May Cases.

Forgery.

The forgery was committed Sept. 22/88. I produce one of the checks on which forgery was committed. The face of the check is in a disguised writing of defendant. The name "Samuel Hall" on back of check is forged. The check is a fictitious one, no account being kept at Lawrence, Thayer & Co. in the name of the drawee.

August Dorste, formerly in the employ of Louis Schortemeier, cashed check for defendant on the strength of Hall's endorsement, having been authorized by Mr. Schortemeier to cash checks for defendant with Hall's endorsement.

L. Schortemeier authorized clerk to cash checks for Hall - Defendant had been in the habit of getting checks cashed there, similar to the forgery.

Samuel Hall swears to the check being a forgery - ~~check~~ Blank check was taken from his desk - Produces similar blank - also ordinary hand writing of defendant. Mrs. Straight can testify to finding blank checks in room formerly occupied by defendant, pink in color; can probably identify check here produced as similar to those she found.

Larceny Case.

Charles Dillon saw defendant Quay with typewriter, ^{just} after he had taken it from complainant's office. Defendant told Dillon he was taking type-writer home
to do work for Hall.

Henry Graham corroborates Dillon. Graham may give testimony unwillingly on account of not being paid.

Mrs. Straight saw Hall identify typewriter by its number in Quay's room. Was notified by Hall that it was his property and told not to deliver it to Quay. Did so deliver it on 3rd
Oct. Virtually refused to obey subpoena.
Had no time to attend to it.

Samuel Hall saw and identified typewriter in Quay's room. Afterwards saw and identified it in Simpson's pawn shop - where it was pawned Oct 3rd in name of Hartley. Previous to May 1st 1888, Hall and ^{one} Hartley occupied same office. Quay never did typewriting for Hall - and was never author ized to take the typewriter.

Previous Record.

H. L. Bristol swears to Donay's having been employed by him under name of Harrison.

T. J. Howe, corroborates Mr. Bristol and swears to missing $200. which disappeared at some time as Donay. Mr. Bristol owed Donay some $10. or $12. at the time which he never called for. Was charged with having stolen the $200. but no indictment was found.

On Sept. 12th Hall was called away by telegraph on account of sickness of his child which resulted in death. Left Donay in charge of his business. Returned on Saturday Sept. 22nd in the afternoon but deferred receiving report of business from Donay until Monday. That afternoon forgery was committed, during Hall's absence Donay collected and paid money but collected about $75.00 which Hall cannot account for. Donay did not go to work on Monday Sept. 24th and was not seen by Hall until his arrest on Oct 17.

Dear Sir:-

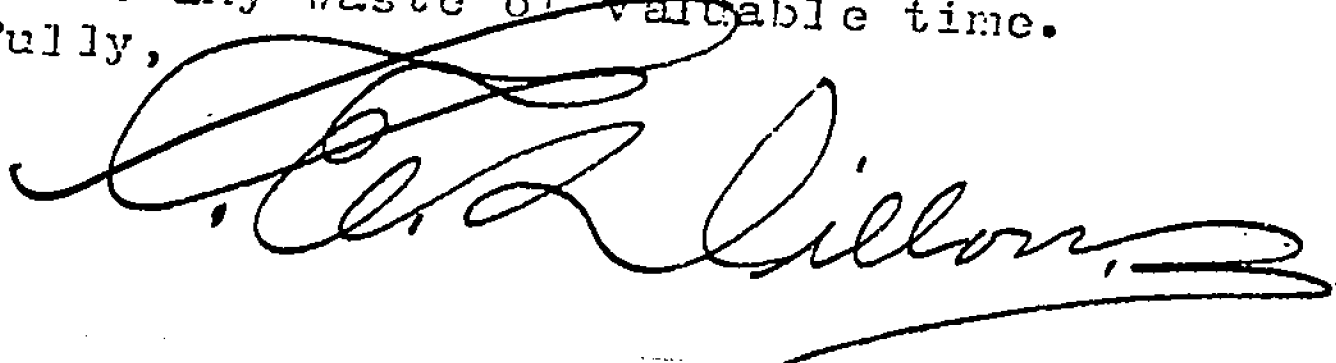

I am this day in receipt of a sub poena in the case of the people vs. James H. Quay, who is to be tried for felony.

In this case I beg to state I have received no less than six sub poenas prior to the one above referred to; and in each instance I have responded as requested, thereby losing no less than five full days; and according to the progress made during this time it appears to be absolutely useless to try to arrive at the length of time this programme is to be continued.

I wish to state right here, that I am in a position which I consider of some value to me; and my continuance therein is dependent upon the duties of the office receiving my undivided ~~atten~~ attention, which it certainly cannot have if this running to and from court is to be continued.

If the rights of the people are to be considered, I respectfully apply to you as the people's representative to advise me definitely when this case is to be called in order to facilitate matters and thus guard against any waste of valuable time.
