being duly sworn, deposes and says, that on the 7th day of January 1886, at the day time in the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen and carried away from the possession of deponent.

the following property, viz :

Good and lawful money of the Government of the United States to the amount and of the value of four hundred and ninety dollars in $490⁰⁰/₁₀₀

Sworn before me this day of the property of deponent

and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by Matilda Gass mother from the fact that deponent employed said defendant in the capacity of servant that on the night of the 16th up to retiring for the night she deponent placed said money under her pillow as she had been in the habit of doing, that on the following morning she discovered that said money had been taken stolen and carried away from under said pillow

Police Justice

injury to Property

As complainant in the above case, I beg to recommend the defendant to such leniency and clemency as the Court and District Attorney may see fit to show; but I expressly assert that my reasons for so doing are not controlled by any advantage to myself. The defendant ~~was~~ under the influence of liquor when my property was destroyed. I don't believe now that she purposely destroyed my property - Restitution having been fully made I respectfully ask that the case be dismissed.

City and County } of New York, } ss.:

Abner H. Wilson of No. 133 1/2 Ave Street, aged 37 years, occupation Beer Bottler being duly sworn deposes and says, that on the 9 day of December 1885 at the City of New York, in the County of New York, was feloniously taken, stolen and carried away from the possession of deponent, in the day time, the following property viz: Good and lawful money of the United States as follows: Bills or notes of sundry denominations of the value, together, of Thirty-six Dollars; Silver coins of sundry denominations of the value, together, of Four dollars and seventy-five cents, and one check of Julia Morris, payable to bearer of the value of two dollars, in all of the value of Fifty two dollars and 25 cents

and that this deponent has a probable cause to suspect, and does suspect, that the said property was feloniously taken, stolen, and carried away by Edward George, now here, from the following facts: Said George being in deponent's employ, deponent gave said money and said check, on said days, to said George to pay a bill due from deponent to Max Henschel, collector for a heating company. Said George did not pay said bill but appropriated said money and check to his own use, as deponent is informed by said Henschel and as said George has admitted to deponent.

In this case I have talked with the deft and believe him to be guilty of the offense charged. I have also talked with the Compt. and his father, and they recommend leniency. In view of the deft's youth (11 years) and that he is of respectable parents and has never before been charged with any offense, I deft to be a good officer. I recommend that sentence be suspended.

Tried March 1st, 1886.

-----000----- BAPTISTE HUBERT, the complainant, being duly sworn, testified that he is the proprietor of a machine shop at 174 Worth Street, on the 4th floor. His stock of tools and machinery is worth $6.000: On the 6th of January, when he went out to dinner, he carefully secured, by locking, the door of his shop. When he returned, he found a crowd of men, ^{who} work in the building, around his door. One of the men had the prisoner in his custody. The door of the shop was open. When he went to his shop, after the prisoner had been taken to the station house, he found a bunch of keys which did not belong to him, in the water closet, in a glass where he was accustomed to keep an acid.

Daniel Shea, being duly sworn, testified that he was the elevator man in the building in which Mr. Hubert's shop was. At about 20 minutes to 1 o'clock, on the 6th of January, his attention was called to the fact that three strange men were in Mr. Hubert's shop. The prisoner was one of the three men. One man got away. He captured two of them, but the other man was discharged in the Tombs Police Court, because he told the judge that he was a peddler, and the prisoner, Barclay, was held for trial. When he arrested the defendant, he said, "let me go." He made no explanation of his presence in Mr. Hubert's shop.

WILLIAM MULLEN, pressman, at No. 174 Worth Street, corroborated Shea.

Mr. Hubert, being recalled, testified that he was present when Barclay was arraigned before the Magistrate in the Tombs Police Court. Barclay said to him, Hubert, "don't be hard on a poor fellow." When the clerk asked Barclay what his business was, he said that he was a dealer in second hand books. There was an officer leaning on the desk at the pris-prisoner's right hand side, and he turned, and said to the prisoner that he had been arrested before, for stealing books in Broadway, and then the prisoner asked ^{him} Mr. Hubert, not to be hard upon him. Previously, in the Elizabeth street station house, Barclay said to him, Mr. Hubert, that he had better be careful, because he, Barclay, would sue him for damages.

For the defence, Thomas Barclay, the defendant, being duly sworn, testified that he did not enter Mr. Hubert's premises burglariously. The door was open, and he saw two men in the shop. One of them was the man who was discharged in the Tombs Police Court. He, Barclay, was taking orders for a book called, "The Life of General Grant," and he thought that he would be able to get some orders in the machine shop. As soon as he entered, the two men went out, and he heard a scuffle in the hallway, and, when he went out, Shea seized him and assaulted him.

Under cross examination, Barclay testified that he did not carry any book in which to record subscription orders. He had no credentials to show that he was an authorized canvasser for the book in question.
