The People } Court of General Sessions. Part I Jacob Kahl } Before Judge Cowing. April 6. 1887 and William Miller } Indictment for burglary in the third degree.

James Lamb sworn. I live at 212 Madison St.; my stable is at 207 Madison St.; it was broken open on the night of the 25th of March; my driver locked it up a little after 7 o'clock, his name is Dan Hurley, he is not here, I did not see him lock it up. About 11 1/2 o'clock the same night Mr. Wild notified me that the stable had been broken into and that the prisoners had been arrested and taken to the station house. Then I examined the door of my stable I found the lock broken off and I afterwards saw the lock at the station house; the lock now shown me is the one. I used that padlock I suppose four or five months. I guess it was about October when the same stable was broken and the mate to that was broken and a set of harness taken.

Michael J. Grossman sworn. I live 207 Madison St. I remember the evening of the 25th of March. I stable there. I locked the door about 6 1/2 o'clock and took the key with me and returned about eleven and found the prisoners up against the door on the outside and the lock hanging down. I lit the candle I had in my hand. I asked them what they were doing there? They said they were committing a nuisance. I says, this is no place to do that. It is in a large alley, they were called out of the alley. Mr. Wild pursued one of them and caught him (Kahl); another witness pursued Miller who had a jimmy; he threw it away. I did not see him throw it away. I saw them both run when they got to the mouth of the alley; they were both arrested that night and I was present when they searched. I saw some Keys and a candle taken from him. Cross Examined. There were seven horses valued at three hundred dollars a piece and there were blankets there worth ten dollars a piece. I believe that a driver of the name of Murphy was the last to leave the stable that night; each driver had a Key.

Mr. Blank sworn. I live 124 East Broadway and on the evening of the 25th of March I heard an alarm of "stop thief". I was at the corner of Madison and Jefferson Sts. I ran after Miller; while I was running after him, he turned around and looked at me again and when I got near enough he pulled back his coat and pulled out the jimmy out of his side pocket; he said, "Don't come near me or I will hit you," Just then Officer Powers came and grabbed him. I say to the policeman, "he has got a pistol." Going down there is a grass plot and he pulled the "jimmy" out of his pocket and chucked it in this particular place and it struck the fence. The officer gave me a match, I went over the fence and found it. Miller said, "if it was a pistol, you would not be hear now."

Lawrence P. Power sworn. I am an officer of the Seventh Precinct. I was on duty about midnight on March 25th standing between Jefferson and Rutgers Sts. and East Broadway. I heard the cry of 'Stop thief.' I saw the prisoner Kahl run from Jefferson St. I pursued him and James Wild had got him. I was told that he attempted to break in the stable. I asked him if that was so and he said, 'No.' I gave the witness Blenk a match to get what he supposed was a pistol, which turned out to be a "jimmy." I searched the prisoners and found two pieces of candle, cord, and a chain with the words, "Kingston house, Chatham Square 168 on it." Miller said he used the "jimmy" as a plumbers tool. He said he had been working for a man at 23 Harrison St. and when I went there there was no plumbing shop there.

William Miller, sworn and examined in his own defence testified: I reside at 23 West Fifty third st. and am a plumber. I worked for Mr. Cox at the Kingston house. I knew him in Rio Janeiro. I was working on this day in question ^{for} Mr. Cox, fixing a hydrant for him. I bought this tool for 25 cents and I had the candle to enable me to fix the pipe. After I finished the job I met a friend of mine and he invited me to have a drink. I left him at the corner of Jefferson st. and was short taken and went into this alley. This other prisoner asked me for a light and I gave him a match. Mr. Lamb came in and asked us what we were doing? I explained to him and he told me it was not a right place to do such things. I excused myself that I was short taken and could not help it. Men came out of the saloon and commenced throwing stones at us. I pulled out the instrument and told them to keep away from me. We were arrested and they made a charge at the station house that we were trying to break into this stable. I was never arrested before. Jacob Kahl testified that he went into the alleyway to answer a call of nature and that the other prisoner was a stranger to him and did not go in there with him. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of an attempt to commit burglary in the third degree.

Statement of Facts for the Prosecution.

Complainant and defendant formed their acquaintance in Paris, France, and in January, 1874, they came on the same steamer to this country. The reason for their emigration was that, he being a German, the French laws interposed too many obstacles to their contemplated marriage. In New York the marriage was not at once consummated on account of lack of funds. The complainant took a position as children's nurse in a family on Fifth Avenue, and the defendant, worked at his trade as a tailor. On the 6th of November, 1875, at No. 411 Fifth Street, city of New York, they were married by Pastor Raegner. The marriage certificate at the time obtained by the complainant is among the papers in the hands of the prosecution. Pastor Raegeny's present residence is 854 President Street, Brooklyn. Two children were the issue of this marriage; one of whom is still living.

In April 1880, under the pretense that the physicians had advised an ocean trip and a change of climate to Mrs. Kugel, the defendant sent her back to Paris, giving her in all $500 and promising to send regular ~~payments~~ ^{drafts} to Paris while she would be there. He did send neither money nor letter, but a brother of the defendant wrote to the party with whom Mrs. Kugel was staying, that the defendant lived with his ~~husband~~ as husband and wife. As soon as the complainant could earn the necessary money, she started back for New York, and on the 2nd of July, 1880, she landed again in New York. She lived there at defendant's house, but he never spent a single night in the house.

but merely called in day time, and slept with Miss Thumml in a house in Tenth Street, between First Avenue and Avenue A. As he gave the complainant $5 every week and paid the rent for the floor she occupied, she, advised by her friends, thought she could not proceed against him in court.
Afterwards he with the aid of Miss Thumml's brother removed all the valuable furniture and informed the landlord that he would pay no more rent. The complainant was then compelled to hire a room and bed room in a Ten-ment house for herself and her two children. She instituted proceedings for maintenance in a Police Court, and the defendant was adjudged to pay her $6 a week and to give $500 bail. This was furnished by a friend upon receipt of $500 cash from the defendant. He paid the $6 for three weeks and then begged the complainant to live again with him and to consent to the release attorney, Mr. Pepper. It has never been tried, but on a motion for alimony the defendant swore to an affidavit, containing statements which could easily have been refuted or disproved, which, however, were met by more general and vague assertions, and Judge Lawrence denied the motion. The defendant charges the complainant with adultery; she denies the charge, but, of course, this is entirely immaterial and irrelevant to the issue in the present action.

The following persons might be subpoenaed as witnesses for the prosecution in addition to those subpoenaed heretofore:

Pastor Raegenner, 854 President Street, Brooklyn. He performed the marriage ceremony between the complainant and the defendant.

Philip Reibel, 202 Seventh Street, City of New York, near house, witness to the first marriage.

Minna Kiebel, 202 Fourth Street, N.Y. City, near house, witness to first marriage, and to conversation that induced the complainant to consent to the release of defendant's surety. Admires of defendant as to his relation to Miss Hummel.

Maggie Williams, 46 Bayton Street, N.Y. City, ^{of Mrs. Specht,} witness to first marriage.

David Cahn, 248 Fourth Street, N.Y. City, witness to defendant motive for sending complainant to Paris, and as to her and his character and conduct. He may be a very valuable witness on rebuttal.

Ludwig Weber, 610 Ninth Street, N.Y.
City, can testify to second marriage and to parties character and conduct.

Rose Weber, 158 Greenpoint Avenue, Brooklyn, Top floor, witness to second marriage.

I understand the defense will 0221 be a denial of the first marriage and it is, therefore, important to subpoena every person who can testify in regard to it.

SWORN TO BEFORE ME

THIS 26 DAY OF March 1865

POLICE JUSTICE.

Agreed to L. P. M.

Mary Hornumell was called as a witness for the complainant

Mr Hathaway - She declines to be sworn as a witness, or if sworn ground that her testimony might tend to degrade or criminate sworn. { to the witness } You must testify in this case except that you need not answer any question that tends to criminate you or to make you liable to punishment.

Mr Hathaway - There is no one here with authority to represent the District Attorney or to indemnify her from prosecution should she say anything to criminate herself.
I advise her not to answer.
I protest against her being 0238 sworn upon the ground that any question may tend to criminate her

Justice Duff - She will have to testify

Mr. Harbaway - She says she won't Justice Duff - Then I will have to lock her up - let her be sworn.

Two certified copies of certificates of marriage from the New York Bureau of Vital Statistics offered in evidence and marked
"Compliments Exhibit A
March 26 1886. W. L. O'Grady Sten"
"Compliments Exhibit B. March 26 1886. W. L. O'Grady. Sten"

Mr. Osborn - Compliment rests.
We claim to have made out a prima facie case.

Mr. Hathaway - I move for the discharge of the prisoner on the ground that there is no case made out against him. The statute declares that no prosecution for bigamy shall be entertained after five years have elapsed

If the complainant has proved anything here it is that the second marriage was occurred in 1880. More than five years have elapsed, and there is no evidence before the court that the case has not been within the jurisdiction of the court during the whole of that time. The presumption of law is that the defendant has been within the jurisdiction of the court during the whole of that time.

After argument, the further hearing was adjourned to April 16 at Jefferson Market.
