MAYOR'S OFFICE,

Bureau of Licenses,

New York, September 23, 1895

Hon. W. L. Strong,

Mayor.

S i r:

The herewith returned petition and accompanying proposed ordinance has had my careful consideration and I feel obliged to object to its becoming a law on the following grounds:

The petition substantially asks that the present ordinance in relation to pedlars be amended so as to permit them to stand upon the streets with their carts while engaged in vending wares and merchandise without limit of time or other restriction than that they shall not inconvenience the public traffic nor remain located in front of stores, houses or other buildings on being notified by owners or tenants thereof of their objection or disapproval. This subject matter has heretofore been presented to the Board of Aldermen, as will appear from a report of the Committee on Law Department to whom was referred a similar resolution. This report is to be found in the City Record of August 12, 1885, page 1753, and the conclusion of that Committee seems entirely applicable to the present proposition, and their conclusion was that it was illegal. The authorities for such conclusion will be found quoted in the report mentioned.

Next, in regard to the proposed form of resolution accompanying said petition for adoption by the Board of Aldermen, it seems to me to fail of its specific purpose and to attempt other things not included in the petition and for which there seems to be no good reason. For instance, it is proposed to reduce the present license fee of $5. to $3. and to change the size and style of the present badge worn by pedlars. I have heard no complaint that the present license fee was too high or burdensome, nor have I heard any complaint that the present pedlar's badge does not answer its purpose well. Therefore, I see no reason for the proposed change.

There are other regulations included in the draft that by themselves might be very desirable. The main purpose of the resolution, if it is accomplished at all, can only be so accomplished by inference from the language used in Section 57; for the form is that of prohibition and not giving authority for certain privileges. It does not specifically say, as prayed for in the petition, that pedlars may "stand upon the street with their carts while engaged in vending wares and merchandise without limit of time or other restriction than that they shall not inconvenience the public traffic nor remain located in front of stores, houses or other buildings on being notified by owners or tenants thereof of their objection or disapproval." Nor does it use any apparently equivalent expression unless it is a fair interpretation from the language used that except "upon or nearer than ten feet to a public crossing" pedlars may stand upon the sidewalk or street as long as they please provided they do not inconvenience public traffic or remain located in front of stores, houses or other buildings on being notified by owners or tenants thereof of their objection or disapproval. If such is the true interpretation it would seem to be objectionable to the law as already decided in the Aldermanic Report above referred to.

An additional objection to the proposed resolution is equally good against the present ordinance but it may be well to call attention to the matter here. It is unconstitutional, and therefore unlawful, to require of applicants for a license a specified prior residence in New York City before an applicant otherwise qualified can obtain a license; also unlawful to require a present residence in this City or a present or prior residence in the State of New York. This has already been so decided by the Courts and the Counsel to the Corporation.

Respectfully submitted,

Edu N Healy
Mayor's Marshal.

A 20

New York. Oct. 15th, 1896.

Hon. William L. Strong.

Mayor.

Sir:-

The recent ordinance adopted by the Common Council, regulating and classifying peddlers has become a law, and places upon this Bureau certain duties, and responsibilities Under its provisions "the Mayor shall furnish each licensee with a ~~tw~~ ~~with~~ ~~an~~ ~~in~~ sign, duly and conspicuously numbered bearing the words " Merchandise No " and a metal badge containing the same wording. The number of the license the sign and badge correspond." It is evidently intended that this sign and badge must be furnished to each licensee free of cost, consequently such must be had in advance by this Bureau, and for this purpose it must have a fund from which such can be purchased. a careful and conservative estimate places the number of badges and signs required at 9000 each and the cost of the badges at 30 cents each and of the signs at 20centseach.

9000	badges	@	30cents	each	$2700.00
9000	signs	@	20 cents	each	$1800.00

Total. $4500.00

It is obvious that the fund must be correctly expended and accounted for ,which will necessitate accounts and suitable books therefor in addition to those now kept in this Bureau. It is equally plain that to easily and quickly handle these 18000 articles will require some proper system and additional help in the force of this Bureau as the present force is only intended and adequate for its present work In my judgment at least two additional Inspectors @ $1200.00 a year each will be absolutely necessary to accomplish satisfactorily the additional work imposed upon this Bureau by the ordinance mentioned.

There should also be a slight addition to the usual contingent fund of the office in case of necessity. This, if unexpended at the end of the year, would be covered into the general fund of the City Treasury as an unexpended balance.

Accordingly I must modify the estimate heretofore submitted by me as the annual requisition for 1897, by including therein the following additional amounts and employees.

Purchasing fund as above	$4500.00
Two Inspectors @ $1200.00 each per An.	$2400.00
Extra contingent.	$ 50.

Total. $6950.00

As an offset and warrant for such increased expenditures I would call your attention to the following facts and consideration. In 1895 there were issued 7032 licenses to Merchandise Venders and the fees received therefor amounted to $11.107.00 In the first nine months of 1895 there were issued 5678 licenses and in the corresponding period of the present year the number has increased to 6891. A like increase may be confidently expected for next year. Approximating the number of licenses which will be issued in 1897 and estimating the amounts receiveable therefrom at the increased license fees provided in the new ordinances gives the following result

1000	fish peddlers	@ $25.00	$25000.00
6000	wagon Do.	@ 15.00	$ 90000.
2000	basket Do	@ (5.00	$10000.00
			<hr/>
Total.			$125000.00

The above computation is based upon the usual and in the past regular annual increase in the number of licenses, issued and amounts received, but allowing for an improbable decrease, even then at least $100000.00 would be received in return for an increase in the expenses of the Bureau of $6950.00 as contrasted with the $11.107.00 now received from like sources. The advantages secured are apparent.

Hon. W. L. Strong,

Mayor,

Sir:-

I beg leave to submit the following report upon the complaint of Mr. Wm. E. Simmons, representing the New York World, newspaper, against pawnbrokers in this City for charging for the care of pledges, and for exacting unlawful and excessive interest on loans. The allegation was made that pawnbrokers generally made extra charges for hanging up clothes wrapping packages, preventing moths and various other precautions against damage to the pledger. Mr Simmons based his complaint on transactions by 19 different persons with 20 different pawnbrokers, and left with me the individual statement hereto annexed as evidence. I notified all the witnesses named, and only responded ^{two} ~~two~~ in person. All the letters addressed to the others were returned not found. The two who did respond, namely C. B. Hancock and Simon Schwartz, told me they knew nothing about the alleged transaction. I also summonsed all the pawnbrokers, named, who appeared before me personally, and readily admitted the allegation of the extra charges for what they considered extra service, advised me that such had been customary for more than a quarter of a century, and claimed the lawful right for extraordinary care. I made a careful and thorough investigation of the place of business of every pawnbroker in this City, and examined their methods, employed in storing and caring for pledges, and in taking precautions against any damage. I had already entered upon this investigation before any complaint was lodged

I have notified every pawnbroker that any and all extra charges over and above the legal interest allowed by the act regulating their business are unlawful and will not be tolerated by this office, and am convinced that that the old custom is no longer in vogue.

Respectfully

Edw. H. Nealey
Mayor Marshal,
