pertaining to any section, might be kept together, and be more conveniently handled and inspected.

In furtherance of this scheme, the Block Indexing Act provided that each volume of records ~~or~~ ^{and} indexes, should relate only to a single section,
not only to carry out the Alcorn idea for the convenience of searchers, but that the books of the several sections may as be kept in the different localities of the sections of the City, in separate offices, should the growth of the City, and the convenience of its inhabitants, subsequently require it.

The present bookcases of the Block indexing books in the Register's office, cost to the best of my recollection, about $ 1,500. But after their construction, it was discovered that while they were apparently built in Sections as proposed, the slots for the Records and Indexes were made of different lengths, so that it was necessary to place the Indexes in different Section Cases from the Records.

From that time to this, as I have been informed,

these have been employed in the New York Register's Office, at Salaries, varying from $1,500 to $1,700 per annum

(1) A Clerk to "find"
the Block Index Books, for those wishing to examine them;

(2) A So called "Custodian" to preserve the books from injury;

(3) A Clerk, whose only duty has been,
so far as I can learn, to look after

NEW YORK.

the other two clerks, & have a general supervision of this department of the office.

A proper division of the Books, by Alcons as suggested, would not only lessen the running expenses of the Registers' office, but render it much more convenient for the public.

I respectfully request you to accord a hearing before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment when the subject of the appropriation of public monies to private medical charities comes up for discussion. I should esteem it a favor if I can be notified a few days before the meeting takes place as the Medical Society of the County of New York, the N.Y. Medical Medical League and other organizations would like to be present.

I have already written to Mr. Adee, the clerk of the Board on the matter.

Hon W. L. Strong
Mayor of the City of New York

I herewith make application for a copy of the "Records of New Amsterdam" now being published by the City of New York. Last summer I called upon your Secretary concerning these Records and was informed that the copies which you had for distribution would not be given to any one until the books were out of the Printer's hands. When I saw Mr Berthold Fernow a few days ago he was completing the index, he told me that the books would be out very soon. The reason of this application is that I am engaged in historical and genealogical research. My studies are entirely along the line of Holland Dutch. My ancestors were in New Amsterdam during the time covered by these volumes. To me the books contain information that must be sought for by a page to page examination. It will therefore require a great deal of time.

As Tarrytown has no public library, I would have to go to New York City to study the books - an expensive as well as tedious work. When I have finished my historical studies I would agree to present the volumes to a public library when such an one is formed in my village - In this form my application is as worthy of consideration as the application of any library not of New York State. This whole region was settled by the Holland Dutch and we all (through our ancestors) came here from Long Island by way of New Amsterdam -

Trusting that this application will be favorably considered I am very respectfully yours

Daniel Van Lassel

The City of Cleveland,

MAYOR'S OFFICE.

ROBERT E. MCKISSON, MAYOR.
EDWARD A. ROBERTS, SECRETARY.

November 27th, 1897.

Hon. William L. Strong,
MAYOR,
New York City, N. Y.

Dear Sir:-

An effort is being made by the street railroad companies of this city to obtain extensions of their franchises making them all expire twenty-five years from date. The date of expiration of the existing contracts under present arrangements is as follows:

LINE.	EXPIRES.	LENGTH OF PROPOSED EXTENSIONS.
Woodland avenue,	1904.	18 years.
Central avenue,	1905.	17 years.
West Side line,	1908.	14 years.
Superior and St. Clair streets,	1910.	12 years.
Brooklyn and Scovill avenue,	1910.	12 years.
East Cleveland and South Side,	1913.	9 years.
Broadway,	1914.	8 years.

The rates of fare in Cleveland now are: cash fare 5 cents, or 11 tickets for 50 cents. Transfers are given to connecting lines of each Company (there are two consolidations), and both companies transfer to a common cross town line. The Companies pay a license fee of $10 per car, and pave and maintain 16 feet of streets on which tracks are laid.

In return for the proposed extensions, the Companies offer 6 tickets for a quarter, 12 for fifty cents, or 25 for $1.00; universal transfers and a percentage of the gross receipts graded as follows: 3% for the first eight years; 4% for the second eight years; and 5% for the concluding nine years. The Companies, however, ask in lieu of this to be released from the car license fee, and also from the expense of repairing pavements when public improvements are made.

The fare on the East Cleveland line was reduced to 6 tickets for a quarter a few years ago, but was restored to 11 tickets for 50 cents upon the consolidation of the East Cleveland lines. The law in Ohio compels street railway companies to give universal transfers upon consolidation which it is understood the two existing companies are planning to effect, should the new franchises be obtained.

1. Do you think that in view of the rapid development of the facilities for carrying passengers and the constant decrease in operating expenses that this city can wisely grant a twenty-five year franchise with no provision for a revision of the rates of fare and percentages within that time?

2. Do you think that the concessions and return offered by the existing companies are sufficient to warrant the city in granting their demands, providing a twenty-five year franchise, should be permitted?

3. Do you not rather think that it would be better for this city to proceed under the present arrangement until the expiration of the first franchise in 1904, and then offer the franchises as they expire at public auction to the bidder who will give the most for them in the way of concessions to the people and return to the city?

4. Would you be kind enough to give me, in a word, your position on the street railroad question as it presents itself in American cities today.

The City of Cleveland,

MAYOR'S OFFICE.

ROBERT E. MCKISSON, MAYOR.

EDWARD A. ROBERTS, SECRETARY.

-3-

Your reply to this question at an early date will be of great value to me personally, and I believe to all the citizens of Cleveland, as this is the most important municipal question to arise here for many years.

Assuring you beforehand of my appreciation of your kindness, and likewise of my willingness to reciprocate your favors at any time an opportunity may offer,

I remain,

Yours respectfully,

Dear Sir:-

I have the honor to submit herewith complaint against Keith's Continous Performance Theatre, formerly Union Square Theatre on 14th Street, New York, of obtaining money under the following circumstances, which I believe to be unlawful and certainly most unjust.

A party of five of us purchased at their Ticket Office at about 7:50 o'clock on Friday evening last, Nov. 12th, five Tickets of admission, inquiry was made at the time as to the probability of our obtaining seats, and the Ticket Seller replied that he "could'nt say". After having paid $2.50 for the five tickets we entered the Theatre only to find it packed to the doors, there was not a seat to be had and little or no standing room. We immediately returned to the Ticket Office and demanded a refund of our money, which demand was refused, but an Official, (who was evidently employed for that purpose,) informed us that he would give us tickets for some other Performance. As two of our party were merely visiting the City and about returning home the next day, and for other good reasons, we refused to accept anything but our money. They claim that theirs is a continous Performance, and as people are coming and going all the time there are constantly seats vacated, this may be true in the day time, but certainly it is not so at night, and they take good care not to inform the public of that fact. Are they not bound to exhibit a sign or placard of "Standing-Room Only" in the manner that is done by other respectable Theatres?

I have therefore the honor to request that these people be summoned before yourself or the City Marshall in order that this outrageous behavior of theirs may be sifted to the bottom and the public protected from a continuation of this sort of treatment. There were fully a dozen surrounding the Ticket Office when we came out and exploited this matter before them; all of whom would have bought tickets had they not been informed by us that there was hardly standing room inside. In submitting this complaint I do so as a matter of principle and ask that this affair be looked into and this sort of business put a stop to at once.

Yours truly,

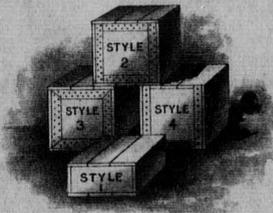

Robert C. Lowry

Dear Sir:-

I have to note receipt of yours of Nov. 17th in reply to mine to you of the 16th inst., concerning treatment received by my friends and myself at Keith's Theatre on Friday Evening, Nov. 12th, in which you promise to "have the matter looked into." May I therefore respectfully ask as to what action has been taken and if due inquiry has convinced you that under the present Laws or City Ordinances, it is impossible to reach these People, I would like to know it, for it is then my purpose to endeavor to have a Law framed that will protect the public from being swindled out of their money in the manner that we were swindled out of ours on the above named date. I would also ask as to whether it is not against the Law to crowd the spaces of the Theatre between the entrance doors and the last row of seats? I note that it is required that the aisles shall be kept clear on account of danger in case of fire, but if the spaces between the rear seats and the entrance doors are crowded full of people, (as was the case the night we were there,) it seems to me it would be almost as bad in case of panic as if the people were allowed to fill up the aisles. It is not my purpose to drop this matter until something is done for the protection of the general public, who having paid their money in good faith find themselves in such a crowded audience that it is impossible either to obtain a seat or to get a fair view of the Performance.

Yours truly,

Robert C. Lowry

Sir -

I've been reading in the paper Sir Richard Proctor's impudence. Think of him, a man who shot (between the v. Scamul) and killed a man in a vile saloon, sent to the State prison, & through their cunning trickery escaped hanging. About your ruling this City, you have the best any man could have done when this City was brought down to such a low ebb of corruption & blackguardism. Since the Civil War the Irish Catholics have ruled this City, it'll take the next 30 yrs. for honest American gentlemen like yourself to take the Office of Mayor to get this City a decent, honest, working order. Pres. Roosevelt is honest. Look at the abuse he's getting from the scum -

I blame Americans, very much Aldermen Roman Kungl & Scilling (can tell by their names what they are) want $⁵ kept as it is, if they could get $500 for signing their names for a R. Road through they'd do ^{it} in a moment.

Who ever heard of gentleman Groter working for an honest living, he is ~~going~~ gambling in England, with horses, money he robs from this City. How has he come back for? - I suppose for more money, why don't he stay in England, this Country can get along splendidly with out him - he has come from Rome

I don't think much of the Prince of Wales if he had anything to do with gentleman Croker - I hope the Lord will forgive but I do hate Irish Catholics there's no making them honest -

I'd like to know how to write an Article for a paper, but to do so I'd have to know exactly how to word it & be very careful at that -

I believe you would be

To Charles H. T. Collis, Esq., as Commissioner of Public Works of the City of New York, and To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York.

Gentlemen:

We have been consulted by Messrs. Henry H. Heert, William T. Purdy, David M. Williams, William H. Caldwell, Frank Hardy, Charles Mann, Zachariah T. Benson, Edward Callan, Richard Webber, Charles B. Tooker, Nathan Lemlein, Charles P. Murphy, Patrick Norton, Charles D. Brand, Joseph Kahan and others, property owners on Third Avenue, in the neighborhood of the new Harlem Bridge, now in course of construction, with respect to the character of approaches which are being built upon the south side of the Harlem River, under the plans as prepared by the Commissioner of Public Works, and approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

An examination of Chapter 413 of the Laws of 1892 (as amended by Chapter 716 of the Laws of 1896), under which the bridge and approaches are being built and constructed, has convinced us that any plan which fails to connect the northerly end of the Third Avenue in the Twelfth Ward with the southerly end of said avenue in the Twenty-third Ward, so as to keep the avenue as laid out and opened many years ago, open as a continuous thoroughfare, fails to comply with the plain requirement of the law. Yet we understand that the northerly end of the avenue, in the Twelfth Ward, under the present plans, is actually closed by a solid wall of masonry which has been built as a sustaining wall to an approach leading to the west and east, and that travel, either by persons, animals, vehicles or traffic, directly across the Harlem River, from the northerly end of Third Avenue in the Twelfth Ward to or from the Twenty-third Ward, upon a continuation of the avenue, is rendered impossible. Indeed, the Harlem River cannot be crossed at such point by the present proposed bridge by either persons, animals or traffic, without digressing most substantially from the direct line of Third Avenue, in either a westerly or easterly direction off Third Avenue, or by ascending a flight of stairs.

It is believed by those whom we represent that the plan thus adopted, and under which the Commissioner of Public Works is now building the approaches under contract, does not meet the requirement of the law, but violates it.

We understand that Mr. Collis, the present Commissioner of Public Works, has been frequently waited upon of late and his attention has been called to the alleged discrepancy pointed out in this letter, but he takes the position, as we also understand, that he has no power to change the present plans without further legislation on the subject.

We are not sufficiently advised whether the subject matter has been directly brought to the attention of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and therefore take this means of bringing it before you for such action in the premises as you may deem proper.

In behalf of our clients, however, we beg most respectfully to say that if the approaches to the bridge are built in accordance with the plan as adopted, and Third Avenue is to be closed at the northerly end in the Twelfth Ward, as appears from the present plan, and as is indicated by the wall of masonry already erected there, then little short of ruin will follow to a large number of shop-keepers, and serious depreciation in the value of Third Avenue real estate will result, and an avenue that has existed since colonial days will be closed at the point of the location of said wall, without resort to the usual means of closing a public street.

Our clients desire to test the legality of your action in the premises in some appropriate form, but, preparatory to resorting to legal proceedings to that end, through us demand that the Commissioner of Public Works erect and construct, of stone, iron or steel, or one or more of these materials, a suitable drawbridge and approaches thereto, with the necessary abutments and arches over adjacent streets or avenues, for the passage of all persons, animals, vehicles and traffic across the Harlem River in the City of New York, connecting the northerly end of Third Avenue, in the Twelfth Ward of said City, with the southerly end of Third Avenue, in the Twenty-third Ward of said city, said bridge to be constructed as near as possible in the position occupied by the bridge heretofore existing at that place, and which was removed, and to make such changes in the grade lines of the streets or avenues approaching the said bridge as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of said act (Chapter 413, Laws of 1892 as amended by Chapter 716, Laws of 1896), and for the proper construction of the improvement authorized by said act, and that the other features of said act be complied with by said Commissioner of Public Works, and particularly those other features relating to said bridge called for by Section I of said act, a reference to which will readily inform you thereof. And we also demand that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, on its part, shall approve of such plans and specifications for the said bridge and approaches thereto, with the necessary abutments and arches, as well the proposed changes on the grade line of the streets or avenues approaching the said bridge as are authorized and made necessary in order to carry out the requirements of said act.

Your immediate action on this demand is respectfully urged on behalf of our clients.

We have the honor to remain

Your most obedient servants,

To Mayor Strong of New

Having seen in the Philadelphia Record the report of the Board of Health of your city, and seeing an article "A discovery in Electricity for diseases", stimulates me, in a research of thirty years, of a new discovery to prevent diseases, which I think is the greatest achievement of science, we will begin with consumption which is more dreaded, and more baffling

impeded in their work. Now the lungs were supposed to be the center of this disease, we find in our investigations the office of the lungs was for respiration, and cleansing the blood, each organ having their distinct work, we also find the lungs in a healthy state. As the boiler is to the steam engine, so is the human stomach to the human body. Our bodies are pieces of machinery, and are made to run one hundred years, or more. If the organs are not than any in its cure, the attempt seems to be something to cure, but so far, no specific has been obtained, mine is no cure, but a preventive. I bring my discovery through experience in my family of five healthy children.

As the boiler is to the steam engine, so is the human stomach to the human body. Our bodies are pieces of machinery, and are made to run one hundred years, or more. If the organs are not could live twenty four hours, night air being supposed to be deadly poisonous. If germs do exist, when and how do they originate, ~~next~~ Too much fuel to the furnace resul-ts in explosion, likewise the stomach over-charged, sickness and decay ensues

Now arises the question what produces consumption the old theory that outside influence was the invisible cause, such as exposure, draughts, heredity, &c to my mind this theory has long ago been exploded, and with experience I find

every thing has a cause, when humanity can be educated to that point to investigate the cause, then the boon to science and humanity will have begun.
If my policy is accepted and pursued, the day is not far distant when consumption will be relegated to the dark ages. It is an education that the people need in regard to health and hygiene.
The Board concluded that consumption was preventable, that it was not inherited, but was acquired by contact, the contact I hope to explode.

I would like to make known my education,
and submit it to your
Board of Health,

with the hope of relieving suffering humanity

I am very shy, and not accustomed to publicity consequently would ask my real name suppressed. Very Respt

52 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK,

November, 1897.

DEAR SIR:

For its first two years the work of this Committee was largely of preparation. This was due in part to the extent to which in 1896 national issues, and during the present year those of the city campaign, crowded to one side non-partisan educational work such as ours, but even more to the extent to which our work had to be organized from the very foundation.

There was no general source of information as to what had been published on municipal problems. In March, 1897, we published a Bibliography with both subject and author indexes, including 9,000 entries referring to 3,400 titles, in English, French, German, Italian, Austrian and Spanish, to which we have already added three quarterly supplements.

There was on this continent no special library worthy of the name of such literature. We have collected a first-rate working library of 1,200 volumes, which is rapidly increasing.

There was no publication devoted to the discussion of distinctively city problems. We have established the quarterly magazine, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS, of which the first number was devoted to the Bibliography above alluded to. In succeeding ones have been discussed, by writers on both sides of each leading question, the more vital problems of municipal development; and we have already commenced the compilation of a systematic report upon the scope and late development of municipal functions throughout the world. This the Committee hopes to publish in March next.

During the year past we held six public dinners and receptions at the Reform Club, at each of which some subject of special interest to New York City was discussed by speakers selected as those best qualified to treat it. It is proposed to continue this series during the coming year.

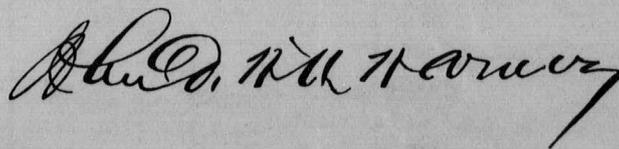

Among the subjects coming within the scope of these discussions are Municipal Finance, Assessments for Benefit, Franchises, Transportation, Public Works, Gas and Water Supply, Electric Lighting, Schools, Charities, Hospitals, Prisons, Docks, Street Cleaning, Police, Protection against Fire, Parks, Markets, Excise, Libraries, Museums, Amusements, Public Art (Music, Painting, Statuary, Monuments, etc.).

We propose so to extend our work as to supply speakers on municipal topics to societies and clubs which shall promise appreciative audiences and provide halls; and also to have compiled and circulated monographs on special city subjects.

In view of the Club's experience of the efficacy of similar work in other lines, we propose to establish a municipal affairs "Supply Bureau," whence we can promptly furnish, at moderate rates, the more popular, useful and trustworthy works on each of the more important subjects involved.

Our work is strictly educational and non-partisan. It must be some years yet, if ever, before our quarterly, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS, can be even approximately self-sustaining. Meanwhile, large expenditures should be made upon our library, which is not merely necessary for our work, but is fast becoming better known and more consulted by students and writers from every part of the country.

The popular demand for education on municipal affairs is so great and growing as to call for the utmost of energy that can be put at our disposal. The Committee proposes to do its utmost in co-operation with all public-spirited citizens toward furnishing information upon every phase of city life, and toward making the Greater New York a better New York for all of its people.

The Hon. William L. Strong:

Dear Sir,

I write to call your attention to the fact that there has been no publication ^{in the City Record} of the First Auditor's Quarterly Report (Comptroller's Office) since the number of the City Record dated June 28th, 1894. That report only brought matters down to December 31st, 1896.

So it is impossible ^{for me} to find out what the separate and itemized expenditures of the city have been during the current year.

Before you retire from office, would you compel the Supervisor of the City Record to do his duty and furnish the First Auditor's reports? I am told that they have been made and copies furnished to the Supervisor of the City Record; but that that official has neglected to publish them.

Yours respectfully,

James A. Butler.

Honorable Sir: Pardon my intruding on you with these few lines, I am in a dilemma & wish you to help me out of it if you can in a business way. I am a resident of this City for the last 32 years, this is the sixth time I have ventured in business as a mechanic never lost any but my own hard earned resources & every time when I thought I might breathe up a little some rascally financial move came to destroy all my exertions as you now see I had to have recourse to the same compulsory loss I am now proposing some one to reap the benefit of my toil. Now I am honest & industrious & intelligent but I am not inside the perpetual privilege beneficiary Ring. I wish to obtain a loan of $500. I am perfectly able to cover the amount if allowed one year time at 10/100. I can not obtain it now here in the money market. Can you advise me. Two years ago the Building Dep^{mt} played a trick on me finding that I had too much weight in the floor, my damage was & is over $3000. by the move for which I have no redress. I can not issue bonds, nor can I obtain a loan in our money market. I am threatened with dispossession for non payment of Rent.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

CITY OF INDIANAPOLIS.

THOMAS TAGGART, MAYOR.

Indianapolis, Ind, Dec, 6, 1897.

To The Honorable Mayor of New York, N. Y.,

Dear Sir:-

The Eighth National Convention of the Boys & Girls National and Employment Association convenes in this City December 14th and 15th. His Excellency, Governor James A. Mount, has called upon the Executives of all the States to send delegates. The Indianapolis School Board and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction have made a like request on State Officials and School Boards of the principal cities to send representatives.

There is every probability of a large attendance at the Convention. From reports at hand from Chiefs of Police of the principal cities throughout the United States explanatory of crimes among youths, I am convinced that this Association has adapted the best known methods for reducing crimes among our criminal classes of youths.

I feel it my duty to ask that the Mayor of each city send one or two delegates to the Convention, and in this way testify their interest in the work of this Association. I notice from certificates furnished by the officials of cities where the plan of reform contemplated by this society is in operation, a decrease in commitments among youths last year to station houses and reform schools, of 50%. This shows a reduction of crimes among youths never before attained by any other association.

Trusting that your Honor will send one or more delegates, I am,

Yours very respectfully,

T. Taggart

Mayor.

Dear Mayor Strong:-

In noticing list of invitations you have just sent out for meeting on Thursday to properly celebrate the new city of New York, I see our favorite President of the New York Press Club, Jos. Howard Jr., of which I am one of the active members, has been left out.

Thinking this must be a matter of oversight, I simply wish to bring it to your attention.

I had the pleasure of shaking your hand at the Guest Table when talking with Mr. Depew Saturday evening, and hearing your good words on that occasion, and in your address bringing out the point that the City of New York would go out of business at midnight, December 31st.

I do hope to be able to take part in that great celebration, and regret exceedingly we are to part with so good a Mayor, who has made such a wonderful record as you have.

With kindest regards, and sentiments of high personal esteem,

I am,

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Friend:-

Christmas is rapidly approaching with all its festivities and joys, but as many of us look forward to the season with joyous anticipation, we recall the fact that to thousands in this great City it will prove but a season of gloom and poverty.

It is upon our hearts to give the children a spread of turkey, pudding, cake and other good things. As we reflect upon the scheme and the real pleasure such a treat would be to these little ones we feel sure that friends will take an interest in helping us to arrange the plan.

We shall feed just as many as we have the means to supply.

May we, dear friend, count upon you for a donation towards this object, and will you give us permission to use your name as an inducement to influence others to give also?

In helping we shall not only feel that we have brightened our own Christmas, but that of others also.

Believe me

Faithfully Yours in a Righteous cause,

Mayor Strong.

Dear Sir;

I have the honor to hand you herewith copy of a report adopted this day at the monthly meeting of this Board and I am directed to invite the attention of your Honor to the resolutions forming a part of the report requesting you to call a meeting of representative citizens to consider the importance of deepening the channels of approach to the Harbor of New York.

Mr Vanderbilt the Chairman of the Committee of this Board will thank you very much if you will do him the honor to name a time when he may confer with you on the subject of the proposed meeting.

I remain very respectfully,

Frank S. Gardner Secretary

(Burr)

NEW YORK, December 8, 1897.

To the New York Board of Trade and Transportation :

The deepening of the nation's main water outlet for its surplus farm products to the foreign consumer is of the greatest importance at this time as an essential factor in reducing the cost of transportation which is deducted before the net proceeds reaches the producer.

In recent years much labor and money have been expended in efforts to reduce the cost of transportation to the Seaboard from the West

In his last speech, delivered before the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, January 29th, 1891, the late William Windom, said : "Improvements made by the transportation companies themselves have been very satisfactory, but though much has been accomplished in the cheapening of rates, much remains to be done. If I might be allowed to suggest another very desirable improvement, it would be that more water be put into our harbors and canals, and less into some of our railroad stocks."

By the Hudson River New York has the only water route through the chain of mountains from Georgia to Nova Scotia. The West was mainly settled through this route; and this route, including the Great Lakes, the Erie Canal, and the Hudson River has been the nation's main water outlet for the surplus products of the West to the foreign market. The harbor of New York at the mouth of the Hudson River has been and is the main outlet for both the water and rail routes. The harbor of New York and the condition of its channels, therefore, is of as much, if not more, importance to every producer and merchant of the great West as to the merchants of New York City. The question is not, "What does the City of New York want?" but "What does the country need as regards New York Harbor? What must the country have" ?

If we are to maintain our commerce and compete with foreign countries in supplying food products, the improvement of our canals, our railroads and our water front will not suffice. The railroads and canals can bring to this port the products of the country in large and increasing quantities only if the outlet to the ocean be maintained of adequate width and depth to accommodate safely and without delays the vessels of greater length and depth which are now being built. It will be folly to provide piers and slips of sufficient length and depth to accommodate such vessels, if the channels by which our harbor is approached are of inadequate depth and width to make the entry of such vessels safe and speedy at all conditions of tide and of weather. Experience has demonstrated that the larger ships are the cheapest carriers, all conditions contributing to reduce time in loading and discharging, and there being no delay in entering or departing from port. If, however, the vessel is subjected to delay by reason of shallow water and narrow channel the loss imposed speedily eats up the advantages. The channels approaching New York Harbor are at this time 30 feet in depth at mean low water. Conditions often prevail which reduce this depth. Several vessels now running out of this port have a regulation draught of 32 feet. Other vessels are building which will have an equal draught. The depth and width of the channels of New York Harbor impose the only limit to the size and capacity of the steamship. In limiting the ship the process of cheapening transportation is also limited. Cheaper transportation is not so much in the interest of the export port as of the producer. The abolition of tolls on the State canals, according to the late Governor Seymour, changed the balance of trade enormously in favor of our country, because it reduced the cost of taking our products abroad and enabled us to compete with the foreign producer without reducing the price at the point of production in the West. In a proportionate degree will a reduction in the cost of ocean transportation facilitate the export of our products and redound to our national welfare. If because other ports are so far from the ocean as to make it impracticable by reason of enormous prohibitive cost to have their channels deepened to accommodate the great ships of the present day, it would be unwise for this country, and the West especially, to fail to deepen the channels of New York harbor, when the returns would be so important, immediate and sure. The importance of cheapening the cost of outward transportation may be illustrated by comparing high rates with an obstruction behind which the waters of a river are backed up and made to overflow its banks. The excess of waters held back by the obstruction causes the damage. So the excess of production retained in the country or held back by high charges for transportation, whether on ocean or on land, causes lower prices at the point of production and consequent loss to the producer.

But aside from the national and most important view, New York has done enough for the export trade and commerce of the country to entitle her harbor to the necessary disbursements which will make her channels deep enough to admit the largest vessels in the world, and it will not be amiss to refer here to what New York state and city has done and is doing toward cheapening transportation from the West.

This Board, since its organization in 1873, has held of vital importance to the country the improvement of every facility for the handling and transfer of freight at this port, for the cheapening of transportation to this port by rail and by water, and for the improvement of our harbor, by all of which the commercial supremacy of the City, State and Nation is so largely maintained.

From 1875 to 1882 the State of New York systematically reduced the tolls on the State canals, and by the efforts of this Board the canals were made free of tolls in 1882. In 1885 the late Governor Horatio Seymour, in a letter addressed to this Board, said: "In ten years, from 1866 to 1875, the balance of trade against this country was $817,429,674; from 1876 to 1883—a period of eight years—the balance of trade was in favor of our country to the amount of $1,307,229,276. THIS WAS CAUSED BY THE REDUCTION OR ABOLITION OF TOLLS. This is shown by the fact that the cost of carrying a bushel of grain from Chicago to New York by railroad in 1868 was 42 cents; in 1882 it was 14 cents. By lake and canal the cost was 25 cents in 1868; in 1882 it was less than 9 cents."

The advantages of maintaining the artificial water route to New York City being so fully demonstrated, this Board in 1884 inaugurated the movement for deepening the New York State Canals and improving their locks, and we secured for these purposes from the Legislature between 1885 and 1894 an aggregate of about $3,500,000. The State Constitutional Convention of 1894 offered the opportunity to make an appeal direct to the people of New York State for a sum sufficient to complete these improvements without delay. A measure was drafted and approved by the people which provided the sum of $9,000,000 for canal improvements, which are now being constructed by the State.

The improvement of our water front has been earnestly and successfully urged by this Board, and it most actively seconded the efforts of the Dock Department and advocated the passage of the bills at Albany, which made possible the important improvements on the water fronts of our city recently undertaken, and now in progress. Special mention should be made of the great improvements being constructed on the North River between Charles and Twenty-third Streets, as advocated by this Board. The improvement embraces five new piers, 700 and 750 feet long, with slips between 250 feet wide, the piers being 125 feet in width. These piers begin near Charles Street, and will be constructed between Charles and Gansevoort Streets. Together they will furnish 8,963 feet of new wharfage room. The plan also embraces seven new piers from Bloomfield Street to West 23d Street, two piers at West 13th Street, and one at northerly side of Bloomfield Street, each 800 feet long, and a short pier at West 22d Street, this section adding 16,496 feet of wharfage room, or an aggregate for the entire improvement of 25,459 feet, being nearly five miles.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the great importance of these improvements and the benefits they must confer upon the commerce of this Port and of the country. No argument is needed to convince one familiar with our water front that additional facilities were immediately needed for the accommodation of the larger ocean steamers recently constructed and to be constructed. The early completion of these improvements will afford the necessary facilities on our city water front for these larger vessels, and will relieve in a measure the congested condition of shipping in this Port. The location of the improvements is such as will bring closer together the great ocean steamships which carry our products abroad, and the important railroad lines terminating at this Port, which, with the State canals, bring to us for export so large a portion of the products of the West.

While New York has an interest in maintaining the commerce which seeks this harbor, and has expended many millions of dollars to secure that end, the country at large has always benefited to a greater degree by New York's munificent disbursements. The harbor is absolutely under the control of the National Government, and New York cannot of itself decide the depth and width of channels therein. Congress alone can decide the destiny of this most important gateway of the commerce of the country.

In conclusion your committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions :

Resolved, That the Committee on Ocean Transportation be instructed to use its best efforts to secure from Congress at its present session the appropriations necessary to deepen and widen the channels of New York Harbor as recommended by the Engineers of the War Department.

Resolved, That we respectfully request His Honor, the Mayor of New York, to call a meeting of representative citizens, to be held in the Governor's Room at the City Hall, or such other place as His Honor may deem best, to consider the importance of deepening the channels of approach to the Harbor of New York, and to appoint a committee of one hundred citizens to co-operate with the Committee of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, and like committees of other commercial bodies, to urge upon Congress the appropriation of the money necessary to secure such object.

His Honor, Mayor Strong,
City Hall, City.

Dear Sir:-

As a member of the Committee to celebrate the passing away of New York City, allow me to suggest to you that you give me an order to collect for you all newspaper paragraphs which appear about this important event. I would suggest that these notices should be carefully pasted on plate paper for you, and afterwards appropriately bound into a scrapbook.

There is no doubt that a book of this kind would possess unusual historical value in years to come, and there certainly I think, ought to be one such book in the City Library, and perhaps one each, in the other public libraries. I have had considerable experience in compiling such books and if you give me an order I promise to do the work in a satisfactory manner and at a very reasonable rate. I should be glad to submit estimate and sheets on which I propose to paste the notices.

Trusting to hear from you, I remain, yours faithfully

Dear Mr. Romeike :

I have just received the Memorial Scrap-books prepared by you for His Majesty the Emperor of Russia. In binding, ornamentation and completeness of detail these volumes are very satisfactory.

Truly yours,

PRINCE CANTACUZENE,
Minister of Russia to the United States.

RIGH TRIUMPH OF BOOK-MAKING.

Gold-Clasp, Seal-Bound Scrap-books Shipped from New York to the Czar.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—[Special Correspondence.]—Count Cantacuzene, Russian Ambassador to the United States, has just shipped to the Czar four volumes, made to the Imperial order, which are genuine curiosities of book-making, and will attract the attention of bibliophiles the world over.

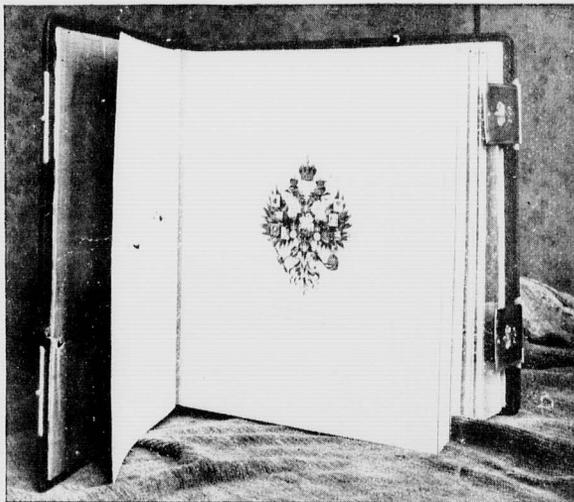

These memorial volumes, got up by Mr. Henry Romeike, on specifications prescribed by the Czar's representative in America, are fifteen by seventeen and one-half inches in size, and four and one-half inches thick, three of them bound in black seal with purple silk linings, and the fourth done in red seal with white silk linings with massive clasps of gold and silver.

No finer specimens of the book-maker's art have been seen here, but it is the nature of their contents and the method of their manufacture which makes the Czar's scrap-books so interesting. The three bound in black seal contain each 100 pages of plate paper on which have been pasted, with infinite pains, clippings from the American newspapers and magazines relating to the last illness, death, and obsequies of the Czar Alexander III. On the frontispiece of these volumes appears the Imperial coat-of-arms of Russia with the Latin inscription as follows:

Alexandro III. Patri Atque Principi, Integro Vitæ Scelerisque Puro.

On the clasps of each is engraved a facsimile of the late Emperor's cipher, a crown and "A. III." The fourth book, in red seal, especially intended for the eyes of the Czar Nicholas, contains the cream of comments of the American newspapers on his marriage, with many pictures of himself and his bride, gleaned by Romeike's clipping bureau from thousands of journals, and forming a unique collection. The gold clasps on this volume show the cipher of the present Czar, "N. II."

ROMEIKE, as the inventor of the Press Cutting Business, is known on both sides of the Atlantic. Thousands of the most prominent people here and abroad have been and are subscribers to his Bureau of Press Cuttings, and receive from him daily clippings about themselves or on any subject gleaned from the World's leading newspapers and magazines. In addition to this well-established service, he has in the last few years started a department for the compiling of scrap-books. The clippings are first carefully mounted on the very best plate paper, and are then tastefully and appropriately bound. What better gift can be made as a wedding present than a complete and handsome scrap-book? What finer monument at the close of an active professional career than a richly bound, solid scrap-book containing the gist of the best current estimate of one's personality and life work? Among such scrap-books made lately, a few may be mentioned which have attracted considerable attention: The twelve sets of books containing the obituary notices of the late Senator Hearst; the six sets relating to the famous philanthropist George W. Childs; the three sets on J. Hood Wright, and the one or two more sets referring to W. T. Walters, Baltimore; Eugene Kelly; Princess Bismarck; Emperor Fred-eric of Germany, and Alexander III. of Russia.

Dear Sir:-

We notice in this mornings SUN that you say that the rproceedings of the proposed meeting to celebrate the merging of Brooklyn and New York might be preserved in a volume that will be valued more one hundred years hence than at the present time.

Why would not a scrap book containing all newspaper reference to this proposed meeting be just as valuable?

We will make you such a scrap book if you will give us the order.

We will be glad to submit samples of our work at any time you may name.

How. W. G. Stronge,
Mayor of N. Y. City,

I noticed in this morning's Journal some remarks about the Riverside Drive extension, and its probable cost. There is no doubt it would cost from 5 to 10 Million dollars, probably more to do this work properly. Do you think there is any immediate need of any extension of Riverside Drive? No doubt it is a grand scheme of some large holders of real estate to unload on the city at a tremendous advance for their benefit. Ask them to foot the bill for this intended improvement and you will then hear them howl. I can't see any sense in making such an extension as the Grand Boulevard would be just 250 feet east of Riverside Drive.

We understand that you are forming a Committee of anti Plattites in Greater New York, therefore we take the liberty of recommending a name from the above organization. We are Anti-Platt men, and all enrolled members of the Citizens Union and belong to the wage earners class of our District. To his Honor Mayor Wm. L. Strong -

Dear Sir -

This statement has been indorsed by the League and ordered printed in every newspaper in French, German, Italian and English. It was desired that it might be read before the Board of Apportionment and therefore it is necessary to forward to you the original rough draft of the document.

To the City Editor N.Y. -
Dear Sir.

Many good people are suffering from the apprehension and misapprehension that the N.Y. Medical League is opposing charity to the sick poor. This is entirely foreign to the purposes of that body. Therefore we are directed to communicate to you and through you to the public the following platform statement.

The N.Y. Med. League believes

- 1st. That there is not enough charity work done in this city.
- 2nd. That there is too much of the Benevolence Business. That the poor are deprived of the alms provided for them, because ^{all} those alms do not reach the truly needy, through the ^{proper} indirect channels. And that it is a shame that any institution should show handsome ^{annual} earnings and yet beg for city money, especially, when such earnings represent the ~~groundings~~ ^{groundings} of poverty. money derived from the poor.
- 3rd. That all Dispensaries etc. should be free. That it is a cruel and unnecessary hardship to ask poverty-stricken men to pay anything for medicine or surgical appliances.
- 4th. That it is a bad policy to give city money to private institutions - to the detriment and loss of those public ones appointed to care for our sick poor. That the city institutions are in need of repairs - of improvement in sanitation and illumination and of larger and better accommodations for the sick poor. And that the inmates of the city hospitals should be better fed, warmed and clad while under treatment.

- 5th. That it is all wrong to give public money to Medical Colleges whose profits go into the pockets of the faculty ^{on the institution} and who are just as much money-making enterprises as a gas company.
- 6th. That it is an outrage that the ~~the~~ City of New York should be limited to less than thirty cents a day per patient - while it gives over one dollar per day to institutions of a private character.
- 7th. That Board of apportionment stood a tie, two to two, and the chairman cast the deciding vote. Therefore the Mayor is responsible for the fact that the municipal institutions will be a reproach to our City because the money that should have gone for their urgent necessities has been given away. As he himself stated in a certain case "Because he knew the men interested".
- 8th. ~~Finally~~ we believe that the taxpayers are willing that ^{the private persons.} Mayor ~~should~~ should give their own money - but we do not believe they will approve of any diversion ~~of~~ ^{from} of ~~the city's~~ ^{of the} their money away ^{from} the public institutions: or of any gift ^{of the} to close corporations. ~~because he knew the~~
- ~~truth.~~
- 9th. Finally. We wish to state that in the crowd who protested there were representatives of taxpayers associations, business men etc. etc. The Doctors were there simply because, ^{of} their knowledge of the force behind the scenes covered ~~with~~ by the mantle of ^a so-called charity - which ~~cried give give.~~

Wm. L. Stearns Esq

Mayor

Sir

A great mistake is about to be made in relation to the site of the new Library.

If an Executor should act as the Com: here, in disposing of the Estate property, he would be called to account.

As to the 5th Av. lots they would sell readily for Two millions of dollars, or more, and this is too large a sum for the City to lose.

If sold they would become taxable property, and the interest on the two millions, together with the taxes, would soon amount to a fabulous sum.

If not sold they should be leased for 21 years, with two renewals. They could be leased at high rates.

A much better site for the Library is found on the adjoining ^{property} extending from 40th to 42nd Sts - 100 to 150 feet on each street.

Here the Library would escape the noise and dust of 5th Av.

John Jacob Astor chose a quiet and more suitable place for his Library. There is no need for such an immense institution as the one proposed. A Library is not valued by its size but by the calibre of its books. The Libraries now built are frequented by a very few, proving that they more than satisfy the demand.

The City of Brooklyn, in a few days will have a direct interest in this property, and a due regard for her interests, should stop all proceedings, until her voice can be heard.

No one can appraise the 5th Av. Lots, as they will be 21 years hence.

The better plan is to lease them.

His Honor, The Mayor

Esteemed and dear sir -

I said something yesterday overheard by a stranger, who said why do you not write to The Mayor about it - so I take courage and ask you if you can do any thing in the way of helping citizens to obtain the right of going up or down Broadway in cars on one rate, as it is, the of 42nd St. have to walk the every block from 5th and 6th and to Broadway to get the cable or take 6th and car which the same Metropolitan Controls Traction Company

they get out of X crossing of 6th Avenue and ^{in cube car} pay another fare to go down Broadway below 34th street. Is it right or just that we should not have transfer tickets at this point - up and down why should a poor man or woman be obliged to pay double fare 10 cts each time, there business call, then on this route ^{up & down} it is equal to all that four dollars can earn in a year, just to ride up and down Broadway once a day. ^{20 cts} The rates are too high any way and no comfort is afforded. They exchange with no 42nd cross route, give no transfer Perhaps you could suggest one official to be appointed for ^{else} nothing than to be ^{street car} Commissioner of the City of Greater New York to force the whole traffic of of street cars to do their business for the benefit and full accommodation of the tax payers & citizens of this great city: (which we had hoped would be ruled by you, for at least one term more).

For women it is painful in extreme; the height of heels is one reason for so many accidents, whose business to know whether they are at-lawful ^{height} or no. Others - suffer from hanging their weight on straps till the body strains and the head and heart sick, at the neglect that allow such things to ^{exist} to those that a nation should respect for its own safeguard.

I hope you will, even if - it is an innovation give a parting letter of good advice, before your retire from us, as our dearly beloved and honored Major Strong

May you live a good long life.
Could you be such a commissioner as I am?

Dear Sir,

In reference to your suggestion to have something done to welcome the New Year and the birth of Greater N.Y. I think the Metropolitan Opera House, Carnegie Music Hall or some other suitable place can be secured and a Grand Concert given from about 11 to 11-45 interspersed with a "few remarks" - at 11-50 a Grand National Potpourri by the Band and as the hour of 12 approaches the Grand old Air "Auld Lang Syne" with a Grand Chorus and the Audience. The Gong strikes the hour of 12 the Band plays "The Greater N.Y. March" and "The Stars and Stripes forever" and "1898" and "All Hail Greater N.Y.", suddenly appears in Electric Lights, then "On with the Dance" the floor being already prepared for dancing.
