Testimony in the case of Daniel O'Brien, John

filed Jan. 1982

The People
vs.
Daniel O'Brien,
John Daly,
and
Francis Jennett

Court of General Sessions, Part I Before Recorder Smythe Feb. 2. 1882 Indictment for grand larceny and receiving stolen goods.

Andrew H. Dykes, sworn and examined, testified. What was your business on the 13th of January? Produce commission dealer.
Where was your place of business located?
No 76 Warren st. Did you miss any property on that day? Yes sir, two packages of butter.
What was their value? Twenty seven dollars.
You mean tubs of butter? Yes sir. Was that all the property you lost? That is all the property I lost. Where was it, in your store? Yes sir.
What time of day did you miss it? Our porter reported to us between four and half past four.
Who did it belong to, this property? It belonged to a man of the name of Joy. You are a commission merchant, it was in your possession to sell? Yes sir, and I pay drafts on it to sell. Have you seen that property since? Yes sir. Where did you see it? In the station house. How long after you had missed it? About an hour - the two tubs.
You identified it as being the same property?
Yes sir. Was any officer present? The officer that called my attention, Officer Huraphrey.

Cross Examined: You were informed by your porter, as I understand it, of the loss of this property? Yes sir that was the first time that you missed it? Then I went out and discovered it was gone How many packages have you there from which they were taken?
 There were ten packages in the lot from which this was taken. I saw the butter about an hour afterwards in the station house.
 I did not open it there, but I opened it after I got it. I have a memorandum of the weight of it. One package weighed 53 pounds gross, another 57 gross; the tare on the two was 14 pounds; the net weight was 90 pounds in the two packages. I did not weigh it, but that is the weight I paid to the shipper and which was charged to our customer. I am capable from my experience of forming an idea of the weight. These were small Welsh tubs used in the West for creamery purposes. I calculate these tubs to be medium tubs between forty and fifty pound tubs. That is what they ordinarily weigh. I have been a commission merchant on my own account two years. I have been in the business fourteen years and during that time I have been handling tubs of this sort.

0515

James Hurrephreys, sworn and examined.
You are a police officer? Yes sir. On the 13th of January did you see two tubs of butter which were afterwards identified by the witness just on the stand? Yes sir.
Where did you see those tubs of butter? On the truck driven by John Devine that is not one of the prisoners. At what time did you see it? About half past four in the afternoon on the 13th. Where did you see it? On the street between Cedar and Liberty on Washington St. going towards the Battery.
Was there anybody else on that truck except Devine? No sir. Did you see those prisoners at all on that day? Yes sir, walking on the sidewalk going down through Washington St.
going in the same direction as the truck.
I arrested O'Brien; the other two got away, Daley and Jennett ran away. I took the butter in charge. I called another officer and had Devine drive the butter to the station house on the truck. I went around Warren and Washington sts, the butter stores, to see if I could find an owner for the butter.
H & D were the initials on the tubs and I succeeded in finding Mr. Dyke's clerk who said they lost two tubs. Mr. Dyke came to the station house and identified the butter.

0516

Cross Examined - Arrested O'Brien because he was walking on the sidewalk with the two others; he had not a chance to run; they were very close to the truck on the sidewalk. John W. Devine sworn and examined. I am a truck driver; on the 13th of last month I was driving along West St. and as I came near the corner of Warren and West St. Daly hailed me and asked me if I could not put two tubs of butter on? I told him, "certainly." He said he was going down as far as Rector St. Where was the butter when it was put on the truck? Jennett had hold of one tub at the time. Daly came up afterwards, but I don't know where he came from. I drove down West St. as far as Barclay, and they walked along on the sidewalk. I seen O'Brien after they put the two tubs of butter on; he was not with them at the time they put the butter on; he followed me on down. He came from West St. if I am not mistaken. As I got to the corner of Washington and Liberty Sts. the officer hailed me. and asked me if I had two tubs of butter? I said, "yes." He brought me to the station house and held me till the next morning. O'Brien was discharged and Daly and Jennett pleaded guilty to petty larceny.
